Radical Presence Teaching As Contemplative Practice:

Radical Presence Mary Rose O'Reilley, 1998 Radical Presence is a book about our lives as well as our work suggesting that the secrets of good teaching are the same as the secrets of good living seeing one's self without blinking offering hospitality to the alien other having compassion for suffering speaking truth to power being present and being real These are secrets hidden in plain sight But in an age that puts more faith in the powers of technique than in the powers of the human heart it takes the clear sight and courage of someone like Mary Rose O'Reilley to call secrets of this sort to our attention Radical Presence asks What might happen if we frame the central questions of our profession as spiritual issues and deal with them in light of our spiritual traditions The basis of O'Reilley's remarks is not religious it is pedagogical She does not preach she shares Writing of the human condition O'Reilley places herself first in line not as an ego or leader but as a friend and guide Over the course of her journey she seeks to discover what spaces we can create in the classroom that will allow students the freedom to nourish an inner life This is an important book that will have a significant impact on the way educators view teaching and learning O'Reilley writes Some pedagogical practices crush the soul most of us have suffered their bruising force Others allow the spirit to come home to self to community and to the revelations of reality This book is my own try at articulating a space in which teacher and student can practice this radical presence

Critical Expressivism Tara Roeder, Roseanne Gatto, 2015-04-15
 Critical Expressivism is an ambitious attempt to re appropriate intelletual territory that has more often been charted by its detractors than by its proponents Indeed as Peter Elbow observes in his contribution to this volume As far as I can tell the term expressivist was coined and used only by people who wanted a word for people they disapproved of and wanted to discredit The editors and contributors to this collection invite readers to join them in a new conversation one informed by a belief that the term expressivism continues to have a vitally important function in our field Teaching Literature and Writing in Prisons Sheila Smith McKoy, Patrick Elliot Alexander, 2023-10-13 As the work of Malcolm X Angela Y Davis and others has made clear education in prison has enabled people to rethink systems of oppression Courses in reading and writing help incarcerated students feel a sense of community examine the past and present and imagine a better future Yet incarcerated students often lack the resources materials information and opportunity to pursue their coursework and training is not always available for those who teach incarcerated students This volume will aid both new and experienced instructors by providing strategies for developing courses for creating supportive learning environments and for presenting and publishing incarcerated students scholarly and creative work It also suggests approaches to self care designed to help instructors sustain their work Essays incorporate the perspectives of both incarcerated and nonincarcerated teachers and students centering critical prison studies scholarship and abolitionist perspectives This volume contains discussion of Mumia Abu Jamal s Live from Death Row Marita Bonner s The Purple Flower Suzanne Collins s The Hunger Games Mary Shelley s Frankenstein and William Shakespeare s The Taming of the Shrew and Othello Antiracist Writing Assessment Ecologies Asao B.
