Restructuring Personnel Selection Frederick C. Wendel, Ronald Joekel, 1991 The Portfolio Approach to Assessment Emily Grady, 1992 The shortcomings of standardized testing as the predominant form of student assessment in the United States are reviewed and the use and potential benefits of portfolio assessment are explored Children's educational experiences and their future job prospects and standards of living are being decided by test scores Moreover these test scores may be unfair or biased against some students Instead of more tests we need a new attitude toward assessment one that encourages a variety of assessments Portfolio assessment through collections of student works can be an encompassing format for this new philosophy Before considering what a portfolio should contain it is important to establish the purpose of the assessment The experiences of Vermont illustrate the development of a portfolio assessment with consistent standards Examples of guidelines for mathematics and language arts portfolios make it clear that it is possible to establish consistent practices It is also necessary to reflect on the portfolio occasionally using self evaluations and direct questions or profiles Educators also find portfolios useful tools for preservice teachers Portfolio assessment can be the framework for a new curricular structure that integrates assessment into the learning loop SLD Restructuring an Urban High School Donn Weinholtz, 1991 This booklet challenges assumptions about the hopelessness of educational reform in urban high schools by presenting the stories of 1 Theodore Sizer's Coalition of Essential Schools and 2 Metro High School in Cedar Rapids Iowa a school that participates in the Coalition Following an introduction the Coalition of Essential Schools program is described including a listing of nine common principles for the Coalition of Essential Schools and data on attendance academic performance discipline and the pursuit of higher education the success of Coalition schools is indicated Another section describes the experiences the students the school climate and the faculty of Metro High School which joined the Coalition in 1985 A section on the school administrators describes what was originally supervision by three lead teachers and the current on site principal who functions much as a lead teacher A section on academics describes a curriculum that has focused on basic skills and practical electives with an increasing emphasis on accelerated academic coursework in recent years Also described are Metro High School's voademics program which helps students explore career choices and a report of data indicating positive outcomes at this school A concluding section offers reflections on the Metro High School experience and final thoughts Fourteen references are included JB Initiating Restructuring at the School Site Robert J. McCarthy, 1991

Restructuring Through School Redesign Jerry Villars, 1991 Restructuring Beginning Reading with the Reading Recovery Approach Gay Su Pinnell, 1991 Suggesting that Reading Recovery belongs on the restructuring agenda of American education this booklet introduces educators and others to how Reading Recovery works how teachers are trained to use the program and how it can be implemented in a school or district Sections of the booklet are Introduction Overview of Reading Recovery How Reading Recovery Works Personnel Roles in Reading Recovery Getting Started and Reading Recovery as a

Systematic Intervention RS Restructuring Early Childhood Education Michael F. Kelley, Elaine Surbeck, 1991 The first of six national educational goals proclaimed by President Bush to be accomplished by the year 2000 is that all children will start school ready to learn This booklet examines this goal in terms of what it will take to ensure that all children develop the capacities or readiness to be successful in school In the introduction it is asserted that for children and families to succeed in the lifelong process of learning early childhood experiences both in and out of the home must be as personalized as possible The first chapter looks at the early childhood years and the concept of school readiness The second chapter explains why restructuring rather than reform of early childhood education is needed A framework for providing comprehensive intervention services is discussed in the third chapter The fourth chapter profiles programs in Missouri Minnesota and California that seek to broaden the role of schools in early childhood education The fifth chapter examines curriculum issues intrinsic to a restructuring of early childhood education The sixth chapter deals with appropriate methods for child assessment In a concluding section it is argued that services for children and families be coordinated and that early childhood education be restructured to become personalized and family centered HTH Implementing the Disabilities Acts Patricia F. First, Joan L. Curcio, 1993 This booklet presents information helpful in implementing laws intended to extend full societal participation to individuals with disabilities Information concerning the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act of 1990 IDEA addresses the law s major provisions provisions for medically fragile children amendments and modifications and case law related to least restrictive environment A discussion of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 reviews major provisions specific titles enforcement and remedies and the impact on schools Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 is also briefly described focusing on its impact on schools The pamphlet concludes that schools and school districts that have a commitment to inclusive education for all children will have no difficulty in complying with the requirements of these three laws JDD Using Paraeducators Effectively in the Classroom Anna Lou Pickett, Stanley F. Vasa, Allen L. Steckelberg, 1993 Discusses the growing role of paraprofessionals in the classroom National Forum of Educational Administration and Supervision Journal, 1994 Teaching for Multiple Intelligences David G. Lazear, 1992 Over the past 50 years brain researchers have stated that human beings probably use less than 1 percent of the brain s potential and research findings about human intelligence have transformed almost all previous definitions of intelligence This booklet addresses the following key findings in intelligence research intelligence is not fixed or static intelligence can be learned and taught and intelligence is a multidimensional phenomenon that occurs at multiple levels of the brain mind body system After this discussion of the research the publication is divided into five parts 1 Overview of the Seven Intelligences verbal linguistic logical mathematical visual spatial body kinesthetic musical rhythmic interpersonal intelligence and intrapersonal intelligence 2 Teaching for Multiple Intelligences A New Look at the Curriculum includes an exercise on how one can teach for multiple intelligences in one s curriculum 3 New Instructional Methods for Teaching with Multiple Intelligences 4
