Maya Wisdom and the Survival of Our Planet Lisa Joyce Lucero, 2025 We now live in the Anthropocene the first epoch of our own making We have altered the Earth's atmosphere landscapes and bodies of water The burning of fossil fuels has warmed the planet enough to change weather patterns melt glaciers and raise sea levels a situation made worse by rampant deforestation and resource depletion Many look to governments to confront these existential challenges In Maya Wisdom and the Survival of Our Planet Lisa Lucero looks to the Maya past and present Through the lens of the traditional Maya inclusive worldview one in which humans are part of the world not separate from it and where everything is connected

Lucero provides a practical roadmap on how to sustainably address climate change and environmental degradation. She shows how the Maya collaborate with rather than try to subjugate forests, animals, soils, water, and other nonhuman entities. The Maya sustainably farmed for millennia and provided goods, labor, and services to their kings in cities. In return, kings performed vital ceremonies to the Rain God Chahk, other gods, and ancestors to replenish urban reservoirs that lasted throughout the long dry season, a balancing act that worked for over 1,000 years. Lucero shows how approaches to tackle climate change from the bottom up, beginning with the family or household, are just as important as top-down governmental mitigation and how learning from traditional knowledge is vital for the survival of us all. She brings to life the tropical jungles of Central America and reveals the valuable solutions its ancient and contemporary inhabitants offer us to save our planet.
