Response To Student Writing:

Response to Student Writing Dana R. Ferris, 2009      Response to Student Writing Dana Ferris, 2003 This volume synthesizes and critically analyzes the literature on response to the writing of second language students and discusses the implications of the research for teaching practice in the areas of written and oral teacher commentary on student writing error correction and facilitation of peer response The book features numerous examples of student texts and teacher commentary as well as figures and appendices that summarize research findings and present sample lessons and other teaching materials It is thus simultaneously comprehensive in its approach to the existing research and highly practical in showing current and future teachers how this material applies to their everyday endeavors of responding to student writing and teaching composition classes Response to student writing whether it takes the form of teachers written feedback on content error correction teacher student conferences or peer response is an extremely important component of teaching second language writing Probably no single activity takes more teacher time and energy Response to Student Writing is a valuable theoretical and practical resource for those involved in this crucial work including L2 composition researchers in service and preservice teachers of ESOL EFL writers and teacher educators preparing graduate students for the teaching of writing

Reconstructing Response to Student Writing Dan Melzer, 2023-08-07 In Reconstructing Response to Student Writing Dan Melzer makes the argument that writing instructors should shift the construct so that peer response and student self assessment are more central than teacher response Presenting the results of a national study of teacher and peer response and student self assessment at institutions of higher education across the United States Melzer analyzes teacher and peer response to over 1 000 pieces of student writing as well as 128 student portfolio reflection essays He draws on his analysis and on a comprehensive review of the literature on response to introduce a constructivist heuristic for response aimed at both composition instructors and instructors across disciplines Melzer argues that teachers and researchers should focus less on teacher response to individual pieces of student writing and more on engaging in dialogue with student self assessment and peer response focusing on growth and transfer rather than products and grades Reconstructing Response to Student Writing especially when taken together with Melzer's previous book Assignments across the Curriculum provides a comprehensive and large scale view of college writing and responding across the curriculum in the United States

Response to Student Writing Sarah Warshauer Freedman, Cynthia Greenleaf, Melanie Sperling, 1987 Noting that while writing teachers acknowledge that responding to their students writing is central to their teaching they still express frustration about how to make their response effective This book describes a two part study conducted to discover how the nation's most successful writing teachers respond to their students work The first chapter provides background information the rationale behind the study and an elaboration of the research questions The second chapter presents details of the experimental design including procedures for selecting the 560 successful teachers and their 715 students who participated in the first part of the survey This chapter also discusses ethnography observing response practices in the two ninth grade writing classes that participated in the second part of the study The third chapter describes the response practices of the teachers and their range and helpfulness while the fourth chapter analyzes values about writing uncovered in the survey the underpinnings and structuring of response The fifth chapter provides a summary of the research including characteristics of the successful teachers and their response practices while the sixth chapter contemplates what can be learned from the study The book concludes with 83 references and the following appendixes 1 the National Writing Project surveys 2 assignment sequences 3 note taking conventions and procedures for in class data collection 4 criteria for determining what was to be recorded on camera 5 supplementary tables 6 questions for character analysis and 7 student writing samples SKC

A Circle of Response April D. Carothers, 2009 What students need most from instructors written response on their texts is commentary that evokes a sense of exchange Teachers often believe that their job is to point out the deficits in a student's paper and help eliminate those deficits While this is a part of the function of response it should not be the primary goal of feedback rather students need comments that will help them gain a sense of themselves as writers who are accepted into the college writing community Grounding the argument in the scholarship of response this thesis develops an approach to teacher response that narrows the topic into three problem areas the tension between responding to content issues versus responding to the distraction of surface error the tension between promoting mastery of academic language versus encouraging development of student voice and the tension between the reality of teacher authority and the teacher's desire to empower students to take charge of their own learning The author's purpose is to clarify the goals of response as well as the act itself in order to help eliminate the confusion and frustration inexperienced instructors may feel when they respond to student writing New teachers and experienced teachers who are new to writing intensive courses should find this thesis to be a useful guide to responding to student writing
