Think THIS

Same, Same but Different

In tales from all over the world, authors tell the same stories, each with their own special twists. You may know the story of Cinderella, but

Creating Characters

Emily's laughter echoed through the room and her animated gestures drew everyone's attention.

The author's language tells us that Emily is outgoing and lively.

Describing Settings

The forest's branches intertwined, forming a thick green canopy that blocked the sunlight.

Sharing Preferences

Tom strolled leisurely across the bridge admiring the tranquil water glistening below. Above, the full moon hung like a luminous jewel in the sky.

Responding To Literature Grades 13:

Quality of the Responses of Eight-grade Students in NELS:88 Phillip Kaufman, Kenneth A. Rasinski, 1991 Exploring Student Response to Contemporary Picturebooks Sylvia Pantaleo, 2009-10-14 Despite being a source of continuing interest to educational scholars research into the literary understanding of elementary school students has emphasized written materials over multimodal mediums such as picturebooks Focusing on students in Grades one and five this book describes children's interpretations of and responses to a variety of contemporary picturebooks specifically those books that employ Radical Change characteristics and metafictional devices In dealing with picturebooks Sylvia Pantaleo seeks to show the ways in which literature teaches artistic codes and conventions critical thinking skills visual literacy skills and interpretative strategies Aside from investigating specific picturebooks Pantaleo discusses the broader implications of reading viewing and creating print and digital texts in schools These exercises she argues reflect the changing nature of communication and representation in the world of elementary school students Incorporating postmodernism social constructivism and other theoretical frameworks Pantaleo contextualizes her research and examines ways in which literature highlights broader social and cultural characteristics An extensively researched look at the pedagogical value of literature in the classroom this book introduces new dimensions to discussions of contemporary picturebooks in elementary education and the social nature of intertextuality Responses of Fourth and Seventh Grade Students to Satire as Reflected in Selected Contemporary Picture Books Shelley Gail McNamara, 1980 Resources in Education , 2001-04 Creating Parallel Practices Betty Shockley, 1995 Reconstructing Response to Student Writing Dan Melzer, 2023-08-07 In Reconstructing Response to Student Writing Dan Melzer makes the argument that writing instructors should shift the construct so that peer response and student self assessment are more central than teacher response Presenting the results of a national study of teacher and peer response and student self assessment at institutions of higher education across the United States Melzer analyzes teacher and peer response to over 1 000 pieces of student writing as well as 128 student portfolio reflection essays He draws on his analysis and on a comprehensive review of the literature on response to introduce a constructivist heuristic for response aimed at both composition instructors and instructors across disciplines Melzer argues that teachers and researchers should focus less on teacher response to individual pieces of student writing and more on engaging in dialogue with student self assessment and peer response focusing on growth and transfer rather than products and grades Reconstructing Response to Student Writing especially when taken together with Melzer's previous book Assignments across the Curriculum provides a comprehensive and large scale view of college writing and responding across the curriculum in the United States HBJ language: Grade 2 Dorothy S. Strickland, 1990 Good Choice! Tony Stead, 2009 In Good Choice noted author and literacy specialist Tony Stead outlines the components that foster successful independent reading in grades K 6 With examples appropriate to emergent readers in grades K 2 as well as more seasoned readers in grades 3-6 Tony provides a comprehensive plan for integrating independent reading throughout the day He offers systems for organizing the class library and checking books in and out lessons on book selection and responding to text advice on supporting children and parents in home reading guidance on conferring with students and an array of helpful appendix materials including graphic organizers questionnaires and assessment and monitoring rubrics BOOK JACKET
