Nutritional Management of Cancer Treatment Effects Nagi B. Kumar,2012-02-18

Malnutrition and its related symptoms are both frequent and deleterious effects of cancer treatment. Despite the importance of targeted nutritional interventions in ameliorating these effects, however, publications providing up to date information on novel nutritional approaches and strategies are lacking. This book is intended to fill the void by describing and evaluating in detail the nutritional strategies that may be employed to alleviate a wide variety of cancer treatment effects. The guidance provided will help to improve the survival and quality of life of cancer patients and has the potential to dramatically affect how evidence based clinical practice is established and improved over the coming decade. The author is a distinguished expert in the field who has more than 25 years of experience in oncology nutrition and has been involved in establishing and implementing a Clinical Nutrition Oncology Program.

The Clinical Guide to Oncology Nutrition Paula Davis
McCallum, Christine Gail Polisena, 2000. Intended as a reference to be used by dietetics professionals, dietetics interns, medical students and residents, nurses and other health care professionals. Covers the spectrum of oncology nutrition from prevention to recovery and alternative therapy to palliative care and hospice. There are three appendices covering symptom management, common supportive drug therapies used in oncology, and resources for the professional and for the patient and family.

Abstract A 2 volume reference set for nutrition and cancer research scientists including epidemiologists, clinicians and experimentalists summarizes and discusses a wide variety of studies concerning the role of nutrition in the etiology of various types of cancer, highlighting the potential and limitations of epidemiology, clinical and experimental studies. The first volume addresses the affects of macronutrients in cancer etiology and treatment covering various specific cancers: gastric, pancreas, large bowel, colon, breast, prostate, including the role of dietary fat, essential fatty acids, prostaglandins and fiber. The role of dietary fat in cancer risk also is reviewed. The second volume covers the role of micronutrients and nonnutritive dietary factors in several types of cancer: breast, esophagus, including retinoids, selenium and other factors. Special attention also is given to cancer chemoprevention, fermented milk products as cancer inhibitors, the role of food mutagens and carcinogens, nitrosamines in foods and the effects of alcohol consumption. The 19 review articles comprising this 2 volume set were prepared by experts in their fields.
