Lourdes Portillo:

Lourdes Portillo Rosa Linda Fregoso, 2014-02-19 Filmmaker Lourdes Portillo sees her mission as channeling the hopes and dreams of a people. Clearly political commitment has inspired her choice of subjects. With themes ranging from state repression to AIDS, Portillo's films include Después del Terremoto, the Oscar-nominated Las Madres (The Mothers of the Plaza de Mayo), La Ofrenda (The Days of the Dead), The Devil Never Sleeps, and Corpus A Home Movie for Selena. The first study of Portillo and her films, this collection is collaborative and multifaceted in approach, emphasizing aspects of authorial creativity, audience reception, and production processes typically hidden from view. Rosa Linda Fregoso, the volume editor, has organized the book into three parts: interviews by Fregoso and Kathleen Newman and B. Ruby Rich; critical perspectives; essays by Fregoso, Yvonne Yarbro Bejarano, Sylvie Thoudard, Norma Iglesias, and Barbara McBane; and production materials: screenplays, script notes, storyboards, etc. This innovative collection provides inside information on the challenges of making independent films. By describing the production constraints Portillo has surmounted, Fregoso deepens our appreciation of this gifted filmmaker's life, her struggles, and the evolution of her art. The Force of Witness, Rosa-Linda Fregoso, 2023-02-27

In The Force of Witness, Rosa-Linda Fregoso examines the contra feminicide movement in Mexico and other feminist efforts to eradicate gender violence. Drawing on interviews, art documentaries, and her years of activism, Fregoso traces the micro and macro scales of misogyny and the patterns of state complicity with gender violence. She shows how different forms of witnessing—from activist mothers bearing witness to the memories of their daughters and expert witnesses in court cases to communal witnessing and a scholar-activist citizen witnessing her own actions—are key to resisting feminicidal violence. Fregoso situates these forms of witness in the histories, contexts, structures, bodies, and intersectional struggles they emerge from. By outlining the complexities of feminicidal violence in relation to witnessing processes, Fregoso challenges the notion of witness as an individual or autonomous subject inscribed solely in the legal or religious arenas. Rather, she theorizes witness as a force of collectivity and a constellation of multiple social locations and intersectional practices that work together to abolish feminicidal violence. Border Cinema, Monica Hanna, Rebecca A. Sheehan, 2019-04-15

The rise of digital media and globalization's intensification since the 1990s have significantly refigured global cinema's form and content. The coincidence of digitalization and globalization has produced what this book helps to define and describe as a flourishing border cinema whose aesthetics reflect, construct, intervene in, denature, and reconfigure geopolitical borders. This collection demonstrates how border cinema resists contemporary border fortification processes, showing how cinematic media have functioned technologically and aesthetically to engender contemporary shifts in national and individual identities while proposing alternative conceptions of these identities to those promulgated by the often restrictive current political rhetoric and ideologies that represent a backlash to globalization. Spilling the Beans in Chicanolandia, Frederick Luis

Aldama, 2010-01-01 Since the 1980s, a prolific second wave of Chicano writers and artists has tremendously expanded the range of genres and subject matter in Chicano literature and art Building on the pioneering work of their predecessors whose artistic creations were often tied to political activism and the civil rights struggle today's Chicano writers and artists feel free to focus as much on the aesthetic quality of their work as on its social content They use novels short stories poetry drama documentary films and comic books to shape the raw materials of life into art objects that cause us to participate empathetically in an increasingly complex Chicano identity and experience This book presents far ranging interviews with twenty one second wave Chicano poets fiction writers dramatists documentary filmmakers and playwrights Some are mainstream widely recognized creators while others work from the margins because of their sexual orientations or their controversial positions Frederick Luis Aldama draws out the artists and authors on both the aesthetic and the sociopolitical concerns that animate their work Their conversations delve into such areas as how the artists or writers life experiences have molded their work why they choose to work in certain genres and how they have transformed them what it means to be Chicano in today's pluralistic society and how Chicano identity influences and is influenced by contact with ethnic and racial identities from around the world

A Feminist Counter-History of Latin American Documentary Lorena Cervera Ferrer, 2025-08-28 A Feminist Counter History of Latin American Documentary provides a new lens through which to revisit the history of Latin American cinema and proposes three approximations to the study of women's documentary produced between the early 1970s and the mid 1990s With a focus on documentaries with clear political intents this book illustrates some of the thematic interests authorial modes production practices formal devices and aesthetic strategies employed by women filmmakers Through analysis of the contexts processes and forms of a selection of films the author shows how these non fiction films shed light on the precarious conditions that characterised women's greater entry into the workforce on the circulation of feminist ideas and on the inevitable questioning of identity that resulted from migration and displacement This volume will appeal to scholars and students interested in women's and feminist cinema documentary history theory and practice and Latin American history and culture

Reel Food Anne L. Bower, 2012-08-06 Reel Food is the first book devoted to food as a vibrant and evocative element of film featuring original essays by major food studies scholars among them Carole Counihan and Michael Ashkenazi This collection reads various films through their uses of food from major food films like Babette's Feast and Big Night to less obvious choices including The Godfather trilogy and The Matrix The contributors draw attention to the various ways in which food is employed to make meaning in film In some cases such as Soul Food and Tortilla Soup for example food is used to represent racial and ethnic identities In other cases such as Chocolat and Like Water for Chocolate food plays a role in gender and sexual politics And of course there is also discussion of the centrality of popcorn to the movie going experience This book is a feast for scholars foodies and cinema buffs It will be of major interest to anyone working in popular culture film studies and food studies at both the undergraduate and graduate level

Latinx Ciné in the Twenty-First Century Frederick Luis Aldama, 2019-09-24 Today's Latinx motion pictures are built on the struggles and victories of prior decades Earlier filmmakers threw open doors and cleared new paths for those of the twenty first century to willfully reconstruct Latinx epics as well as the daily tragedies and triumphs of Latinx lives Twenty first century Latinx film offers much to celebrate but as noted pop culture critic Frederick Luis Aldama writes there s still room to be purposefully critical In Latinx Cin in the Twenty First Century contributors offer groundbreaking scholarship that does both bringing together a comprehensive presentation of contemporary film and filmmakers from all corners of Latinx culture The book s seven sections cover production techniques and evolving genres profile those behind and in front of the camera and explore the distribution and consumption of contemporary Latinx films Chapters delve into issues that are timely relevant and influential including representation or the lack thereof identity and stereotypes hybridity immigration and detention historical recuperation and historical amnesia With its capacious range and depth of vision this timeless volume of cutting edge scholarship blazes new paths in understanding the full complexities of twenty first century Latinx filmmaking
