Mediterranean Modernism Adam J. Goldwyn, Renée M. Silverman, 2016-08-19 This book explores how Modernist movements all across the Mediterranean basin differed from those of other regions The chapters show how the political and economic turmoil of a period marked by world war revolution decolonization nationalism and the rapid advance of new technologies compelled artists writers and other intellectuals to create a new hybrid Mediterranean Modernist aesthetic which sought to balance the tensions between local and foreign tradition and innovation and colonial and postcolonial

India in the American Imaginary, 1780s-1880s Anupama Arora, Rajender Kaur, 2017-11-09 This book seeks to frame the idea of India in the American imaginary within a transnational lens that is attentive to global flows of goods people and ideas within the circuits of imperial and maritime economies in nineteenth century America roughly 1780s 1880s This diverse and interdisciplinary volume with essays by upcoming as well as established scholars aims to add to an understanding of the fast changing terrain of economic political and cultural life in the US as it emerged from being a British colony to having imperial ambitions of its own on the global stage The essays trace variously the evolution of the changing self image of a nation embodying a surprisingly cosmopolitan sensibility open to different cultural values and customs in the late eighteenth and early nineteenth century to one that slowly adopted rigid and discriminatory racial and cultural attitudes spawned by the widespread missionary activities of the ABCFM and the fierce economic pulls and pushes of American mercantilism by the end of the nineteenth century The different uses of India become a way of refining an American national identity Images of Enchantment Sherifa

What Went Wrong? Bernard Lewis,2002-01-24 For many centuries the world of Islam was in the forefront of human achievement the foremost military and economic power in the world the leader in the arts and sciences of civilization Christian Europe a remote land beyond its northwestern frontier was seen as an outer darkness of barbarism and unbelief from which there was nothing to learn or to fear And then everything changed as the previously despised West won victory after victory first in the battlefield and the marketplace then in almost every aspect of public and even private life In this intriguing volume Bernard Lewis examines the anguished reaction of the Islamic world as it tried to understand why things had changed how they had been overtaken overshadowed and to an increasing extent dominated by the West Lewis provides a fascinating portrait of a culture in turmoil He shows how the Middle East turned its attention to understanding European weaponry and military tactics commerce and industry government and diplomacy education and culture Lewis highlights the striking differences between the Western and Middle Eastern cultures from the 18th to the 20th centuries through thought provoking comparisons of such things as Christianity and Islam music and the arts the position of women secularism and the civil society the clock and the calendar Hailed in The New York Times Book Review as the doyen of Middle Eastern studies Bernard Lewis is one of the West's foremost authorities on Islamic history and culture In this striking volume he offers an incisive look at the historical relationship between the Middle East and Europe A Century of Travels in China Douglas Kerr, Julia Kuehn, 2007-05-01 Writings of travelers have shaped ideas about an evolving China while preconceived ideas about China also shaped the way they saw the country A Century of Travels in China explores the impressions of these writers on various themes from Chinese cities and landscapes to the work of Europeans abroad From the time of the first Opium War to the declaration of the People's Republic China's history has been one of extraordinary change and stubborn continuities At the same time the country has beguiled scared and puzzled people in the West The Victorian public admired and imitated Chinese fashions in furniture and design gardens and clothing while maintaining a generally negative idea of the Chinese empire as pagan backward and cruel In the first half of the twentieth century the fascination continued Most foreigners were aware that revolutionary changes were taking place in Chinese politics and society yet most still knew very little about the country But what about those few people from the English speaking world who had first hand experience of the place What did they have to say about the real China To answer this question we have to turn to the travel accounts and memoirs of people who went to see for themselves during China's most traumatic century While this book represents the work of expert scholars it is also accessible to non specialists with an interest in travel writing and China and care has been taken to explain the critical terms and ideas deployed in the essays from recent scholarship of the travel genre Journal of Social Hygiene ,1915 Social Hygiene ,1914 The American Social Hygiene Association Bulletin ,1915
