J. Keating,2012-10-04 The Haunted Study a rare example of a work of literary history that is genuinely interdisciplinary explores how the leading novelists of the late Victorian and Edwardian periods came to develop so many of the attitudes that are now generally accepted as characteristically modern The writing of fiction is not treated as though it exists in some kind of isolation but is shown to be intimately related to other forms of social activity Conrad James Meredith and their immediate modernist successors Joyce Lawrence and Woolf may now seem to be set apart in a variety of crucial ways from say Ouida and Marie Corelli or even Gissing Wells and Bennett but all of them worked within the same rapidly changing society and were unavoidably influenced by its dominant economic political and cultural concerns These influences were not peripheral

but central and formative They profoundly affected the creation of a commercially fragmented culture as well as the nature of fiction within that culture The Haunted Study covers an exceptionally large number of authors from the critically despised to the critically admired and examines the impact on their work of such factors as the professionalisation of literature the earning power of authors the emergence of new kinds of readers and disturbingly present throughout the whole period fundamental democratic change      Official Gazette of the United States Patent and Trademark Office ,1990      World Classics Perfection Lrn,1987-09 Presents a collection of eight adapted classics including The Voyages of Sindbad the Sailor Diary of a Madman and The Nightingale and provides footnotes information about the author and facts into the author and his work      Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record of British and Foreign Literature ,1901      Library Books for High Schools ,1918      Bulletin ,1917      Bulletin United States.
