Restorative Justice Marian Liebmann, 2007

Provides an accessible introduction to the philosophy of restorative justice and its application in a wide range of settings demonstrating how it can help to rehabilitate both victims and offenders when harm has been done Restorative Justice Today Lorenn Walker, 2012-08-17 Restorative Justice Today Applications of Restorative Interventions takes a hard look at the issues and concepts surrounding restorative justice and current restorative practices used in a broad range of areas today In a time when the cost of prisons and jails is on the rise resulting in more offenders being kept out of the community this timely and contemporary book exposes readers to a range of restorative practices that can be implemented The authors renowned experts in the area of restorative justice provide information not found in other restorative justice texts Handbook of Restorative Justice , Debating Restorative Justice Chris Cunneen, Carolyn Hoyle, 2010-08-25 Debating Law is a new exciting series that gives scholarly experts the opportunity to offer contrasting perspectives on significant topics of contemporary general interest In this first volume of the series Carolyn Hoyle argues that communities and the state should be more restorative in responding to harms caused by crimes antisocial behaviour and other incivilities She supports the exclusive use of restorative justice for many non serious offences and favours approaches that by integrating restorative and retributive philosophies take restorative practices into the deep end of criminal justice While acknowledging that restorative justice appears to have much to offer in terms of criminal justice reform Chris Cunneen offers a different account contending that the theoretical cogency of restorative ideas is limited by their lack of a coherent analysis of social and political power He goes on to argue that after several decades of experimentation restorative justice has not produced significant change in the criminal justice system and that the attempt to establish it as a feasible alternative to dominant practices of criminal justice has failed This lively and valuable debate will be of great interest to everyone interested in the criminal justice system

Restorative Justice in Practice Joanna Shapland, Gwen Robinson, Angela Sorsby, 2011-07-15 This book analyzes the practicalities of setting up and running restorative justice schemes the costs involved and the key professional and ethical issues involved such as victims and offenders needs and expectations community and desistance Restorative Justice in China Xiaoyu Yuan, 2017-10-16 This book provides insights into the history development and practice of restorative justice methods in China Traditionally in China mediation has played an important role in criminal proceedings which has many characteristics in common with the Western concept of restorative justice Through case studies and theoretical examination the author of this timely work aims to bridge the research on restorative justice models mainly developed in the West with restorative justice as practiced in China After a Brief overview and introduction the author compares and contrasts case studies of restorative justice like practices from different districts in China The author examines cases studies from several regions within China and explores the key question can the restoration model developed in the West take root in China and if so what legal cultural and societal accommodations may need to be made This work will be of interest to researchers in Criminology and Criminal Justice particularly with an interest in alternative justice practices restorative justice and international comparative criminology as well as researchers interested in Chinese affairs or Asian Studies New Directions in Restorative Justice Elizabeth Elliott, Robert Gordon, 2013-06-17 This book is based on papers originally presented at the 6th International Conference on Restorative Justice in Vancouver It is concerned with several new areas of practice within restorative justice with sections on restorative justice and youth aboriginal justice and restorative justice victimization and restorative justice and evaluating restorative justice Restorative Justice and Criminal Justice Andreas von Hirsch, Julian V Roberts, Anthony E Bottoms, Kent Roach, Mara Schiff, 2003-01-06 Restorative Justice has emerged around the world as a potent challenge to traditional models of criminal justice and restorative programmes policies and legislative reforms are being implemented in many western nations However the underlying aims values and limits of this new paradigm remain somewhat uncertain and those advocating Restorative Justice have rarely engaged in systematic debate with those defending more traditional conceptions of criminal justice This volume containing contributions from scholars of international renown provides an analytic exploration of Restorative Justice and its potential advantages and disadvantages Chapters of the book examine the aims and limiting principles that should govern Restorative Justice its appropriate scope of application its social and legal contexts its practice and impact in a number of jurisdictions and its relation to more traditional criminal justice conceptions These questions are addressed by twenty distinguished criminologists and legal scholars in papers which make up this volume These contributions will help clarify the aims that Restorative Justice might reasonably hope to achieve the limits that should apply in pursuing these aims and how restorative strategies might comport with or replace other penal strategies Contributors Andrew Ashworth Anthony E Bottoms John Braithwaite Kathleen Daly James Dignan R A Duff Carolyn Hoyle Barbara Hudson Leena Kurki Allison Morris Kent Roach Julian V Roberts Paul Roberts Mara Schiff Joanna Shapland Clifford Shearing Daniel van Ness Andrew von Hirsch Lode Walgrave Richard Young Equality Matters for Restorative Justice Theo Gavrielides, Pat Lauderdale, Annamarie Oliverio, Christa Pelikan, Vaso Artinopoulou, Rod Earle, Alison Wakefield, Borbala Fellegi, Dóra Szegő, 2018-04-01 Restorative justice was brought back into the modern world of policy research and practice in response to a growing disappointment from our criminal justice systems especially in relation to how it treats vulnerable groups such as those experiencing discrimination due to their race gender age etc Therefore it is surprising why equality hasn't featured more prominently in the restorative justice discourse This is what the Editor calls the paradox of restorative justice and the battle field where the future of restorative justice will be fought This edited collection of papers written by leading equality and restorative justice scholars aims to bring to the restorative justice debate a new dimension that is yet to be explored in its own right This refers to issues surrounding equality and restorative justice both at the normative and empirical levels Through an evidence based approach case studies from around the world are presented to develop a narrative and a practical tool for considering equality matters when applying or thinking about restorative justice Particular emphasis was given on gender and domestic

Reconstructing Restorative Justice Philosophy

Theo Gavrielides,Vasso Artinopoulou,2016-04-08 This book takes bold steps in forming much needed philosophical foundations for restorative justice through deconstructing and reconstructing various models of thinking It challenges current debates through the consideration and integration of various disciplines such as law criminology philosophy and human rights into restorative justice theory resulting in the development of new and stimulating arguments Topics covered include the close relationship and convergence of restorative justice and human rights some of the challenges of engagement with human rights the need for the recognition of the teachings of restorative justice at both the theoretical and the applied level the Aristotelian theory on restorative justice the role of restorative justice in schools and in police practice and a discussion of the humanistic African philosophy of Ubuntu With international contributions from various disciplines and through the use of value based research methods the book deconstructs existing concepts and suggests a new conceptual model for restorative justice This unique book will be of interest to academics researchers policy makers and practitioners

Restorative Justice in Transition Kerry Clamp,2013-09-05 This book explores how restorative justice is used and what its potential benefits are in situations where the state has been either explicitly or implicitly involved in human rights abuses Restorative justice is increasingly becoming a popular mechanism to respond to crime in democratic settings and while there is a burgeoning literature on these contexts there is less information that focuses explicitly on its use in nations that have experienced protracted periods of conflict and oppression This book interrogates both macro and micro utilisations of restorative justice including truth commissions criminal justice reform and the development of initiatives by communities and other non state actors The central premise is that the primary potential of restorative justice in responding to international crime should be viewed in terms of the lessons that it provides for problem solving rather than its traditional role as a mechanism or process to respond to conflict Four values are put forward that should frame any restorative approach engagement empowerment reintegration and transformation It is thought that these values provide enough space for local actors to devise their own culturally relevant processes to achieve longstanding peace This book will be of interest to those conducting research in the fields of restorative justice transitional justice as well as criminology in general Developing Restorative Justice Jurisprudence Tony Foley, 2016-04-22 What are the requirements for a just response to criminal wrongdoing Drawing on comparative and empirical analysis of existing models of global practice this book offers an approach aimed at restricting the current limitations of criminal justice process and addressing the current deficiencies Putting restoration squarely alongside other aims of justice responses the author argues that only when restorative questions are taken into account can institutional responses be truly said to be just Using the three primary jurisdictions of Australia New Zealand and Canada the book presents the leading examples of restorative justice practices incorporated in mainstream criminal justice systems from around the world In conclusion the work provides a fresh insight into how today's criminal law might develop in order to bring restoration directly into the mix for tomorrow This book will be of interest to undergraduates postgraduate researchers and lecturers as well as lawyers who work in the field of criminal law criminologists social scientists and philosophers interested in ideas of wrongdoing and criminal justice responses to criminal offending

Accountability in Restorative Justice Declan Roche, 2003 In reviving the idea of an informal approach to conflict resolution the Restorative Justice movement attempts to break out of the predominantly punitive thinking which shapes modern criminal justice Its proponents claim that its guiding ideals personalism participation reparation and reintegration deliver a fairer more effective and more humane justice than does the court system However a simplistic tendency both to extol the virtues of restorative justice and to denigrate all conventional formal approaches risks blinding enthusiasts to the dangers inherent in unchecked participant power as well as to the protection which state institutions and professionals can provide to individuals and communities The procedural safeguard of institutional accountability helps reduce these dangers Examining the experiences of 25 programmes in six countries Accountability in Restorative Justice uncovers a number of neglected overlapping and incomplete types of accountability including the informal type built into deliberations between victims and offenders and their supporters This deliberative accountability can provide a rigorous check for regulating decision making holding state agencies accountable and monitoring the completion of agreements reached between participants This book also considers the role played by formal types of accountability such as external review It suggests a new approach in which judges become more involved in monitoring the quality of deliberation in restorative justice conferences than with enforcing traditional sentencing principles Victims and Restorative Justice Inge Vanfraechem, Daniela Bolívar Fernández, Ivo Aertsen, 2015-05-15 Restorative justice aims to address the consequences of crime by encouraging victims and offenders to communicate and discuss the harm caused by the crime that has been committed In the majority of cases restorative justice is facilitated by direct and indirect dialogue between victims and offenders but it also includes support networks and sometimes involves professionals such as police lawyers social workers or prosecutors and judges In theory the victim is a core participant in restorative justice and the restoration of the harm is a first concern In practice questions arise as to whether the victim is actively involved in the process what restoration may entail whether there is a risk of secondary victimisation and whether the victim is truly at the heart of the restorative response or whether the offender remains the focal point of attention Using a combination of victimological literature and empirical data from a European research project this book considers the role and the position of the victim in restorative justice practices focusing on legislative organisational and institutional frameworks of victim offender mediation and conferencing programmes at a national and local level as well as the victims personal needs and experiences The findings are essential reading for academics and students engaged in the study of justice victimology and law The publication will also be valuable to policymakers and professionals such as social workers lawyers and mediators Human Rights and Restorative Justice Theo Gavrielides, Daniel Van Ness, Colin Harvey, Richard Grimes, Lode Walgrave, Gerry Johnstone, Maria Hadjipavlou, Tunde Andrea Barabas, Vaso Artinopoulou, 2018-04-01 Human rights and restorative justice are rarely brought under the same spotlight despite their normative similarities In fact this gap becomes even more apparent when put in the context of policy and practice internationally Firstly there is a developing gap between public perception and evidence based depiction of crime Secondly scholarly debates are rarely reflected in criminal justice policy and legislation This failure has an impact on recidivism the spiralling costs of penal interventions but most importantly on how we view our interpersonal and inter communal relationships This unique collection of papers brings together international leading experts in human rights and restorative justice to address a gap in the literature From reconstructing and restorative human rights for restorative justice to addressing issues such as the standardisation of restorative justice this edited volume is a must read for researchers practitioners and campaigners To cite this ebook Gavrielides T 2018 Human Rights and Restorative Justice London RJ4All Publications ISBN 978 1 911634 00 3 DOI 10 13140 RG 2 2 23257 90729 By Theo Gavrielides Author Daniel Van Ness Author Colin Harvey Author Richard Grimes Author Lode Walgrave Author Gerry Johnstone Author Maria Hadjipavlou Author Tunde Andrea Barabas Author Vaso Artinopoulou Author Table of content Introduction Adjunct Professor at the Centre for Restorative Justice of Simon Fraser University Visiting Professor at Buckinghamshire New University Justice education and human rights partnerships policies and progress in the UK Prof Richard Grimes Faculty of Law Charles
