The Event of Postcolonial Shame Timothy Bewes, 2010-11-22 In a postcolonial world where structures of power hierarchy and domination operate on a global scale writers face an ethical and aesthetic dilemma How to write without contributing to the inscription of inequality How to process the colonial past without reverting to a pathology of self disgust Can literature ever be free of the shame of the postcolonial epoch ever be truly postcolonial As disparities of power seem only to be increasing such questions are more urgent than ever In this book Timothy Bewes argues that shame is a dominant temperament in twentieth century literature and the key to understanding the ethics and aesthetics of the contemporary world Drawing on thinkers such as Jean Paul Sartre Frantz Fanon Theodor Adorno and Gilles Deleuze Bewes argues that in literature there is an event of shame that brings together these ethical and aesthetic tensions Reading works by J M Coetzee Joseph Conrad Nadine Gordimer V S Naipaul Caryl Phillips Ngugi wa Thiong'o and Zo Wicomb Bewes presents a startling theory the practices of postcolonial literature depend upon and repeat the same structures of thought and perception that made colonialism possible in the first place As long as those structures remain in place literature and critical thinking will remain steeped in shame Offering a new mode of postcolonial reading The Event of Postcolonial Shame demands a literature and a criticism that acknowledge their own ethical deficiency without seeking absolution from it

Being Black in America's Schools Brian Rashad Fuller, 2024-07-23 For readers of The Knowledge Gap Race to the Bottom and The Inequality Machine education and equity strategist Brian Rashad Fuller sheds a stark light on America's public schools the miseducation of students of color and the action required to make tangible changes and reforms to a failing and racialized educational system With a foreword from Harriet Tubman's great grand nephew Abdul Tubman In a polarizing and racially divided America what do children of color learn about themselves before they even go to school How do they see themselves and is that image only exacerbated by spending twelve years in a public education system that perpetuates negative stereotypes Brian Rashad Fuller personally knows that the impact of low expectations can be devastating as proved by the school to prison pipeline that so many students have experienced He aims to make a difference in this humanizing and very personal portrayal of what it means to be Black in America s schools As a Black man who has spent his life as a student and an educator Brian shares his own story of navigating the world overcoming his family struggles and eventually entering an educational system that he believes is inherently racist damaging and disserving He exposes the challenges Black students face in elite and predominantly white universities and spaces dissects Black exceptionalism in the schooling experience and offers a firsthand account of the emotional and psychological impact made by teachers administrators policies practices lessons and student interactions Most Americans are looking for answers on how to improve our education system as illustrated by the critical race theory debate but have not fully understood the lived Black experience until now With powerful insight into a thoroughly American institution Brian offers present day solutions and liberating hope for a centuries long issue as well as a galvanizing and radical step forward It is a book essential to our challenging times

The Blank Swan Elie Ayache,2010-05-05 October 19th 1987 was a day of huge change for the global finance industry On this day the stock market crashed the Nobel Prize winning Black Scholes formula failed and volatility smiles were born and on this day Elie Ayache began his career on the trading floor of the French Futures and Options Exchange Experts everywhere sought to find a model for this event and ways to simulate it in order to avoid a recurrence in the future but the one thing that struck Elie that day was the belief that what actually happened on 19th October 1987 is simply non reproducible outside 19th

October 1987 you cannot reduce it to a chain of causes and effects or even to a random generator that can then be reproduced or represented in a theoretical framework The Blank Swan is Elie s highly original treatise on the financial markets presenting a totally revolutionary rethinking of derivative pricing and technology It is not a diatribe against Nassim Taleb s The Black Swan but criticises the whole background or framework of predictable and unpredictable events white and black swans alike i e the very category of prediction In this revolutionary book Elie redefines the components of the technology needed to price and trade derivatives Most importantly and drawing on a long tradition of philosophy of the event from Henri Bergson to Gilles Deleuze to Alain Badiou and on a recent brand of philosophy of contingency embodied by the speculative materialism of Quentin Meillassoux Elie redefines the market itself against the common perceptions of orthodox financial theory general equilibrium theory and the sociology of finance This book will change the way that we think about derivatives and approach the market If anything derivatives should be renamed contingent claims where contingency is now absolute and no longer derivative and the market is just its medium The book also establishes the missing link between quantitative modelling no longer dependent on probability theory but on a novel brand of mathematics which Elie calls the mathematics of price and the reality of the market
