Design of Reservation Protocols for Multimedia Communication Luca Delgrossi,2012-12-06 The advent of multimedia technology is creating a number of new problems in the fields of computer and communication systems Perhaps the most important of these problems in communication and certainly the most interesting is that of designing networks to carry multimedia traffic including digital audio and video with acceptable quality The main challenge in integrating the different services needed by the different types of traffic into the same network an objective that is made worthwhile by its obvious economic advantages is to satisfy the performance requirements of continuous media applications as the quality of audio and video streams at the receiver can be guaranteed only if bounds on delay delay jitters bandwidth and reliability are guaranteed by the network Since such guarantees cannot be provided by traditional packet switching technology a number of researchers and research groups during the last several years have tried to meet the challenge by proposing new protocols or modifications of old ones to make packet switching networks capable of delivering audio and video with good quality while carrying all sorts of other traffic The focus of this book is on HeiTS the Heidelberg Transport System and its contributions to integrated services network design The HeiTS architecture is based on using the Internet Stream Protocol Version 2 ST II at the network layer The Heidelberg researchers were the first to implement ST II The author documents this activity in the book and provides thorough coverage of the improvements made to the protocol The book also includes coverage of HeiTP as used in error handling error control congestion control and the full specification of ST2 a new version of ST II The ideas and techniques implemented by the Heidelberg group and their coverage in this volume apply to many other approaches to multimedia networking Handbook of Internet and Multimedia Systems and Applications Borko Furht, 1998-12-29 Today multimedia applications on the Internet are still in their infancy They include personalized communications such as Internet telephone and videophone and interactive applications such as video on demand videoconferencing distance learning collaborative work digital libraries radio and television broadcasting and others Handbook of Internet and Multimedia Systems and Applications a companion to the author s Handbook of Multimedia Computing probes the development of systems supporting Internet and multimedia applications Part one introduces basic multimedia and Internet concepts user interfaces standards authoring techniques and tools and video browsing and retrieval techniques Part two covers multimedia and communications systems including distributed multimedia systems visual information systems multimedia messaging and news systems conference systems and many others Part three presents contemporary Internet and multimedia applications including multimedia education interactive movies multimedia document systems multimedia broadcasting over the Internet and mobile multimedia
