The Great American Symphony Nicholas Tawa, 2009-03-26 The years of the Great Depression World War II and their aftermath brought a sea change in American music This period of economic social and political adversity can truly be considered a musical golden age In the realm of classical music Aaron Copland Samuel Barber Howard Hanson Virgil Thompson and Leonard Bernstein among others produced symphonic works of great power and lasting beauty during these troubled years It was during this critical decade and a half that contemporary writers on American culture began to speculate about the Great American Symphony and looked to these composers for music that would embody the spirit of the nation In this volume Nicholas Tawa concludes that they succeeded at the very least in producing music that belongs in the cultural memory of every American Tawa introduces the symphonists and their major works from the romanticism of Barber and the all American Roy Harris through the theatrics of Bernstein and Marc Blitzstein to the broad shouldered appeal of Thompson and Copland Tawa s musical descriptions are vivid and personal and invite music lovers and trained musicians alike to turn again to the marvelous and lasting music of this time
