Empathy in Politics and Leadership Claire Yorke, 2025-10-03 A timely account of empathy politics and leadership showing how greater understanding and connection can foster trust community and innovation Empathy has become a cliché of contemporary politics often espoused but rarely understood Yet the capacity to understand other worldviews is neither easy nor comfortable Seeing through others eyes requires strength courage integrity and an ability to reason across the harshest political divides and in a time of heightened marginalization disconnection and polarization empathy in our leaders and across society is vitally important Claire Yorke offers the first account of empathy in politics and leadership drawing on examples from across the world Including model leaders like Nelson Mandela and Jacinda Ardern as well as figures on the right such as Donald Trump who mobilize different forms of empathy Yorke asks what distinguishes empathetic leaders from the rest and examines why empathy is essential for a more human centred politics Demonstrating empathy's radical potential and disputing its connotations of weakness this book shows how we can build a political ecosystem that fosters belonging and engagement and cultivate the necessary dialogue to find common ground The Republican, 1820 Political Activists in America Nathan Teske, 2009-01-01 Argues that active involvement in politics can be deeply fulfilling to the individual and that the construction of identity for all activists is both about morality and about what one wants for oneself Includes interviews with environmental social justice and pro life activists Provided by publisher The Priority of Injustice Clive Barnett, 2017-11-01 This original and ambitious work looks anew at a series of intellectual debates about the meaning of democracy Clive Barnett engages with key thinkers in various traditions of democratic theory and demonstrates the importance of a geographical imagination in interpreting contemporary political change Debates about radical democracy

Barnett argues have become trapped around a set of oppositions between deliberative and agonistic theories contrasting thinkers who promote the possibility of rational agreement and those who seek to unmask the role of power or violence or difference in shaping human affairs While these debates are often framed in terms of consensus versus contestation Barnett unpacks the assumptions about space and time that underlie different understandings of the sources of political conflict and shows how these differences reflect deeper philosophical commitments to theories of creative action or revived ontologies of the political Rather than developing ideal theories of democracy or models of proper politics he argues that attention should turn toward the practices of claims making through which political movements express experiences of injustice and make demands for recognition redress and repair By rethinking the spatial grammar of discussions of public space democratic inclusion and globalization Barnett develops a conceptual framework for analyzing the crucial roles played by geographical processes in generating and processing contentious politics

Clare,2019-08-23 Earthly Encounters develops a fuller account of the lived experience of racialized gender formation as it exists on this planet earth It analyzes sensations the chill of winter the warm embrace of the wind the feeling of being immersed in water and a stifling sense of containment Through this analysis in settler colonial and colonial contexts in twentieth century North America and Africa Stephanie D Clare shows how sensation is unevenly distributed within social worlds and productive of racial national and gendered subjectivities From revealing the relevance of phenomenology especially in the writings of Maurice Merleau Ponty and Frantz Fanon to debates concerning new materialism and affect theory Clare shows how the phenomenology of race and gender must consider both the production of the body subject and the environment She concludes by making a case for the continued significance of sensation in the context of the Anthropocene

University London In this exceptional investigation Rustom Bharucha considers the realities of Islamophobia the legacies of Truth and Reconciliation the deadly certitudes of State controlled security systems and the legitimacy of counter terror terrorism drawing on a vast spectrum of human cruelties across the global South The outcome is a brilliantly argued case for seeing terror as a volatile and mutant phenomenon that is deeply lived experienced and performed within the cultures of everyday life

Becoming Canada Ken Dryden,2010 In this passionate thought provoking vision for Canada Ken Dryden argues that we have paid a price for having the wrong sense of ourselves as a country The old definition of Canada genial but sometimes too self deprecating and ambition killing is no longer the real story Through recent global events such as Barack Obama s election and first year in office the climate conference in Copenhagen and even the 2010 Winter Olympics Dryden explores the clash between politics and story and the importance of a nation finding its true narrative in order to thrive By tracing the ups and downs in contemporary Canadian politics from the Liberal leadership race to Stephen Harper s Conservative minority governments Michael Ignatieff s appointment as Opposition leader and prorogation Ken Dryden presciently identifies the obstacles facing Canada He observes a sea change taking place among Canadians who want something more for their country The ambition of Canada s policies and the nature of our politics will not change Dryden says until we conceive of a new story for the nation Becoming Canada is at once a celebration of Canada and a timely ardent rallying cry to all Canadians to build upon Canada s unique place in the world It is certain to inspire new conversations about our Canada s identity at home and abroad
