

Migration

Wings of Change

On wings of faith, they take to the skies,
In search of new lands, where dreams arise.
With feathers light, they break the chain,
In migration's dance, they find no pain.

Through endless blue, they soar so high,
A quest for life beneath the open sky.
With every flap, they redefine,
The art of migration, an age-old sign.

In their flight, a lesson we trace,
Migration's grace, in every space.
For in their wings, the world's reborn,
In endless cycles, life's fabric torn.

Migrations Poems:

Migration William Stanley Merwin, 2005 This definitive volume by one of America's greatest poets is essential for all poetry collections

Border Lines Mihaela Moscaliuc, Michael Waters, 2020-09-08 In this remarkable collection the first of its kind poets from around the world give eloquent voice to the trials, hopes, rewards, and losses of the experience of migration. Each year millions join the ranks of intrepid migrants who have reshaped societies throughout history. The movement of peoples across borders, whether forcible as with the Middle Passage and the Trail of Tears or voluntary as with the great migrations from Europe, Asia, Africa, and Latin America to the United States and Western Europe, brings with it emotional and psychological dislocations. More recently, African and Middle Eastern peoples have risked their lives to reach safety in Europe, while Central Americans have fled north. Whatever their circumstances, these travelers share the challenge of adapting to being strangers in a strange land. Border Lines brings together more than a hundred poets representing more than sixty nationalities, including Mahmoud Darwish, Czeslaw Milosz, Aimee Nezhukumatathil, Ruth Padel, Warsan Shire, Derek Walcott, and Ocean Vuong. Their poems offer moving stories of displacement and new beginnings in such places as France, Germany, Canada, the United Kingdom, and the United States. A monument to courage and resilience, Border Lines offers an intimate and uniquely global view of the experience of immigrants in our rapidly changing world.

Migrations Gloria Gervitz, 2021-11-02 An epic single poem tribute to the spirit of women, this is the first complete and final translation of the great Mexican poet's magnum opus. Forty-four years in the making, Migrations is considered by critics to be a masterpiece of modern Mexican literature. Gloria Gervitz's book winner of the 2019 Pablo Neruda Ibero American Poetry Prize is an epic journey in free verse through the individual and collective memories of Jewish women emigrants from Eastern Europe, a conversation that ranges across two thousand years of poetry, a bridge that spans the oracles of ancient Greece and the markets of modern Mexico, a prayer that blends the Jewish and Catholic liturgies, a Mexican woman's reclamation through poetry of her own voice and erotic power. In its reach, audacity, and astonishing vitality, Gervitz's extraordinary life's work bears comparison to the achievements of HD, Lorine Niedecker, Ezra Pound, and Walt Whitman. This English-only edition does not include the poems in their original language.

What They Bring Irene Willis, Jim Haba, 2020-02-25 This is an anthology of poems by outstanding poets of diverse backgrounds, age, gender, race, ethnicity, religion, disability, sexuality, etc. from the U.S. and elsewhere in the world. While the timeliness of the theme would suggest that its purpose is political, it is only incidentally so. Actually, it has the same aim as psychoanalysis: catharsis through emotional understanding that can lead to transformative change. Although many poets have written about their personal experience as immigrants and that of their parents and grandparents, no single book of poems captures the experience of a diversity of cultures. For this book, we have gathered Israeli, Palestinian, African American, Hungarian, German, Hispanic,

Migration has been one of the contested topics among scholars and politicians throughout the world. Similarly, the experiences of refugees, asylum seekers and migrants have been different as they are influenced by race, gender, class and geographical location. This book explores the experiences of international migrants, including the challenges they face from nation states, environmental issues and sociocultural factors. It consists of chapters that discuss the causes and effects of migration, the role of nation states and the environment. Moreover, the book covers gender and family relations and the relationship of refugees and migrants with the host population and the socio-cultural and economic integration of migrants. Overall, the book argues that international migrants, particularly refugees and asylum seekers, are among the most vulnerable groups in the world. However, they use various strategies to overcome their vulnerability and become resilient in the face of adversity. Hence, the book contributes to increasing people's awareness of migration and the experiences of refugees, asylum seekers and migrants. It can also be a significant source for initiating further debate and academic discussion on issues of migration and forced displacement, vulnerability and resilience.
