Kiplinger's Personal Finance, 1998-11 The most trustworthy source of information available today on savings and investments taxes money management home ownership and many other personal finance topics Automatic enrolment in workplace pensions and the National Employment Savings Trust Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Work and Pensions Committee, 2012-03-15 The Government established NEST as a low cost pension scheme to help deliver the auto enrolment programme and to address a market failure in the pensions industry which meant that many employers and employees were unable to access low cost good quality pension provision. However, the Committee believes that certain restrictions placed on NEST will create complexity for employers and will disadvantage some employees. The Committee's report recommends that if state aid rules allow, the Government should remove the following restrictions: the cap on the annual contributions an individual can make to a NEST scheme and the ban on individuals transferring existing pension pots into NEST. The Committee further urges the Government to proceed with its plans for State Pension reform, introducing a flat rate State Pension and reducing the level of means testing without delay. The report also highlights the difficulties and complexity employers and employees currently face in comparing the fees and charges applied by pension providers and recommends that from 2013 onwards, if some auto enrolment schemes still have hidden charges or charges that represent poor value for money, the Government should use its powers to intervene. Auto enrolment will impose new costs and may be particularly challenging for small employers; however, the Committee considers that the Government has taken appropriate steps to minimise the impact on businesses through its gradual and flexible approach, staging and phasing to implementation. Exempting small employers would create significant complexity as well as excluding many employees from the benefits of workplace pension saving.

Making Makers Michael P. M. Finch, 2024. Making Makers presents a comprehensive history of a seminal work of scholarship in war and strategy: Makers of Modern Strategy, a volume which was made and remade across the twentieth century. Here we learn the stories of the scholars who were central to these efforts, building a nuanced appraisal of the development of scholarship on war.

Digital Dominance Martin Moore, Damian Tambini, 2018. Across the globe, Google, Amazon, Facebook, Apple, and Microsoft have accumulated power in ways that existing regulatory and intellectual frameworks struggle to comprehend. A consensus is emerging that the power of these new digital monopolies is unprecedented and that it has important implications for journalism, politics, and society. It is increasingly clear that democratic societies require new legal and conceptual tools if they are to adequately understand and, if necessary, check the economic might of these companies. Equally, that we need to better comprehend the ability of such firms to control personal data and to shape the flow of news, information, and public opinion. In this volume, Martin Moore and Damian Tambini draw together the world's leading researchers to examine the digital dominance of technologies, platforms, and look at the evidence behind the rising tide of criticism of the tech giants. In fifteen chapters, the authors examine the economic, political, and social impacts of Google, Amazon, Facebook, Apple, and Microsoft in order to understand the different facets of their power and how it is manifested. Digital Dominance is the first interdisciplinary volume on this topic, contributing to a conversation which is critical to maintaining the health of democracies across the world.
