Nutrition in the Community Donald Stewart McLaren, 1983 Abstract A total of 24 authoritative papers on nutrition policy and programs are presented for nutrition policy makers and nutrition program operators The papers are arranged under 3 central themes A section on nutrition policy concepts and planning includes historical developments in the United Kingdom UK the community planning process infant nutrition policy planning nutrition education and ethics and malnutrition Discussion of active nutrition policies in various countries Norway the UK the US covers policy aspects e g agricultural and food policies nutritional surveillance food additives and contaminants and nutritional strategies in UNICEF The final section on current nutrition programs reports on nutritional rehabilitation nutrition in relief agencies i e HOPE and CARE vitamin A deficiency in the Philippines the fortification of sugar with vitamin A and child malnutrition prevention wz The political economy of food and nutrition policies Per Pinstrup-Andersen, 1993-01-01 Few nutritionists and economists fully appreciate how the political environment shapes policy and subsequently affects the relevance of their policy recommendations When governments fail to follow the recommendations of nutritionists and economists and are unable to design and implement cost effective nutrition programs and policies it is often attributed to politics or to lack of political will on the part of decisionmakers Past nutrition planning efforts frequently failed to understand the goals and behavior of the various agents and institutions inside and outside the government that in the final analysis determine whether the planning effort is successful In The Political Economy of Food and Nutrition Policies Per Pinstrup Andersen brings together a group of distinguished authorities to improve the understanding of how nutrition policies are formulated within larger political and economic contexts and how public sector agencies behave with regard to food and nutrition Health Psychology in Global Perspective Frances E. Aboud, 1998-03-09 What do we know about health in other countries How can we use explanations from health psychology to understand health issues around the world In Health Psychology in Global Perspective author Frances E Aboud uses health psychology to examine the health issues facing developing countries and compares them with issues faced by people in developed countries She uses a psychosocial perspective rather than the typical biomedical and anthropological perspectives usually applied to health issues in developing countries and integrates diverse literature from a variety of disciplines including epidemiology psychology education anthropology and nursing Accessible to a broad audience this volume brings mainstream health psychology concepts to bear on the problems of international health and cross cultural issues to bear on concepts and theories in mainstream health psychology It also incorporates a number of pedagogical features case vignettes problem solving debate exercises case studies which make it an ideal supplemental text for courses in health psychology Students will appreciate the extended case studies while instructors will value the multidisciplinary perspective A thought provoking examination of the state of knowledge about health in developing countries Health Psychology in Global Perspective is a valuable resource for academics and professionals in health psychology psychology
