Nurses Contributions to Quality Health Outcomes Marianne Baernholdt, Diane K. Boyle, 2021-05-04 This comprehensive book organizes the components of quality and safety outcomes within a framework developed by expert nurses. Such a framework is missing in existing books on quality and safety in health care and the concepts of nursing and organizational outcomes are often overlooked. This book fills this gap by exploring and expanding the various features of the Quality Health Outcomes Model (QHOM) and its four main concepts: System, Client, Interventions, and Outcomes. Using a broad and comprehensive approach, the authors identify the most current empirical evidence and concepts in the nursing field to provide an up-to-date understanding of the QHOM's four concepts and their interrelations. New concepts include a systems concept of turbulence and complexity of workflow and use of the electronic health record to support clinical workflow; client concepts of social determinants of health, health literacy, and chronicity; intervention concepts of interprofessional practice, nursing care processes including unfinished care, and care coordination; and outcome concepts related to nursing and the organization in addition to patient outcomes that includes the patient's experience. The ideas, approaches, and evidence are provided by a team of experienced researchers, practitioners, and leaders. The author team presents an updated state-of-the-art view of how system, client, and interventions affect client, nurse, and organizational outcomes. This book will appeal to researchers, clinicians, and researchers interested in healthcare quality and in particular nurses and nursing students in administration, research, and practice. Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), 1993. Speech and Automata in Health Care Amy Neustein, 2014-11-10 Examines various speech technologies deployed in healthcare service robots to maximize the robot's ability to interpret user input. Demonstrates how robot anthropomorphic features and etiquette in behavior promotes user positive emotions, acceptance of robots, and compliance with robot requests. Analyzes how multimodal medical service robots and other cyber-physical systems can reduce mistakes and mishaps in the operating room. Evaluates various input methods for improving acceptance of robots in the older adult population. Presents case studies of cognitively and socially engaging robots in the long-term care setting for helping older adults with activities of daily living and in the pediatric setting for helping children with autism spectrum conditions and metabolic disorders. Speech and Automata in Health Care forges new ground by closely analyzing how three separate disciplines: speech technology, robotics, and medical/surgical assistive care intersect with one another, resulting in an innovative way of diagnosing and treating both juvenile and adult illnesses and conditions. This includes the use of speech-enabled robotics to help the elderly population cope with common problems associated with aging caused by the diminution in their sensory, auditory, and motor capabilities. By examining the emerging nexus of speech automata and health care, the authors demonstrate the exciting potential of automata, both speech-driven and multimodal, to affect the healthcare delivery system so that it better meets the needs of the populations it serves. This book provides both empirical research findings and incisive literature reviews that demonstrate some of the more novel uses of speech enabled and multimodal automata in the operating room hospital ward long term care facility and in the home Studies backed by major universities research institutes and by EU funded collaborative projects are debuted in this volume This volume provides a wealth of timely material for industrial engineers speech scientists computational linguists and for signal processing and intelligent systems design experts Topics include Spoken Interaction with Healthcare Robots Service Robot Feature Effects on Patient Acceptance Emotional Response Designing Embodied and Virtual Agents for the Operating Room The Emerging Role of Robotics for Personal Health Management in the Older Adult Population Why Input Methods for Robots that Serve the Older Adult Are Critical for Usability Socially and Cognitively Engaging Robots in the Long Term Care Setting Voice Enabled Assistive Robots for Managing Autism Spectrum Conditions ASR and TTS for Voice Controlled Robot Interactions in Treating Children with Metabolic Disorders Introduction to Management and Leadership for Nurse Managers Russell C. Moneke, 2016-12-28 My writing of this book has evolved over the past thirty six years of professional nursing practice These were my first efforts as an author which were published in 2013 Promoting a Culture of Safety Preventing Central Line Infections in Weill Cornell Medical Center which used a performance improvement process to lower the rate at which critically ill patients in cardiac care developed central line infections and Factors Influencing Critical Nurses Perception of their Overall Job Satisfaction An Empirical Study which used a correctional approach and was statistically analyzed to determine the perception of critical care nurses of their manager s leadership style and its effect on their job satisfaction Having been on the receiving end of leadership behaviors gave me a firsthand opportunity to observe these diverse nurse leaders at both extremes of the spectrum from laissez faire leadership style to dictatorial leadership style and everything in between Each encounter has enriched my life immeasurably My personal and professional experiences as well as the knowledge I gained from completing my dissertation all compelled me to write this book to share with novice managers and those aspiring for a leadership role an awareness and provide them with some valuable information needed as they forge their career paths into a leadership role knowing that one of the keys to effective leadership is the ability to stay intellectually curious and committed to learning with the understanding that new knowledge can come from variety of sources and to make it a point of duty to be always on a lookout for new knowledge
