Rethinking Peace and Security Paula Duarte Lopes, Stephen Villanueva Ryan, 2009-01-01 During ten days in July 2008 around fifty students and a dozen professors from twelve different European universities met at the University of Coimbra for the Fifth Intensive Seminar of the European Doctorate Enhancement Programme on Peace and Conflict EDEN and discussed the new dimensions of peace and security studies Their contributions reflect the research agendas of a new generation who continue to address enduring themes in peace and conflict studies but whose formative influences are those of a complex post Cold War world

A Lacanian-Hegelian Perspective on Peace and Conflict Studies Timothy Bryar, 2025-09-19 This book takes a ground breaking approach to peace theory and practice at a time of multiplying global crises It draws on the Lacanian Hegelian dialectical materialism to rethink the way we think peace conflict and violence as amongst multiple overlapping crises including climate change contemporary conflict the threat of nuclear war pandemics the rise of far right racism and growing class divisions Such an approach may seem surprising While Lacanian Hegelian scholars have provided analyses of contemporary conflicts including Russia's war on Ukraine and Israel's war against Hamas in doing so they have also made pointedly critiqued the theory and practice of peace Rather than simply defend peace theory and practice the book uses these critiques as the basis for rethinking peace and conflict Therefore the book occupies a unique position by being the first to apply Lacanian Hegelian dialectical materialism to peace and conflict theory and practice broadly In doing so it provides scholars students and practitioners with new concepts and tools to rethink peace theory and practice and to engage with politics in an age fraught with crises

War for Peace Murad Idris,2019 Peace is a universal ideal but its political life is a great paradox peace is the opposite of war but it also enables war If peace is the elimination of war then what does it mean to wage war for the sake of peace What does peace mean when some say that they are committed to it but that their enemies do not value it Why is it that associating peace with other ideals like justice friendship security and law does little to distance peace from war Although political theory has dealt extensively with most major concepts that today define the political it has paid relatively scant critical attention to peace the very concept that is often said to be the major aim and ideal of humanity In War for Peace Murad Idris looks at the ways that peace has been treated across the writings of ten thinkers from ancient and modern political thought from Plato to Immanuel Kant and Sayyid Qutb to produce an original and striking account of what peace means and how it works Idris argues that peace is parasitical in that the addition of other ideals into peace such as law security and friendship reduces it to consensus and actually facilitates war it is provincial in that its universalized content reflects particularistic desires and fears constructions of difference and hierarchies within humanity and it is polemical in that its idealization is not only the product of antagonisms but also enables hostility War for Peace uncovers the basis of peace's moralities and the political functions of its idealizations historically and into the present This bold and ambitious book confronts readers with the impurity of peace as an ideal and the pressing need to think beyond universal peace

Master Peace Nikolas Kosmatopoulos, 2024-12-17 Examines the politics of expertise in the practices of peacemaking in post civil war Lebanon Based on multi sited ethnographic research centering on Beirut but tracing international peace work as far as Switzerland and the United States Master Peace examines the politics of expertise in the application of metropolitan theories of violence and practices of peacemaking in post civil war Lebanon Through ethnographic encounters archival research and interviews that shed light on the worlds of academic research UN agencies NGOs and think tanks Nikolas Kosmatopoulos argues that so called experts from violence researchers to peace professionals have often misrepresented and exacerbated the violence they claim to be tackling through their deployment of racialized tropes of conflict and communalizing peace practices The assemblage of these tropes and practices which Kosmatopoulos calls master peace naturalizes social and structural inequalities by collapsing them into supposedly innate cultural and sectarian divisions Master peace installs unequal relations of domination through the work of metropolitan theories as in ethnic conflict and failed state and practices such as conflict resolution workshops and crisis reports converting the radical demand for just peace into a postcolonial regime of dependence on technocratic tools unaccountable experts and external donors Kosmatopoulos shows how master peace has been framing debates designing interventions of peace and war and defining the problem of violence in Lebanon and the Middle East for decades to deleterious effect As the supposed moral high ground that justifies external intervention and precludes political solutions or democratic forms of action master peace has obscured the geopolitical and ideological nature of violence in the region substituting democratic notions of peace for an elitist antipolitics of expertise characterized by dependence domination and epistemic violence

Peace Photography Frank Möller, 2018-12-17 This study thinks with photography about peace It asks how photography can represent peace and how such representation can contribute to peace The book offers an original critique of the almost exclusive focus on violence in recent work on visual culture and presents a completely new research agenda within the overall framework of visual peace research Critically engaging with both photojournalism and art photography in light of peace theories it looks for visual representations or anticipations of peace peace or peace as a potentiality in the work of selected photographers including Robert Capa and Richard Mosse thus reinterpreting photography from the Spanish Civil War to current anti migration politics in Europe The book argues that peace photography is episodic culturally specific process oriented and considerate of both the past and the future The Sage Handbook of Peace and Conflict Studies Maia Carter Hallward, Ji Eun Kim, Cécile Mouly, Timothy Seidel, Zubairu Wai, 2025-06-07

The Sage Handbook of Peace and Conflict Studies offers a comprehensive exploration of the complexities of violence conflict and peace from a global interdisciplinary perspective The handbook addresses the traditional Western centric approach while emphasizing the need to integrate Global South perspectives to create a more inclusive and transformative understanding of peace and conflict While important voices in peace and conflict studies have long stressed the need to not only address direct violence but also structural and cultural one certain strands of the field have upheld conservative knowledge production and reinforced unequal power structures This volume seeks to challenge these biases by foregrounding critical and decolonial approaches that emphasize gender race culture global history and political economy Its diverse chapters invite us to question mainstream assumptions and promote a broader more inclusive analysis of peace and conflict The handbook explores the evolution of the field highlighting the impact of historical events and the role of oppositional knowledge in political change It offers a critical overview of theoretical approaches emphasizing reflexivity inclusivity and the importance of local actors in peace and conflict dynamics Additionally it examines how cultural and disciplinary assumptions shape peacebuilding and conflict transformation and it critiques traditional global narratives on issues like governance climate change and human rights Finally the handbook presents real world case studies that integrate themes of decoloniality race gender and power inequalities across diverse global contexts By centering the Global South and integrating interdisciplinary perspectives this handbook provides valuable insights for scholars and practitioners committed to fostering a more equitable and just world Section 1 History Knowledge and Power in Peace and Conflict Studies Section 2 Theory and Analysis in Peace and Conflict Studies Section 3 Practices and Approaches in Peace and Conflict Studies Section 4 Global Issues Institutions and Change in Peace and Conflict Studies Section 5 Case Studies in Peace and Conflict Studies Peace as Governance C. Sriram, 2008-04-16

A critical study of incentives commonly used to induce non state armed groups to engage in peace negotiations Offers a closer analysis of these incentives which offer such groups a place or a stake in governance suggesting that not only are they frequently ineffective but that they can have unintended and dangerous side effects NGOs Mediating Peace Julia Palmiano Federer, 2023-12-28 This book explores the role of nongovernmental mediators in promoting inclusive peace to negotiating parties in Myanmar s Nationwide

Ceasefire Agreement NCA negotiations from 2011-2015. The influx of NGO mediators directly engaging with the negotiating parties and promoting the inclusivity norm coupled with the salience of discourse around all-inclusiveness at the end of the NCA process forms a puzzle around the agency that NGO mediators wield in influencing political outcomes despite their lack of political and material leverage. The author argues that NGO mediators can effectively promote norms using mediation processes as a site of norm diffusion. Bespoke international conflict resolution NGOs have become key mediation actors within the last three decades through creating the niche world of private diplomacy and acting as norm entrepreneurs at the same time. As informal third parties, these NGO mediators directly engage with politically sensitive actors or convene unofficial peace talks. As NGOs, they are part of an epistemic community of mediation practice, professionalizing the field and producing knowledge on what peace mediation is and what it ought to be. This dual identity as both NGOs and mediators nicely sets them up with a unique agency to promote and diffuse norms. These norms often reflect the liberal peacebuilding paradigm promoted from the Global North, such as inclusion, gender equality, and transitional justice, with the view that these norms are not ends in themselves but as necessary ingredients for effective mediation. The book further questions whether NGOs should promote norms in the first place. The outcome of the NCA process presents a critical and cautionary tale of promoting a presumed universal norm into a given locale and expecting a certain outcome without understanding how an external norm interacts with existing normative frameworks. The book illustrates that while NGO mediators do possess the normative agency to effectively promote norms to negotiating parties, my empirical research analyses how their promotion of the inclusivity norm to the negotiating parties in Myanmar's NCA paradoxically resulted in exclusionary outcomes: only half of the armed groups in the ethnic armed groups negotiating bloc signed, and civil society was effectively crowded out from meaningful participation despite lofty rhetoric. This is an open access book. The Politics of Peace (swisspeace (Organization)). Conference, 2011. The politics of peace has undergone tremendous changes since the end of the Cold War. It moved from an ideological debate into a well-established policy field. How does this affect its content? And what are the implications for peace research? On the occasion of its 20th anniversary, the Swiss Peace Foundation (swisspeace) invited contributions from eminent experts regarding the most controversial issues of this debate, which include state building, international interventions, civil society, and business actors. The book concludes with some thoughts on the interaction between research and politics. Series: Internationale Politik, Vol. 3. Visions of Peace of Professional Peace Workers. Gijssbert M. van Iterson-Scholten, 2019-10-11. This book explores the meaning of peace according to some of the people who make it. Based on some 200 interviews, it empirically studies the visions of peace that professional peaceworkers from the Netherlands, Lebanon, and Mindanao, Philippines are working on. As such, it seeks to add a strong empirical element to the debate on liberal peacebuilding. The main argument of the book is that amongst practitioners, there is no liberal peace consensus at all. Rather, peace professionals work on a distinct set of peaces that differ along four dimensions. In five case study chapters the operational visions of peace held by Dutch military officers diplomats and civil society peace workers as well as civil society peace workers from Lebanon and the Philippines are explored and compared to each other Differences are observed along both geographical and professional lines but also within each group Learning Peace Betty Reardon,Eva Nordland,Robert William Zuber,1994-01-01 The most striking feature of this book is the fact that a group of highly qualified scholars and educators collaborated before the dissolution of the Soviet Union exchanging ideas and practical programs for teaching ecological and cooperative education They modeled the process they advocate They changed their own thinking to understand the thinking of others They couched their concerns in a framework of human rights political and social responsibility and practical transformations of national educational approaches that are often myopic and competitive While accenting some positive educational trends within their national borders they also criticized cultural and educational limitations Anne Shepard Associate Superintendent of Schools Catholic Diocese of Kansas City St Joseph Missouri No War, No Peace Roger Mac Ginty,2016-01-06 This book investigates stalled and dysfunctional peace processes and peace accords in societies experiencing civil wars Using a critical and comparative perspective it offers strategies for rejuvenating and re orientating stalled peace processes and peace accords so that they are more able to foster sustainable and inclusive peace
