Identity, Ethics, and Ethos in the New Testament Jan G. van der Watt, 2012-02-13 The book deals with the relation between identity ethics and ethos in the New Testament The focus falls on the way in which the commandments or guidelines presented in the New Testament writings inform the behaviour of the intended recipients The habitual behaviour ethos of the different Christian communities in the New Testament are plotted and linked to their identity Apart from analytical categories like ethos ethics and identity that are clearly defined in the book efforts are also made to broaden the specific analytical categories related to ethical material The way in which for instance narratives proverbial expressions imagery etc inform the reader about the ethical demands or ethos is also explored

The Rhetorical Role of Scripture in 1

Corinthians John Paul Heil, 2005 The Rhetorical Role of Scripture in 1 Corinthians an exegetical analysis of all the explicit quotations and references to the Old Testament in Paul's First Letter to the Corinthians examines the various authoritative roles that not only scriptural quotations but also other explicit references and allusions to scripture play in Paul's rhetorical strategy in the letter Through this careful examination Heil shows how each scriptural quote or reference speaks with the divine authority of the scriptures in general and affects the audience with its authority and rhetorical power The end result is an enlightening portrait of the powerful impact that the Jewish scriptures exerted on Paul's implied audience at Corinth Paperback edition is available from the Society of Biblical Literature www.sbl-site.org

Women Caught in the Conflict Rebecca M. Groothuis, 1997-07-16 The goal of this book is not to analyze the competing viewpoints women's equality versus traditional family values in any depth but simply to step outside the familiar rhetoric in an attempt to obtain a view of the Big Picture The aim of this inquiry is a clearing of the conceptual atmosphere

Corinthians 1-4 Oh-Young Kwon, 2010-08-01 This book investigates 1 Corinthians 1-4 from a rhetorical and social perspective and explores that a divisive culture of rhetorical and paternal elitism lies behind the schisms and problems identified in the letter This culture appears to have been shaped to some extent by the legacy of Cicero Paul's references to boasting and imitation indicate both his subversive use and his critique of this Greco Roman wisdom In the final chapter this analysis of wisdom traditions and their social consequences among first century Corinthians leads to a critical reflection on similar dynamics among Korean Christians in twenty first century Korean Confucian culture In particular Korean Protestants are encouraged to take a more positive stance towards Confucian wisdom traditions as exemplified by T'oegeye's legacy and some insights are suggested into the ethics of imperial worship ancestral veneration and ethnic exclusivity

Women in the Biblical World Elizabeth A. McCabe, 2011-03-15 Volume 2 of Women in the Biblical World A Survey of Old and New Testament Perspectives encompasses the latest research in feminist biblical scholarship New angles of interpretation and fresh perspectives regarding often overlooked biblical women will be gained from the pages of this volume This volume focuses on such women as Tamar Deborah Manoah's wife Queen Vashti and Job's wife Attention is also given to socio historical backgrounds lurking behind the biblical text such as women in Greco Roman education and syncretism in Ephesus demonstrating how these backgrounds directly influenced the writings about women Some emphasis on contemporary application is also stressed regarding problematic passages such as 1 Corinthians 11:2-16. This multi-faceted approach to women in the Bible will prove to be invigorating, refreshing, and enlightening for all to read. Rethinking Paul's Rhetorical Education Ryan S. Schellenberg, 2013-09-03 Winner of the Canadian Society of Biblical Studies 2015 F. W. Beare Award. Did Paul have formal training in Greco-Roman rhetoric or did he learn what he knew of persuasion informally as social practice? Pauline scholars recognize the importance of this question both for determining Paul's social status and for conceptualizing the nature of his letters, but they have been unable to reach a consensus. Using 2 Corinthians 10:13 as a test case, Ryan Schellenberg undertakes a set of comparisons with non-Western speakers, most compellingly the Seneca orator Red Jacket, to demonstrate that the rhetorical strategies Paul employs in this text are also attested in speakers known to have had no formal training in Greco-Roman rhetoric. Since there are no specific indicators of formal training in the way Paul uses these strategies, their appearance in his letters does not constitute evidence that Paul received formal rhetorical education. The Message of Women Derek Tidball, Dianne Tidball, 2020-05-21 Women appear in key places and roles throughout the biblical story line. In the Old Testament we find Eve in the garden of Eden, the matriarchs Sarah, Rebekah, Leah, and Rachel, Deborah and Ruth in the time of the Judges, the prophetesses Huldah in King Josiah's time, the capable woman of Proverbs 31, the passionate woman in the Song of Songs. In the Gospels, various women are involved in the life of Jesus, not least his mother Mary and the first witnesses to his resurrection. The book of Acts includes Lydia, the converted businesswoman, and Priscilla, the fearless teacher. Furthermore, both testaments also contain much teaching about women's life and ministry, for example in prayer, in worship, in marriage, and in leadership. Derek and Dianne Tidball's wide-ranging exposition begins with some foundations about women in creation and in the new creation. Next, they survey women under the old covenant. Thirdly, they examine women in the kingdom of God in the life and teaching of Jesus, and in the final section, they deal with women in the new community of the early church and grapple with some of the more controversial writings of the apostle Paul. Mindful of the complexities, challenges, and debates, the authors seek to approach the Bible with humility and integrity while addressing vitally relevant issues for Christians today with clarity and confidence. Paul and Gender Cynthia Long Westfall, 2016-11-15 A Coherent Pauline Theology of Gender. Respected New Testament scholar Cynthia Long Westfall offers a coherent Pauline theology of gender which includes fresh perspectives on the most controverted texts. Westfall interprets passages on women and men together and places those passages in the context of the Pauline corpus as a whole. She offers viable alternatives for some notorious interpretive problems in certain Pauline passages, reframing gender issues in a way that stimulates thinking, promotes discussion, and moves the conversation forward. As Westfall explores the significance of Paul's teaching on both genders, she seeks to support and equip males and females to serve in their area of gifting. Olena, concerns women and Pentecostalism. It introduces
