

PROCEDURE FOR RESOLVING EMPLOYMENT RELATIONSHIP PROBLEMS

1. Under the Employment Relations Act 2000, an employment relationship problem is any problem (including personal grievances and disputes) relating to or arising out of an employment relationship.
2. A personal grievance is a claim that you have been unjustifiably dismissed; or unjustifiably disadvantaged by an unjustifiable action by us; or discriminated against, sexually or racially harassed or subject to duress (in relation to membership or non-membership of a union or employees' organisation) in your employment; or that we have failed to comply with Part 6A of the Employment Relations Act 2000.
3. You must raise a personal grievance within 90 days of the later of the day the action occurred, or the action came to your notice. If you do not meet that deadline then either we must consent or the Authority must allow the personal grievance to be raised late.
4. To raise an employment relationship problem you should write to us outlining (1) details of the problem or grievance; (2) why you feel aggrieved; and (3) what solution or remedy you are seeking. We will respond to your problem in writing.
5. If we cannot resolve the problem together, and either of us wishes to pursue the matter further, we can use the following services available for the resolution of employment relationship problems:
 - The Department of Labour's Employment Relations Infoline.
 - Mediation provided by the Department of Labour's Employment Relations Service (or by a mediator agreed between us).
 - The Employment Relations Authority.
 - The Employment Court.
 - A Labour Inspector.

Proceedings of the International Conference on Cultural Policy and Sustainable Development (ICPSD 2024) Abdul Kadir Jaelani,Irwansyah Irwansyah,Fokke Fernhout,Adolfo Antonio Paolini,Mohd Rizal Palil,Hilaire Tegnan,Okid Parama Astirin,Sutarno Sutarno,Patricia Covarrubia,Bobur Sobirov,Robbi Rahim,2024-12-23 This is an open access book Cultural policy plays a crucial role in shaping societies influencing cultural expressions and advancing sustainable development Laws and regulations related to culture both at the national and international levels play a key role in regulating and protecting cultural heritage and supporting a healthy cultural ecosystem The First International Conference on Cultural Policy and

Sustainable Development ICPSD aims to explore the impact of cultural policies in democratic and nondemocratic regimes. This conference will serve as a platform for scholars, policymakers, and practitioners to exchange ideas, share experiences, and discuss strategies to promote cultural diversity, creativity, and sustainability in different political contexts. Internationally, various agreements such as the UNESCO Convention on the Protection and Promotion of the Diversity of Cultural Expressions underscore the importance of cultural policies in supporting sustainable development and promoting cultural diversity. UNESCO Convention 2005 n.d. At the national level, laws such as the Cultural Law in Indonesia establish a framework for the protection and development of culture as well as provide a legal basis for inclusive and sustainable cultural policy making. Law Number 5 of 2017 concerning the Advancement of Culture n.d. In democratic regimes, cultural policies are often developed through participatory processes reflecting the values and aspirations of diverse communities. These policies aim to support cultural expression, protect cultural heritage, and promote cultural rights, thereby contributing to social cohesion and inclusive development. However, challenges such as funding limitations, cultural commodification, and the impact of digital technology require ongoing dialogue and innovation in policy approaches. On the other hand, cultural policies in nondemocratic regimes are often used as tools for political control, censorship, and the promotion of state ideology. Nevertheless, cultural practitioners and activists in these contexts demonstrate resilience and creativity in navigating restrictive environments, often using digital technology to amplify their voices and preserve cultural identity. In various countries, existing legislation greatly influences the implementation of cultural policies and sustainable development. In Indonesia, for example, Law Number 5 of 2017 concerning Culture serves as the main foundation for the development of sustainable cultural policies. This law promotes the protection, preservation, development, utilization, and fostering of culture as an integral part of national development. Law Number 5 of 2017 concerning the Advancement of Culture n.d. Cultural Policy and Sustainable Development are interrelated concepts and are the main focus of this conference, where appropriate cultural policies can strengthen sustainable development, reinforce cultural identity, and improve the quality of life for communities. In the context of the conference theme, Cultural Policies in Democratic and Nondemocratic Regimes, it is important to consider the differences in cultural policy approaches between these two types of regimes. This forum aims to facilitate communication among Law Faculty Academics worldwide with the agenda of the 1st International Conference on Cultural Policy and Sustainable Development ICPSD Cultural Policies in Democratic and Nondemocratic Regimes.
