Nga Mahi Jason Hartley, 2013-08-31 Ng Mahi The things we need to do is the extraordinary true story of a criminologist who received a unique guidance on how to reduce the flow of Maori inmates into New Zealand Prisons Despite spending billions of dollars on a struggling criminal justice system and the construction of an unprecedented number of new prisons there does not seem any other solution at hand that is curbing this disturbing trend Jason leads us through his amazing journey with an insight into an unseen world that confirms his belief that we are not alone and the most concerned about the ever increasing Maori prison population are their own loving ancestors Discover how Jason was led to translate a beautiful message from the past A message that can surely make a difference to our struggling world A message that will reside in your spirit and awaken your soul

Learning Stories Margaret Carr, Wendy Lee, 2012-03-19 Margaret Carr's seminal work on Learning Stories was first published by SAGE in 2001 and this widely acclaimed approach to assessment has since gained a huge international following In this new full colour book the authors outline the philosophy behind Learning Stories and refer to the latest findings from the research projects they have led with teachers on learning dispositions and learning power to argue that Learning Stories can construct learner identities in early childhood settings and schools By making the connection between sociocultural approaches to pedagogy and assessment and narrative inquiry this book contextualizes Learning Stories as a philosophical approach to education learning and pedagogy Chapters explore how Learning Stories help make connections with families support the inclusion of children and family voices tell us stories about babies allow children to dictate their own stories can be used to revisit children s learning journeys can contribute to teaching and learning wisdom This ground breaking book expands on the concept of Learning Stories and includes examples from practice in both New Zealand and the UK It outlines the philosophy behind this pedagogical tool for documenting how learning identities are constructed and shows through research evidence why the early years is such a critical time in the formation of learning dispositions Margaret Carr is a Professor of Education at the University of Waikato New Zealand Wendy Lee is Director of the Educational Leadership Project New Zealand

Moroccan Other-Archives Brahim El Guabli, 2023-04-25 Winner 2024 L Carl Brown AIMS Book Prize in North African Studies Honorable Mention 2024 MELA Book Awards Finalist 2024 ASA Best Book Prize Moroccan Other Archives investigates how histories of exclusion and silencing are written and rewritten in a postcolonial context that lacks organized and accessible archives The book draws on cultural production concerning the years of lead a period of authoritarianism and political violence between Morocco s independence in 1956 and the death of King Hassan II in 1999 to examine the transformative roles memory and trauma play in reconstructing stories of three historically marginalized groups in Moroccan history Berbers Imazighen Jews and political prisoners The book shows how Moroccan cultural production has become an other archive a set of textual sonic embodied and visual sites that recover real or reimagined voices of these formerly suppressed and silenced constituencies of Moroccan society Combining theoretical discussions with close reading of literary works the book reenvisions both archives and the nation in postcolonial Morocco By producing other archives Moroccan cultural creators transform the losses state violence inflicted on society during the years of lead into a source of civic engagement and historiographical agency enabling the writing of histories about those Moroccans who have been excluded from official documentation and state sanctioned histories The book is multilingual and interdisciplinary examining primary sources in Amazigh Berber Arabic Darija and French and drawing on memory studies literary theory archival studies anthropology and historiography In addition to showing how other archives are created and operate El Guabli elaborates how language gender class race and geographical distribution are co constitutive of a historical and archival unsilencing that is foundational to citizenship in Morocco today

For Better or for Worse Sabine Fenton, 2014-07-16 The essays in this book explore the vital role translation has played in defining changing and redefining linguistic cultural ethnic and political identities in several nations of the South Pacific While in other parts of the world postcolonial scholars have scrutinized the role and history of translation and exposed its close relationship with the colonizers this has not yet happened in the specific region covered in this collection In translation studies the Pacific region is terra incognita The writers of this volume of essays reveal that in the Pacific as in all other once colonized parts of the world colonialism and translation went hand in hand The unsettling power of translation is described as it effected change for better or for worse While the Pacific Islanders encounter with the Europeans has previously been described as having a Fatal Impact the authors of these essays are further able to demonstrate that the Pacific Islanders were not only victims but also played an active role in the cross cultural events they were party to and in shaping their own destinies Examples of the role of translation in effecting change for better or for worse abound in the history of the nations of the Pacific These stories are told here in order to bring this region into the mainstream scholarly attention of postcolonial and translation studies
