

Ethnic Restructuring

- ▶ Immigration has various distributional effects—immigration causes spatial as well as social and occupational redistribution of population.
- ▶ The population of Israel is gradually conglomerating in the center of the country. However, ethnic minorities do not follow the same course; rather, they take specific routes in the migration system. Jews and persons not classified by religion, who are densely interwoven with the Jews, tend to be concentrated in the Central district. Moslems migrate to the Jerusalem district through processes of rural-urban transition, modernization, and integration into Israeli and/or Palestinian societies. The Druze people tend to stay in the Northern district. Thus, different ethnic groups have different spatial strategies and can react in dissimilar ways to the entrance of immigrants.
- ▶ This work tries to estimate some spatial aspects of ethnic restructuring—namely, links between the entrance of immigrants from the USSR/FSU and changes in the ethnic spatial structure of the Israeli Jews.

Restructuring for Ethnic Peace Majid Tehranian, 1991 This volume represents the outcome of a series of seven public forums held at the University of Hawaii on problems of ethnic peace The papers included cover such topics as academic freedom and responsibility affirmative action and grievances legacies of colonialism and racism dynamics of class ethnicity culture and education and finally the search for ethnic peace in Hawaii Panelist presentations are as follows Remarks on the Limits of Academic Freedom Kenneth Kipnis The Politics of Academic Freedom as the Politics of White Racism Haunani Kay Trask Discursive Politics Kathy E Ferguson The Responsibilities of the Academic Peter Manicas Native Hawaiian Students and the Role of the University Kaleimomi Olani Decker Sexual Harassment and the University's Responsibility Susan Hippensteele The University's Attitude Toward Students Robert Wisotzkey The Legacy of Racism and the Role of the University Manfred Henningsen Which Side Are You On David E Stannard The Politics of Survival Kathryn Waddell Takara The Invalidity of the Concept of Race Emanuel J Drechsel The Legacy of Colonialism and the Role of the University A Native Hawaiian Point of View Lilikala Kame eleihiwa A Journey into the Mind and Body of a Colonial Institution Farideh Farhi To Challenge Colonial Structures and Preserve the Integrity of Place The Unique Potential Role of the University Noel Kent Colonialism at the University of Hawaii The Experience of a Pacific Island Student David Welchman Gegeo Academic Freedom Majid Tehranian The University's Responsibility toward Students Mary Tiles Racism and the University The Search for Ethnic Peace Franklin S Odo The Search for Ethnic Peace in Hawaii Donald M Topping A Native Hawaiian Basis for University Restructuring Alohilani Kuala Perspectives on Racism Steven Ito Immigrants and Racism Sheila Forman Baha i Faith and Ethnic Peace Fariba Piroozmandi and Restructuring for Ethnic Peace at the University of Hawaii Luciano Minerbi The report also includes roundtable reports from a forum on class ethnic identity culture and education in Hawaii Appendices include documents to assist in understanding references made in the papers to specific people and events on the University of Hawaii campus References accompany some papers GLR Resources in Education ,1994 Ibss: Political Science: 1991 British Library of Political and Economic Science,1993 IBSS is the essential tool for librarians university departments research institutions and any public or private institution whose work requires access to up to date and comprehensive knowledge of the social sciences Communication and Culture in War and Peace Colleen Roach,1993-02-01 Roach provides an excellent account of the contributions of feminist peace researchers to the analysis of cultural militarism and its twin cultural violence against women Altogether this book is a worthy enterprise that will help both activists and scholars gain a more in depth understanding of the barriers to change erected by the media's use of information technology and will be useful in developing scenarios and strategies for the creative use of that technology for peaceful social transformation Elise Boulding in Media Development Does the media have a perverse fascination with war and violence Do television newspapers and magazines neglect the forces of peace in favor of the more dramatic war machines thereby amplifying the guns rather than muting them If so how does media coverage reflect the culture for which it works By exploring the role of both culture and mass media this volume fills a crucial void in the study of war and peace Outstanding scholars provide a history and overview of critical mass media research and investigate emerging issues dealing with the ongoing debate over communication in war and peace Several chapters deal specifically with the role of communication culture in the Gulf War while others discuss more general themes including the military industrial communication complex cultural imperialism and transnational control of communication Many of the essays offer a uniquely feminist reading of war and peace a perspective typically unacknowledged in mainstream communication work This timely book also weaves peripheral concerns like multiculturalism international communication law women and peace and communication technology into the primary themes of media and war The research and practical information given here will be useful for courses in peace and conflict studies international mass communication and intercultural communication Professionals in international relations negotiations and the media will find this book to be both fascinating and illuminating Original research on the coverage of disarmament stories and peace issues in Canadian dailies and Vincent Mosco s excellent blueprint for converting the military machine to a peace system give Roach s work practical and positive dimensions Abstracts at the beginning of the chapters full bibliographies and a preface by the father of peace studies Johan Galtung add to the importance of this book Recommended for anyone interested in the use minuses of mass media to cover up explain promote governmental efforts to keep situations tense and warlike

Choice Communication and Culture in War and Peace provides a strategic road map for scholarly and citizen action This is tightly edited passionately and convincingly argued and a broadly conceived book It fills a large gap and is likely to be a widely used seminal resource and text for some time to come George Gerbner Professor of Communication and Dean Emeritus University of Pennsylvania

Academic Freedom Stephen H. Aby, James Kuhn, 2000-02-28 The freedom of academics to pursue knowledge and truth in their research writing and teaching is a fundamental principle of contemporary higher education in the United States But this freedom has been hard won and regularly abridged reinterpreted and violated Academic freedom has been central to many issues and controversies in higher education and has thus generated literature in a variety of disciplines This book provides access to that literature Included are entries for nearly 500 books chapters articles reports web sites and other sources of information about academic freedom Each entry includes a descriptive annotation and the entries are grouped in topical chapters While most of the works cited were published since the 1940 American Association of University Professors Statement of Principles on Academic Freedom and Tenure some older studies have also been included Though the volume focuses primarily on higher education in the U S it also includes a chapter on academic freedom in other countries

Asian-american Education Meyer Weinberg, 2012-12-06 Asian American Education Historical Background and Current Realities fills a gap in the study of the social and historical experiences of Asians in U S schools It is the first historical work to provide American readers with information about highly individual ethnic groups rather than viewing distinctly different groups as one vague global entity such as Asians The people who populate each chapter are portrayed as active participants in their history rather than as passive victims of their culture Each of the twelve country specific chapters begins with a description of the kind of education received in the home country including how widely available it was how equal or unequal the society was and what were the circumstances under which the emigration of children from the country occurred The latter part of each of these chapters deals with the education these children have received in the United States Throughout the book instead of dwelling on a relatively narrow range of children who perform spectacularly well the author tries to discover the educational situation typical among average students The order of chapters is roughly chronological in terms of when the first sizable numbers of immigrants came from a specific country

Black Women in the Academy Sheila T. Gregory, 1999 This revised and updated edition of Black Women in the Academy adds updated data on the status of Black faculty women a forty four page bibliography and a new chapter on the status of international faculty women from twenty different countries to the only study of the decisions of African American women to remain in return to or voluntarily leave the academy Sheila Gregory creates a conceptual framework from economic psychosocial and job satisfaction theories to construct a model to explain the factors that affect the decision patterns influencing career mobility She uses a survey of the members of the Association of Black Women in Higher Education to illustrate to what degree the designated variables predict decision patterns Gregory's analysis focuses on the women who remained in the academy noting that those who did remain were usually successful high achievers who managed to overcome numerous obstacles involving career and family The author also provides an outline detailing how to attract and retain talented Black women scholars along with possible interventions that might help interinstitutional mobility

From a Native Daughter Haunani-Kay Trask, 2021-05-25 Since its publication in 1993 From a Native Daughter a provocative well reasoned attack against the rampant abuse of Native Hawaiian rights institutional racism and gender discrimination has generated heated debates in Hawai'i and throughout the world This 1999 revised work published by University of Hawai'i Press includes material that builds on issues and concerns raised in the first edition Native Hawaiian student organizing at the University of Hawai'i the master plan of the Native Hawaiian self governing organization Ka Lahui Hawai'i and its platform on the four political arenas of sovereignty the 1989 Hawai'i declaration of the Hawai'i ecumenical coalition on tourism and a typology on racism and imperialism Brief introductions to each of the previously published essays brings them up to date and situates them in the current Native Hawaiian rights discussion
