Rainbows For The Fallen World:

Rainbows for the Fallen World C. Seerveld, 1980      Rainbows for the Fallen World Calvin Seerveld,      Following Jesus in a Fallen World Robert M. Solomon, 2020      Liturgical Semiotics from Below Kevin O. Olds, 2023-12-13

How do we find meaning in worship? How might we worship more meaningfully? These questions invite us into a field of study called liturgical semiotics. This book takes a deep dive into this arena using the metaphor of breathing as a vehicle for the journey. It is about getting back to what is at the core of the Christian identity: namely, worship and exploring how to find and make meaning in it. In doing so, we will find out not only more about our worship but about ourselves. Liturgical semiotics is not only about the liturgical event but about the semiotician as well. Along the way, using BREATHE, GASP, and RASP as guides, we will read the signs of our worship, connect the dots of the stories it tells, and uncover new meanings. We will also find ways to make our worship more evocative and more resonant with the current culture. Take a deep breath and dive in.      Pentecostal Aesthetics Steven Felix, 2015-02-04

Pentecostals have not sufficiently worked out a distinctively Pentecostal philosophy of art and aesthetics. In Pentecostal Aesthetics: Theological Reflections in a Pentecostal Philosophy of Art and Aesthetics with a foreword by Amos Yong, Steven Felix J. Ger corrects this by reflecting theologically on art and aesthetics from a global Pentecostal perspective, particularly through a pneumatic Pentecostal lens. Felix J. Ger contends that a Pentecostal philosophy of art and aesthetics must comply with the global experiential and pneumatocentric nature of the Pentecostal movement. Such a philosophy can be ontologically grounded in a relativistic theory of art. Theological reflections concerning the nature and purpose of art must then be sensitive to the ontological foundations secured thereof. In this fashion, Pentecostals can gain ample insight about the Spirit's work in today's contemporary artworld.      Art, Education, and Cultural Renewal Lambert Zuidervaar, 2017-05-05

What good is art? What is the point of a university education? Can philosophers contribute anything to social liberation? Such questions, both ancient and urgent, are the pulse of reformational philosophy. Inspired by the vision of the Dutch religious and political leader Abraham Kuyper, reformational philosophy pursues social transformation for the common good. In this companion volume to Religion, Truth, and Social Transformation, Lambert Zuidervaar presents a socially engaged philosophy of the arts and higher education. Interacting with the ideas of leading Kuyperian thinkers such as Calvin Seerveld and Nicholas Wolterstorff, Zuidervaar shows why renewal in the arts needs to coincide with political and economic transformation. He also calls for education and research that serve the common good. Deeply rooted in reformational philosophy, his book brings a fresh and inspiring voice to current discussions of religious aesthetics and Christian scholarship. Art, Education, and Cultural Renewal is a testament to the practical and intellectual richness of a unique religious tradition, compelling in its call for social solidarity and cultural critique.      The Beauty of God Daniel J. Treier, Mark Husbands, Roger Lundin, 2007-05-18

Editors Mark Husbands, Roger Lundin, and Daniel J. Treier present ten essays that explore a Christian approach to beauty and the arts. The visual arts, music, and literature are considered, as well as the theological meaning and place of the arts in a fallen world redeemed by Christ

The Aesthetics of Discipleship Adrian Coates, 2021-09-30 Discipleship is embodied Formation in the Christian life is not an otherworldly exercise but one that plays out in this world interwoven with everyday sensory experience in ordinary life The Aesthetics of Discipleship explores this dynamic through Kierkegaard's framing of aesthetic existence the sensory experience of being in the moment further developed by Bonhoeffer as operating within a realm of freedom encompassing not only art but play friendship and cultural formation In addition to Kierkegaard and Bonhoeffer the work of Iain McGilchrist Graham Ward and Nicholas Wolterstorff is employed to offer a fresh perspective on discipleship from below Everyday sensory experiences are integral not only to being human but to the practice of discipleship such that discipleship integrates aesthetic ethical and religious existence Aesthetic existence unhinged from a life of faith or fueled by distorted Christendom creates and sustains aestheticized pseudorealities centered on the self Mature aesthetic existence however anchored in love for God plays a fundamental role in the Christian life both as the incarnational celebration of being fully human and also through the preconscious formation of imaginaries by which we live

Truth Matters Lambert Zuidervaat, Allyson Carr, Matthew J. Klaassen, Ronnie Shuker, 2013-12-01 Why should we seek and tell the truth Does anyone know what truth is Many are skeptical about the relevance of truth Truth Matters endeavours to show why truth is important in a world where the very idea of truth is contested Putting philosophers in conversation with educators literary scholars physicists political theorists and theologians Truth Matters ranges across both analytic and continental philosophy and draws on the ideas of thinkers such as Aquinas Balthasar Brandom Davidson Dooyeweerd Gadamer Habermas Kierkegaard Plantinga Ricoeur and Wolterstorff Some essays attempt to provide a systematic account of truth while others wrestle with the question of how truth is told and what it means to live truthfully Contributors address debates between realists and anti realists explore issues surrounding relativism and constructivism in education and the social sciences examine the politics of truth telling and the ethics of authenticity and consider various religious perspectives on truth Most scholars agree that truth is propositional being expressed in statements that are subject to proof or disproof This book goes a step farther yes propositional truth is important but truth is more than propositional To recognize how it is more than propositional is crucial for understanding why truth truly matters Contributors include Doug Blomberg ICS Allyson Carr ICS Jeffrey Dudiak King's University College Olaf Ellefson York University Gerrit Glas VU University Amsterdam Gill K Goulding Regis College Jay Gupta Mills College Clarence Joldersma Calvin College Matthew J. T&T Clark Handbook of Theology and the Arts Stephen M. Garrett, Imogen Adkins, 2025-04-24 This volume presents the theology arts conversation from a distinctly Christian perspective as a witness of the Gospel of Christ to the world A widespread interest in the historical socio cultural and political embeddedness of theology and the arts permeates it This theme of embeddedness tracks through several overarching and interlocking concerns the relationship between form and content in both art and theology the intensification of the metaphysical and the theological contra materialist and positivist reductionisms the expansion of the epistemological possibilities of the theology art conversation and a robust understanding of the world as the theatre of God's glory Several chapters have been co written by theologians and artists as part of demonstrating the kind of conversation that this book commends A thorough going commitment to Scripture is also woven into the many different habits of thought represented in this volume Part I surveys different approaches to the theology arts conversation Part II focuses on how particular art forms bring theological issues to the surface and how theological and denominational traditions shape the making and receiving of the arts Part III delves into key topics in the current theology arts scene and asks how artistic and theological performance can both speak to theological and artistic knowing and help to celebrate and interrogate embodied lived reality

A Redemptive Theology of Art David A. Covington, 2018-05-01 A Redemptive Theology of Art develops a biblical systematic and practical theology of aesthetics It begins with the roots and ontology of aesthetics vs art and the architecture and narrative of affection and passion their woes and their glory Those who would search the Bible find little support for art as commonly conceived in the West The language of aesthetics applied to the maker s intentions the qualities of the work and the responses of the audience better addresses the questions of beauty and better suits the discussion of human actions beliefs and culture than the language of art does The Bible yields more consistent and helpful answers to questions about the broader category of aesthetics than it does to questions about art leading in turn to better questions and a more practical and theological appreciation of human affections beauty and delight and the many paths by which people including Christians pursue them Using the categories and definitions from Scripture Covington gives hope and help not only for those who labor in the arts but for everyone who cares about the passions that motivate us We were made for God s delight and though sin and bondage plague our passions God can shape our fun feelings desires affections and aversions Feelings are neither objective nor subjective they are redeemable Borrowing key ideas from other Christian writers on the arts or aesthetics Covington explores the connection between orthodox Protestant theology and a responsible respectful treatment of arts artists and all aesthetic fields of human work and speech
