Where There is No Midwife Sarah Pinto, 2008 In the Sitapur district of Uttar Pradesh an agricultural region with high rates of infant mortality maternal health services are poor while family planning efforts are intensive By following the daily lives of women in this setting the author considers the women s own experiences of birth and infant death their ways of making do and the hierarchies they create and contend with

This book develops an approach to the care that focuses on emotion domestic spaces illicit and extra institutional biomedicine and household and neighborly relations that these women are able to access It shows that as part of the concatenation of affect and access globalized moralities about reproduction are dependent on ambiguous ideas about caste Through the unfolding of birth and death a new vision of untouchability emerges that is integral to visions of progress Jacket
