Contemporary Studies in Environmental and Indigenous Pedagogies Andrejs Kulnieks, Dan Roronhiakewen Longboat, Young Young, 2013-06-13 Contemporary Studies in Environmental and Indigenous Pedagogies A Curricula of Stories and Place Our book is a compilation of the work of experienced educational researchers and practitioners all of whom currently work in educational settings across North America Contributors bring to this discussion an enriched view of diverse ecological perspectives regarding when and how contemporary environmental and Indigenous curriculum figures into the experiences of curricular theories and practices This work brings together theorists that inform a cultural ecological analysis of the environmental crisis by exploring the ways in which language informs ways of knowing and being as they outline how metaphor plays a major role in human relationships with natural and reconstructed environments This book will be of interest to educational researchers and practitioners who will find the text important for envisioning education as an endeavour that situates learning in relation to and informed by an Indigenous Environmental Studies and Eco justice Education frameworks This integrated collection of theory and practice of environmental and Indigenous education is an essential tool for researchers graduate and undergraduate students in faculties of education environmental studies social studies multicultural education curriculum theory and methods global and comparative education and women s studies Moreover this work documents methods of developing ways of implementing Indigenous and Environmental Studies in classrooms and local communities through a framework that espouses an eco ethical consciousness The proposed book is unique in that it offers a wide variety of perspectives inviting the reader to engage in a broader conversation about the multiple dimensions of the relationship between ecology language culture and education in relation to the cultural roots of the environmental crisis that brings into focus the local and global commons language and identity and environmental justice through pedagogical approaches by faculty across North America who are actively teaching and researching in this burgeoning field Ecocritical Perspectives in Teacher Education, 2022-11-21

In Ecocritical Perspectives in Teacher Education the editors share a collection of chapters from diverse critical scholars in teacher education Teachers and their students are faced with demands that require teacher educators to work toward better preparing them to teach in a changed world a world where diversity human rights sustainability and democracy must be paramount This text calls together teacher educators who address the complex ways that social and environmental injustices like racism sexism classism ableism and speciesism weave together to produce dangerous conditions for all life The volume shares with readers a glimpse into alternatives possible for teaching that are situational local and in support of social justice and sustainability Contributors are Marissa E Bellino Melissa Bradford Greer Burroughs Nataly Chesky Brandon Edwards Schuth Alison Happel Parkins Kevin Holohan Agnes C Krynski John Lupinacci Emilia Maertens Rebecca Martusewicz Emma McMain Michio Okamura Clayton Pierce Meneka Repka Graham B Slater Silvia Patricia Sol s JT Torres Rita Turner Robert G Unzueta and Mark Wolfmeyer A Pedagogy of Responsibility Rebecca A. Martusewicz, 2018-09-03

Drawing on the theories of author and conservationist Wendell Berry for the field of EcoJustice Education this book articulates a pedagogy of responsibility as a three pronged approach grounded in the recognition that our planet balances an essential and fragile interdependence between all living creatures Examining the deep cultural roots of social and ecological problems perpetuated by schools and institutions Martusewicz identifies practices relationships beliefs and traditions that contribute to healthier communities She calls for imaginative re thinking of education as an ethical process based in a vision of healthy just and sustainable communities Using a critical analytical process Martusewicz reveals how values of exploitation mastery and dispossession of land and people have taken hold in our educational system and communities and employs Berry s philosophy and wisdom to interrogate and develop a pedagogy of responsibility as an antidote to such harmful ideologies structures and patterns Berry s critical work and the author s relatable storytelling challenge taken for granted perspectives and open new ways of thinking about teaching for democratic and sustainable communities A Mindful Teaching Community Kelly Hanson, 2017-09-29 A Mindful Teaching Community Possibilities for Teacher Professional Learning describes a grassroots professional learning journey wherein a group of practicing classroom teachers researches their teaching practices and the role of mindfulness in their learning. Using a mix of methods, this book illustrates how the stories of an educator can be uncovered, investigated, and transformed through practicing mindfulness within a community. Through the stories told in this collection, the teachers learn to see greater connections between their individual ways of thinking, their actions, and the greater system they live and work in. The storied inquiry of the educators offers unique possibilities for teachers' professional learning.

Emancipatory Practices: Adult/Youth Engagement for Social and Environmental Justice, 2010-01-01
 Adults and youth who are engaged in social and ecological justice in community and educational work will find this book a critical overview of the role played by adults in the joint endeavours of adults and youth. Through various case studies, the book offers a glimpse into the work being undertaken by a wide range of international educators and community development workers where common themes emerge across the different sites. The book explores the development of and the internal and external constraints upon adult and youth emancipatory practices, as well as the effective adult and youth beliefs and actions that facilitate collaborative leadership in issues of social and ecological justice. The authors offer a critical examination of the degree to which youth are able to participate in decision-making processes or to the extent to which they were given space and power to truly explore democratic and dialogic partnerships. With an emphasis on the power dynamics inherent in adult-youth relationships and the potential of these relationships to engage in democratic transformation, the book examines the patterns, benefits, and limitations of the youth-adult connections.

Expanding Curriculum Theory William M. Reynolds, Julie A. Webber, 2016-04-28
Expanding Curriculum Theory Second Edition carries through the major focus of the original volume to reflect on the influence of Deleuze and Guattari's concept of lines of flight and its application to curriculum theorizing. What is different is that the lines of flight have since shifted and produced expanded understandings of this concept for curriculum theory and for education in general. This edition reflects the impact of events that have contributed to this shift, in particular the illogic of school policy changes and reforms in the past decade and the continued explosion of social media and its effect on the collective understanding of how both knowledge and education work as forms of repression. The introduction updates the text and puts it into current debates in the field and in the larger socio-economic milieu. New positions are presented that explore central questions circulating within and outside curriculum studies. Exciting scholarship on a range of topics includes notions of desire and commodities, youth culture and violence, new directions in curriculum theory, Eco-Ethical consciousness, new Deleuzian views of normality, the diffusion of technology, and lines of flight in transnational curriculum inquiry.

Narrating Transformative Learning in Education
 M. Gardner, U. Kelly, 2008-02-04
 This collection highlights the experiences of an international group of educators as they explore the art of teaching, the philosophy of learning, and the tensions of working across socially constructed borders.
