Protest Policy Problem Of Violence Against Women:

Protest, Policy, and the Problem of Violence against Women S. Laurel Weldon, 2013-12-09 Violence against women is one of the most insidious social ills facing the world today Yet governmental response is inconsistent ranging from dismissal to aggressive implementation of policies and programs to combat the problem In her comparative study of thirty six democratic governments Laurel Weldon examines the root causes and consequences of the differences in public policy from Northern Europe to Latin America She reveals that factors that often influence the development of social policies do not determine policies on violence against women Neither economic level religion region nor the number of women in government determine governmental responsiveness to this problem Weldon demonstrates for example that Nordic governments take no more action to combat violence against women than Latin American governments even though the Swedish welfare state is often considered a leader in social policy particularly with regard to women s issues Instead the presence of independently organized active women s movements plays a greater role in placing violence against women on the public agenda The breadth and scope of governmental response is greatly enhanced by the presence of an office dedicated to promoting women s status Weldon closes with practical lessons and insights to improve government action on violence against women and other important issues of social justice and democracy Violence Against Women in the US Maddy Coy, 2024-04-09

Defending Women's Rights in Europe Olga A. Avdeyeva, 2015-04-15 Between 2004 and 2007 ten post communist Eastern European states became members of the European Union EU To do so these nations had to meet certain EU accession requirements including antidiscrimination reforms While attaining EU membership was an incredible achievement many scholars and experts doubted the sustainability of accession linked reforms Would these nations comply with EU directives on gender equality To explore this question Defending Women's Rights in Europe presents a unique analysis of detailed original comparative data on state compliance with EU gender equality requirements It features a comprehensive quantitative analysis combined with rigorous insightful case studies of reforms in Poland the Czech Republic and Lithuania Olga A Avdeyeva reveals that policy and institutional reforms developed furthest in those states where women's advocacy NGOs managed to form coalitions with governing political parties After becoming members of the EU the governments did not abolish these policies and institutions despite the costs and lack of popular support Reputational concerns prevented state elites from policy dismantling but gender equality policies and institutions became marginalized on the state agenda after accession This book is freely available in an open access edition thanks to Knowledge Unlatched an initiative that provides libraries and institutions with a centralized platform to support OA collections and from leading publishing houses and OA initiatives Learn more at the Knowledge Unlatched website at <https://www.knowledgeunlatched.org> and access the book online at the SUNY Open Access Repository at <http://hdl.handle.net/20.500.12648/1710>

Morgan, Ann Shola Orloff, 2017-02-27 The state is central to social scientific and historical inquiry today reflecting its importance in domestic and international affairs States kill coerce fight torture and incarcerate yet they also nurture protect educate redistribute and invest It is precisely because of the complexity and wide ranging impacts of states that research on them has proliferated and diversified Yet too many scholars inhabit separate academic silos and theorizing of states has become dispersed and disjointed This book aims to bridge some of the many gaps between scholarly endeavors bringing together scholars from a diverse array of disciplines and perspectives who study states and empires The book offers not only a sample of cutting edge research that can serve as models and directions for future work but an original conceptualization and theorization of states their origins and evolution and their effects Gender Expertise in Public Policy S.
