Rethinking The Beloved Communi:

Church, Community and Power Roy Kearsley, 2016-05-23 In the era of post Christendom how can church as a sociological reality be switched on to the destructive dangers yet constructive possibilities of power flowing in and around its community Attuned to the current distrust of church power this book creatively works out responses that could turn painful censure into a re visioning of church power relations helped by neglected critical studies The approach exposes a complexity to power and filters that insight into a theology of church The book shows how lessons are available for a religious community from post modern philosopher Michel Foucault and from recent feminism The topic of power has universal importance in the study of religion though the response to analysis and critique in this book is drawn specifically from Christian sources Kearsley concludes with an exploration for a future renovated self critical authentic and growing community sensitive to power while remaining in line with classic Christianity

The Routledge Companion to the Christian Church Gerard Mannion, Lewis S. Mudge, 2007-12-12 The nature and story of the Christian church is immensely important to theology students and scholars alike Written by an international team of distinguished scholars this comprehensive book introduces students to the fundamental historical systematic moral and ecclesiological aspects of the study of the church as well as serving as a resource for scholars engaging in ecclesiological debates on a wide variety of issues It divides into six parts the church in its historical context the different denominational traditions global perspectives methods and debates in ecclesiology key concepts and themes ecclesiology and other disciplines social sciences philosophy literature and film Authoritative accessible and easily navigable this book is indispensable for everyone interested in the nature and history of the Christian Church

Encountering Cruelty: The Fracture of the Human Heart Michael R. Trice, 2011-04-21 Interest in recent years in reconciliation and conflict transformation has witnessed a great deal of attention to building a future through forgiveness and preventative measures in order to impede egregious wrongdoing This effort for a reconciled future is absent reflection on the nature of cruelty Cruelty has always been apparent in massive acts of wrongdoing and yet is repeatedly concealed in our assessment of the acts themselves This book is a theologically honest and deep structure exploration of cruelty in its personal communal and institutional encounters in human life Drawing on Nietzsche's challenge of cruelty to the western tradition the work offers a comprehensive study of how cruelty undermines care trust respect and justice all those elements of human reciprocity that mark our lives as interdependent beings The work concludes with a tightly written Epilogue on interpreting the theological meaning and accessibility of reconciliation today

An/Other Praxis Herry M. Mukdani, 2013-12-01 Today's ecclesial praxis has to add something to human capacity in order for the church to envision itself whole This book addresses multiple struggles as creative acts theologically for rethinking a possibly constructive ecclesial praxis that addresses God's new creation in its relation to God's people By examining it in broader paradigms Herry Mukdani proposes an Other praxis as a critical option for ecclesial freedom An

Other Praxis searches not only new impulses for theological practices but the extension of voices from the margins that have contributed both to fresh ideas and to new opportunities for life. It also demands ecclesial praxis to put all existing voices into account and responsibly rediscover the subaltern or subordinated others. Thus this praxis helps the subaltern communities of faith claim their own identities as border crossers in the midst of cultural and religious plurality. They will be active subjects of new theological productions from and for the church. They are able to prove theological creativity possible today that expands beyond its ecclesial limits. Another Praxis will be of interest to readers not merely because they want to learn something beyond the existing forms of praxis. Rather it will always give them refreshing energies capable of making rich and sometimes risky responses to the ministry possible and real. It will also give them attitude and perspective to improve a culturally diverse conversation in theology and thus it adds diversity in ministry and leadership in today's church.

Evolution of a Ucc Style: Randi J. Walker, 2005-06-01. The Evolution of a UCC Style. Essays in the History, Ecclesiology and Culture of the United Church of Christ focuses on the development of themes that define the United Church of Christ. UCC. Randi Walker examines the ethos and culture of the UCC rather than simply describing its structures and addresses the themes of inclusiveness, diversity of theological heritage, Reformation, Enlightenment, and Pietism, congregational polity, the one and the many, liberal theological approach, and ecumenical spirit. Walker also takes a look at the tensions and boundaries contained within each theme.

Working with Excluded Populations in HIV Carmen Logie, 2021-07-05. This book, written decades into the HIV epidemic, reflects critically on the idea that the socially excluded populations often focused on in HIV research are in fact difficult to access and reach. The author broadly applies the concept of hard to reach to characterize populations that researchers find difficult to engage with. Social factors that produce marginalization and ultimately result in people choosing not to engage in research are not captured by the concept of hard to reach. Limited attention has focused on how researchers can address the social factors that result in decisions to not engage in research. Disrupting the ways in which people are conceptualized as hard to reach so as to refocus on transforming social systems and personal values, beliefs, and approaches is understudied. This book uses case examples based on HIV research with Indigenous youth, internally displaced women, LGBTQ communities in the Global North and Global South, and persons at the intersection of these identities to identify successful approaches to working with marginalized and often vulnerable communities and groups. The chapters signal the need for attention to five key social factors when developing successful approaches: context and storytelling, cultural humility, critical hope, imagination and possibility, and love, intimate inquiry, and the beloved community. If nations, individuals, and communities are to address the epidemic in a sustainable and impactful way.

Reasonable Radical? Ian S. Markham, Joshua Daniel, 2018-01-16 One of the most interesting voices in the Academy and the Church today is Martyn Percy Percy the Dean of Christ Church Oxford and a leading voice in the Anglican Communion is both theologically orthodox yet deeply unconventional While remaining engaged in the scholarly community Percy writes with clarity and passion on topics that range from ecclesiology to music from sexuality to the Trinity from advertising to ministerial training he is a polymath This book is two books in one The first half contains a series of articles written both by church leaders and academics that serve as substantial critical introductions to Percy s thought In the second half the reader gets to hear from Percy himself in a collection of wide ranging material from his corpus While producing a dialectical engagement of some depth as Percy offers written responses to his interlocutors this volume should prove useful for a variety of communities beyond academic circles especially ones engaged with contemporary issues facing ecclesiology churches and the wider Anglican Communion

Religious Pluralism in the Diaspora Pratap Kumar, 2006-09-01 This book brings together the varied experiences of different cultural groups in their Diaspora context and provides insight into the various issues they have to deal with The content of the book is divided into the following broad categories Chinese Experience Japanese Brazilian and Brazilian Experience South Asian Experience Impact of 9 11 on Muslim Religious Pluralism and Issues of Religious Pluralism in the

Diaspora While keeping theory to a minimum the book focuses on case studies in the hope this will facilitate scholars to engage in further theoretical work on the phenomenon of religious pluralism in the Diaspora and in answering important questions on how religious pluralism can be conceptualised and which issues need to be addressed in doing so The material is also useful for comparative studies in the academic study of religion

Church in China: Faith, Ethics, Structure

Aiming Wang, 2009 The Protestant Church in China is growing very fast However the role of the Church in society is still fragile and marginal The Church needs a strong ethical and structural development This study analyses the theological ethical and ecclesiological heritage of the Reformation and it shows how this can build the foundation for the future of the Church in China Four models serve as orientation the Reformers Luther and Calvin and the theologians Bonhoeffer and Barth in the 20th century with their vision of Christian faith and a humane society The critical analysis of the missionary heritage since the 19th century shows its contribution for the acceptance of the tradition of the Reformation for the growing Church in China The author combines this theological and ethical perspective with the inculturation in the strong ethical tradition of the Chinese culture He proposes the encounter between the spirituality of the Western culture and that of the traditional culture of China through the relationship with Confucianism The book also offers elements for the dialogue around modern values such as human rights and civil society In this dialogue Chinese Protestantism can play more and more an important role

Rendering the Word in Theological Hermeneutics Mark Alan Bowald, 2016-04-08 This book proposes an original typology for grasping the differences between diverse types of biblical interpretation fashioned in a triangle around a major theological and philosophical lacuna the relation between divine and human action Despite their purported concern for reading God's word most modern and postmodern approaches to biblical interpretation do not seriously consider the role of divine agency as having a real influence in and on the process of reading Scripture Mark Bowald seeks to correct and clarify this deficiency by demonstrating the inevitable role that divine agency plays in contemporary proposals in relation to human agency enacted in the composition of the biblical text and the reader This book presents an important contribution to the emerging field of theological hermeneutics Bowald discusses in depth the hermeneutics of George Lindbeck Hans Frei Kevin Vanhoozer Francis Watson Stephen Fowl David Kelsey Werner Jeanrond Karl Barth James K A Smith and Nicholas Wolterstorff

Engaging with Contemporary Culture Martyn Percy, 2016-04-29 Theology and the churches are often considered to be at the margins of contemporary culture frequently struggling for identity and attention In this important new book Martyn Percy argues that a rich form of practical theological engagement is needed if the churches are to comprehend their situation in the modern world thereby enabling them to engage more confidently with society Drawing on a range of perspectives in the religion culture debate and from case studies in the USA and Europe the book explores the myriad of ways in which culture is now shaping contemporary Christianity and how vital an appreciation of this dynamic is for the self understanding of churches and theology This book explores the crucial and continuing contribution that theology can make to public life in an era that is often perceived to be dominated by consumerism and secularity It will especially appeal to scholars of contemporary religion practical theologians and all those who are engaged in ministerial formation

Rethinking the Beloved Community Lewis Seymour Mudge,2001 This book drawing for its title upon Josiah Royce s well known turn of phrase presents twelve essays written over forty years of the author s life which together see ecclesiology as a form of hermeneutical social theory intelligible both to theologians and scholars in the human sciences This perspective is presented as one in which members of Christian communions and others of good will can wrestle in common with contemporary issues of human life in a context open to transcendence The book is arranged in five parts Social Reality Hermeneutics Ecclesiogenesis Civil Society and Householding An analytical introduction by the author links the essays situationally and conceptually The principal interlocutors in addition to Royce are Paul Ricoeur Alfred Schutz Ernst Troeltsch Dietrich Bonhoeffer G W F Hegel Robert Bellah John Rawls and Jürgen Habermas The Least of These Anthony E.

Rethinking Postmodernism(s) Katrin Amian,2008 Rethinking Postmodernism s revisits three historical sites of American literary postmodernism the early postmodernism of Thomas Pynchon s V 1961 the emancipatory postmodernism of Toni Morrison s Beloved 1987 and the late or post postmodernism of Jonathan Safran Foer s Everything Is Illuminated 2002 For the first time it confronts these texts with the pragmatist philosophy of Charles Sanders Peirce staging a conceptual dialogue between pragmatism and postmodernism that historicizes and recontextualizes customary readings of postmodern fiction The book is a must read for all interested in current reassessments of literary postmodernism in new critical dialogues between seminal postmodern texts and in recent attempts to theorize the post postmodern moment Common Worlds Carl A. Maida,2018-11-23

Common Worlds Paths Toward Sustainable Urbanism explores expert and lay approaches to sustainable urbanism focusing on the politics and civic aesthetics of space and place project based learning and its consequences for the life chances of youth and the prospect of intergenerational civic engagement Extended case studies of sustainable urbanism describe areas undergoing demographic and socioeconomic change over the two decades since the end of the Cold War The case studies based upon participatory action research are framed through the lens of transformational anthropology which focuses on the structural factors and power relationships that contribute to social and economic disparities within a population This approach is based upon principles of personal and group transformation and it holds researchers responsible for collaborating with communities and groups in co constructing research thereby enhancing the constituents ability to carry out subsequent transformational change studies rooted in and shaped by the local community Each case also focuses on a movement in support of aesthetic improvement including preservation conservation and restoration efforts on behalf of parkland open space agricultural land and marine wetlands in the face of external threats to their sustainability

Strategic Shakespeare Ariane M. Balizet, Natalie K. Eschenbaum, Marcela Kostihová, 2025-05-30 Strategic Shakespeare demonstrates the value of humanities trained scholars as leaders in higher education It features contributions from Renaissance and Shakespearean scholars in leadership roles in North American higher education who collectively aim to leverage traditional assumptions about Shakespeare in the service of a more inclusive and sustainable academy Making a powerful case for the liberal arts the contributors demonstrate ways in which training in the humanities creates a baseline of skills in collaboration deep listening tolerance for ambiguity and a range of positionalities They also illustrate an astute understanding of disparate data sets persuasive storytelling and a commitment to liberal arts education As this innovative collection showcases these skills are crucial in the current climate as higher education struggles with declining enrolments decreasing budgets growing public distrust and often hostile legislative oversight Additionally the skills help us navigate a rapidly shifting landscape of learning in the aftermath of the COVID 19 pandemic and entry of generative artificial intelligence AI to the public sphere The collection presents theoretical arguments case studies personal narratives and practical advice related to how humanities trained scholars have led and must continue to lead the academy through transformative change Strategic Shakespeare is an essential tool for anyone interested in learning from university leaders who have made good things happen on their campuses in their communities and in the profession It celebrates and foregrounds the core adaptive skills that humanities scholars bring to the table showcasing their unique predisposition for successful academic leadership during a time of unprecedented change
