Other South Hosam Aboul-Ela, 2007-10-28 Hosam Aboul Ela provides a startlingly original perspective on Faulkner examining his work in the transnational context of the Global South the geopolitical and economic dynamics of the post Reconstruction period that link the American South to the larger colonial tradition Other South thus raises new questions as to the scope and attitude of Faulkner's project positioning Faulkner's work as an inherent critique of colonialism and emphasizing a more specific conceptualization of coloniality Engaging with ideas and thinkers from the former colonies Aboul Ela draws on an understanding of economics social structures and the colonial neocolonial status of the Third World stepping outside the preconceptions of current postcolonial studies to offer a fresh perspective on our shared literary heritage and a new look at an iconic literary figure

Plant-Thinking Michael Marder, 2013-02-19 The margins of philosophy are populated by non human non animal living beings including plants While contemporary philosophers tend to refrain from raising ontological and ethical concerns with vegetal life Michael Marder puts this life at the forefront of the current deconstruction of metaphysics He identifies the existential features of plant behavior and the vegetal heritage of human thought so as to affirm the potential of vegetation to resist the logic of totalization and to exceed the narrow confines of instrumentality Reconstructing the life of plants after metaphysics Marder focuses on their unique temporality freedom and material knowledge or wisdom In his formulation plant thinking is the non cognitive non ideational and non imagistic mode of thinking proper to plants as much as the process of bringing human thought itself back to its roots and rendering it plantlike diversity race and racism have been subject to discussion in American Studies departments at German universities for many years. It appears that especially in the past few decades ethnic minorities and new immigrants have increasingly become objects of scholarly inquiry. Such research questions focus on the U S and other traditionally multicultural societies that have emerged out of historical situations shaped by settler colonialism slavery and or large scale immigration. Paradoxically these studies have overwhelmingly been conducted by white scholars born in Germany and holding German citizenship. Scholars with actual experience of racial discrimination have remained largely unheard. Departing from a critique of practices employed by the German branch of American Studies the volume offers self reflective approaches by scholars from different fields in the German Humanities. It thereby seeks to provide a solid basis for thorough and candid discussions of the mechanisms behind and the implications of racialized power relations in the German Humanities and German society at large.
