Far From the Tree Andrew Solomon, 2012-11-13 From the National Book Award winning author of the brave deeply humane open minded critically informed and poetic The New York Times The Noonday Demon comes a book about the consequences of extreme personal and cultural differences between parents and children From the National Book Award winning author of The Noonday Demon An Atlas of Depression comes a monumental new work a decade in the writing about family In Far from the Tree Andrew Solomon tells the stories of parents who not only learn to deal with their exceptional children but also find profound meaning in doing so Solomon's startling proposition is that diversity is what unites us all. He writes about families coping with deafness dwarfism Down syndrome autism schizophrenia multiple severe disabilities with children who are prodigies who are conceived in rape who become criminals who are transgender. While each of these characteristics is potentially isolating the experience of difference within families is universal as are the triumphs of love. Solomon documents in every chapter. All parenting turns on a crucial question to what extent parents should accept their children for who they are and to what extent they should help them become their best selves. Drawing on forty thousand pages of interview transcripts with more than three hundred families Solomon mines the eloquence of ordinary people facing extreme challenges. Whether considering prenatal screening for genetic disorders cochlear implants for the deaf or gender reassignment surgery for transgender people Solomon narrates a universal struggle toward compassion. Many families grow closer through caring for a challenging child most discover supportive communities of others similarly affected some are inspired to become advocates and activists celebrating the very conditions they once feared. Woven into their courageous and affirming stories is Solomon's journey to accepting his own identity which culminated in his midlife decision influenced by this research to become a parent. Elegantly reported by a spectacularly original thinker Far from the Tree explores themes of generosity acceptance and tolerance all rooted in the insight that love can transcend every prejudice. This crucial and revelatory book expands our definition of what it is to be human.

The Disability Rights Movement Doris Fleischer, Fleischer Doris Zames, 2012 The struggle for disability rights in the U.S.

The Disability Studies Reader Lennard J. Davis, 2016-10-19 The fifth edition of The Disability Studies Reader addresses the post identity theoretical landscape by emphasizing questions of interdependency and independence the human animal relationship and issues around the construction or materiality of gender the body and sexuality. Selections explore the underlying biases of medical and scientific experiments and explode the binary of the sound and the diseased mind. The collection addresses physical disabilities but as always investigates issues around pain mental disability and invisible disabilities as well. Featuring a new generation of scholars who are dealing with the most current issues the fifth edition continues the Reader's tradition of remaining timely urgent and critical.

Adelaide Festival 60 Years Catherine McKinnon, 2020-02-05 The Adelaide Festival is as much shaped by people and place as it in turn shapes people and place its identity is a weird and wild shifting thing. It is not owned by one individual but belongs to everyone. Adelaide Festival 60 Years is an astounding cacophony of images and tales that revel in the life of the Festival since its founding in 1960 remembering what it was anticipating what it might be. The tales are told by the many choreographers actors singers artistic directors audience members writers lighting designers arts administrators curators and more. Stunning full colour photography captures moments in time both sweeping and intimate woven together to form an important story of culture and ideas across 60 years of history and 35 iconic festivals.

The Social Condition of Deaf People Sara Trovato, Anna Folchi, 2022-05-09 This book is about the social condition of Deaf people told through a Deaf woman's autobiography and a series of essays investigating how hearing societies relate to Deaf people Michel Foucault described the powerful one as the beholder who is not seen This is why a Deaf woman s perspective is important Minorities that we don t even suspect we have power over observe us in turn Majorities exert power over minorities by influencing the environment and institutions that simplify or hinder lives language mindsets representations norms the use of professional power Based on data collected by Eurostat this volume provides the first discussion of statistics on the condition of Deaf people in a series of European countries concerning education labor gender This creates a new opportunity to discuss inequalities on the basis of data The case studies in this volume reconstruct untold moments of great advancement in Deaf history successful didactics supporting bilingualism the reasons why Deaf empowerment for and by Deaf people does and does not succeed A work of empowerment is effective if it acts on a double level the community to be empowered and society at large resulting in a transformation of society as a whole This book provides instruments to work towards such a transformation

Romantic Things Mary Jacobus, 2012-09-01 Our thoughts are shaped as much by what things make of us as by what we make of them Lyric poetry is especially concerned with things and their relationship to thought sense and understanding In Romantic Things Mary Jacobus explores the world of objects and phenomena in nature as expressed in Romantic poetry alongside the theme of sentience and sensory deprivation in literature and art Jacobus discusses objects and attributes that test our perceptions and preoccupy both Romantic poetry and modern philosophy John Clare John Constable Rainer Maria Rilke W G Sebald and Gerhard Richter make appearances around the central figure of William Wordsworth as Jacobus explores trees rocks clouds breath sleep deafness and blindness in their work While she thinks through these things she is assisted by the writings of Maurice Merleau Ponty Jacques Derrida and Jean Luc Nancy Helping us think more deeply about things that are at once visible and invisible seen and unseen felt and unfeeling Romantic Things opens our eyes to what has been previously overlooked in lyric and Romantic poetry
