Pseira VII The Pseira Cemetery 2 Excavation Of The Tombs:

Pseira VII Philip P. Betancourt, Costis Davaras, 2003-07-01 Richard B Seager excavated the Minoan cemetery at Pseira in 1907 but the work was never published The Temple University excavations 1985 1994 under the direction of Philip P Betancourt and Costis Davaras conducted an intensive surface survey of the cemetery area cleaned and drew plans of all visible tombs and excavated tombs that had not been previously excavated The results of the cemetery excavations on the small island off the northeast coast of Crete are published in two volumes Pseira VII presents the results from the excavation and cleaning of the 19 tombs that still exist at the Pseira cemetery The cemetery is remarkable for the diversity of its tomb types Burials were in cist graves built of vertical slabs a class with Cycladic parallels in small tombs constructed of fieldstones in house tombs and in jars Burials were communal as is usual in Minoan cemeteries Artifacts included clay vases stone vessels obsidian bronze tools jewelry and other objects

The Minoan Shipwreck at Pseira, Crete Elpidia Hadjidaki-Marder, 2021-06-15 The excavation of a Minoan shipwreck dated to 1725 1700 BC is described The cargo includes the largest known corpus of complete and almost complete clay vessels from a single Middle Minoan IIB deposit The transport boat provides interesting information on a society that revolved around seafaring

Pseira X Philip P. Betancourt, 2009-12-31 This book is the tenth volume in the series of excavation reports about the harbor town of Pseira which is located on the island of the same name just off the northeast coast of Crete The book focuses on the excavation and interpretation of the architecture and material culture in Block AF This southern group of buildings is one of the most important areas in the settlement because of its long succession of building phases Block AF provides the fullest sequence of building phases from any one area at Pseira with habitation extending from before MM II to LM III It has examples of complex architectural details including a pillar crypt elaborate upstairs floors a well preserved U shaped staircase and a well designed kitchen all of which contribute significantly to our knowledge of East Cretan building practices In addition to domestic pottery the houses furnish examples of stone tools stone vessels loom weights inscriptions in Linear A cult objects animal bones marine shells and a wide range of material recovered from water sieving This latter category with burned grain fish bones shells and other categories of materials fills many gaps in our knowledge of Pseiran life

The Dams and Water Management Systems of Minoan Pseira Philip P. Betancourt, 2012-12-31 Excavations at the Bronze Age seaport on Pseira Island uncovered the remains of sophisticated water retention systems that included the addition of retaining walls to prevent erosion massive dams with associated reservoirs and small check dams to ravines that reached over one hundred meters in length in order to control water runoff and make it available for human use Agriculture was one of the cornerstones of the Bronze Age Cretan economy and it is no surprise that the ancient inhabitants of the island went to great lengths to control water runoff and make it available for human use Despite the application of traditional archaeological survey methods the full extent of the water management systems was not understood fully as the island's rugged topography prevented intensive and thorough survey of many places The use of a differential Global Positioning System dGPS unit provided the opportunity to take a fresh look at the evidence for water management on the island The results of this study contribute substantial amounts of new information on the little known subject of Minoan water conservation and control

Aphrodite's Kephali Philip P. Betancourt, 2013-10-15 The small site of Aphrodite s Kephali among several other Minoan and later sites took advantage of the valley topography in the Isthmus of Ierapetra in eastern Crete by establishing themselves along the nearby hills resulting in easy access to the natural trade route between the Aegean and the Libyan Seas A discussion of the architecture artifacts and ecofacts are presented from the excavation of this Early Minoan I watchtower The conclusions challenge some of the commonly held views about Crete in the third millennium B C It is suggested that rather than being a precursor to a socially complex state that would arise later early polities involving several communities probably already existed in the isthmus during the EM I period Social and economic differentiation existed on a regional not just a local level and decisions for mutual defense could involve collaboration by groups of workers including the building of the watchtower that is the focus of this volume

Prehistoric Crete Joanne M. Murphy, 2011-06-15 Since the inception of Minoan archaeology studies pertaining to tombs and tomb deposits have played seminal roles in our understanding of Minoan culture and the reconstruction of Bronze Age society For several geographical areas and chronological periods of Cretan history tombs are the most abundant source of data Each author in this volume takes a clear and distinct approach to the data including some that emphasize political geography on multi regional and multi scalar levels some that examine the commemoration of the dead and of the community for legitimizing purposes but also for maintaining and or creating elite positions in social systems and others that underline the overlap between mortuary rituals and religion The aim of this volume is not to present all tombs in all periods on Crete comprehensively but the breadth of these papers is intended generate a discourse not just among archaeologists working in different areas and time periods on Crete but also among archaeologists in Greece and a broader anthropological audience

Philistor Philip P. Betancourt, Eleni Mantzourani, 2012-09-30 Contributions by 37 scholars are brought together here to create a volume in honor of the long and fruitful career of Costis Davaras former Ephor of Crete and Professor Emeritus of Minoan Archaeology at the University of Athens Articles pertain to Bronze Age Crete and include mortuary studies experimental archaeology numerous artifactual studies and discussions on the greater Minoan civilization

Alatzomouri Pefka Vili Apostolakou, Philip P. Betancourt, Thomas M. Brogan, 2021-02-15 Excavation of an important site for the early history of dyeing in Minoan Crete revealed a Middle Bronze Age natural dye workshop with several basins carved into bedrock pottery and stone vessels stone tools and animal and plant remains The evidence contributes new information on the Minoan trade in textiles during the Old Palace period

Tholos Tomb Gamma Yiannis Papadatos, 2005-12-31 This publication includes a detailed discussion of the pottery the finds and their parallels and a reconstruction of both the excavation and stratigraphy of Tholos Gamma in the

Bronze Age cemetery of Phourni at Archanes This evidence is used to give the historical outline of the tomb from its foundation in Early Minoan IIA until its excavation in 1972 Several problems concerning Prepalatial mortuary practices are discussed with particular reference to Tholos Gamma and the new evidence resulting from the study of this funerary assemblage The artifacts from the tomb include pottery metal objects marble figurines other small finds and skeletal remains

The Alatzomouri Rock Shelter Vili Apostolakou, Philip P. Betancourt, Thomas M. Brogan, 2017-09-30 This handsome volume describes and illustrates the excavation of an artificial rock shelter in Crete Greece Minoan pottery and small finds such as stone tools loomweights and ecofactual remains were recovered The ceramics elucidate the style and chronology of East Cretan White on Dark Ware which dates to the end of the Early Bronze Age
