Dark Matters: Delusions, Illusions, Lost Causes and Absurdities in Modern America David Bouchier, 2019-09-25 The twenty first century was never supposed to look like this The second half of the twentieth century was a self conscious advertisement for the wonderful twenty first when America would lead the rest of the world into an affluent peaceful technological Utopia Scientists futurologists and visionaries promised a future without hunger or want without fear of illness or pain or even death where the human race would spread its genius out to the stars and science would bring Utopia to earth In the twenty first century we were promised a leisure society of short work weeks and long vacations pollution free transportation an end to world food shortages population problems nationalism and war The twenty first century was held out as the glittering prize for surviving the tribulations of the twentieth Now we have arrived in the second decade of this twenty first century paradise How does it look so far It looks like hell Lost and Found in America Tokunbo

Cinema Debbie C. Olson, Andrew Scahill, 2012-05-18 Children have been a part of the cinematic landscape since the silent film era yet children are rarely a part of the theoretical landscape of film analysis Lost and Othered Children in Contemporary Cinema edited by Debbie C Olson and Andrew Scahill seeks to remedy that oversight Throughout the over one hundred year history of cinema the image of the child has been inextricably bound to filmic storytelling and has been equally bound to notions of romantic innocence and purity This collection reveals however that there is a body of work that provides a counter note of darkness to the traditional portraits of sweetness and light Particularly since the mid twentieth century there are a growing number of cinematic works that depict childhood has as a site of knowingness despair sexuality death and madness Lost and Othered Children in Contemporary Cinema challenges notions of the innocent child through an exploration of the dark side of childhood in contemporary cinema The contributors to this multidisciplinary study offer a global perspective that explores the multiple conditions of marginalized childhood as cinematically imagined within political geographical sociological and cultural contexts 100 Entertainers Who Changed America Robert C.
