India will be depending mainly on surveys to supply target related data in the medium run this paper classifies existing health and nutrition indicators from the draft National Indicator Framework NIF in terms of data availability By highlighting the gaps in available data the authors make specific recommendations to streamline existing surveys to align them with the requirements of an NIF for the SDGs The authors review the draft NIF released by the Ministry of Statistics and Programme Implementation MoSPI and propose a revised one as part of this exercise

Food and Nutrition Security in Southern African Cities Bruce Frayne,Jonathan Crush,Cameron McCordic,2017-12-22 Urban population growth is extremely rapid across Africa and this book places urban food and nutrition security firmly on the development and policy agenda It shows that current efforts to address food poverty in Africa that focus entirely on small scale farmers to the exclusion of broader socio economic and infrastructural approaches are misplaced and will remain largely ineffective in ameliorating food and nutrition insecurity for the majority of Africans Using original data from the African Food Security Urban Network s AFSUN extensive database it is demonstrated that the primary food security challenge for urban households is access to food Already linked into global food systems and value chains Africa s supply of food is not necessarily in jeopardy Rather the widespread poverty and informal urban fabric that characterizes Africa s emerging cities impinge directly on households capacity to access food that is readily available Through the analysis of empirical data collected from 6 500 households in eleven cities in nine countries in Southern Africa the authors identify the complexity of factors and dynamics that create the circumstances of widespread food and nutrition insecurity under which urban citizens live They also provide useful policy approaches to address these conditions that currently thwart the latent development potential of Africa s expanding urban population

Nutrition and Health in Developing Countries Richard David Semba,Martin W. Bloem,2008-06-26 Nutrition and Health in Developing Countries Second Edition was written with the underlying conviction that global health and nutrition problems can only be solved through a firm understanding of the different levels of causality and the interactions between the various determinants This volume provides policy makers nutritionists students scientists and professionals with the most recent and up to date knowledge regarding major health and nutritional problems in developing countries This greatly expanded second edition has new chapters relevant to humanitarian emergencies including a case study of the Indian Ocean tsunami in 2004 food in humanitarian relief food policy the emerging role of supermarkets in developing countries homestead food production aging ethics and the adverse impact of parental tobacco use on child health in poor families These new chapters reflect the increasing complexity and changes that are occurring in developing countries Nutrition and Health in Developing Countries Second Edition brings together a group of authors who come from diverse backgrounds of clinical nutrition medicine immunology infectious disease epidemiology public health nutrition anthropology health policy economics and disaster planning This book will stimulate further thought comprehensive and effective policies and programs and research across disciplines in the goal of improving health and nutrition in developing countries in order to reach the
