Searching For Vietnam Selected Writings On Vietnamese Culture And Society:

Searching for Vietnam A. Terry Rambo, 2005 Volume 9 of the Kyoto Area Studies on Asia brings together the author's selected writings about Vietnam from the past forty years. The book opens with an autobiographical account of his history as a Vietnam researcher that sets each of the selections into the context of the time and situation in which it was written. The writings are grouped into five topical sections: cultural history, religion, and cultural ecology; the Vietnamese village; the impact of the war on South Vietnamese society; Vietnam's development prospects in its reform period; and problems of development in Vietnam's mountains.

Vietnamese Stories for Language Learners Tri C. Tran, Tram Le, 2017-12-19 Vietnamese Stories for Language Learners is a language learning experience for beginner to intermediate students of the Vietnamese language. Nothing introduces students and cultural enthusiasts to a language and people better than stories. Intended for Vietnamese language students or heritage learners, the stories in this volume present the everyday vocabulary and grammar in use in Vietnam today. Forty folk stories have been edited and simplified for learning purposes and are presented in parallel Vietnamese and English versions to facilitate language learning. These delightful Vietnamese folktales immediately animate the culture, offering readers a glimpse of the social, cultural, and religious aspects of Vietnamese society in bygone eras. The English translations allow readers who are not yet studying the language to experience the wisdom and humor in these traditional well-loved stories. Online audio recordings in Vietnamese help students improve their pronunciation and inflection and introduce readers to the uniquely Vietnamese story of storytelling. Discussion questions, vocabulary, and cultural notes are provided at the end of each story. All media content is accessible on the Tuttle Publishing website.

State-Society Interaction in Vietnam Huynh Thi Phuong Linh, 2016 This book, based on anthropological research on local irrigation management in the Mekong Delta, sheds light on state-society interactions at the interface between bureaucratic and informal areas. Data from ethnographic case studies was framed abductively by an institutional bricolage approach (Cleaver 2012) and state power (Goebel 2011). The study goes beyond an institution's process and individual bargaining to argue that local irrigation management is guided by the co-evolution between the state and local actors. It is the everyday dialogue that, in the co-existence of the hierarchical state management structure and the space of local flexibility, officially and unofficially refines the local practices. Series: ZEF Development Studies Vol. 29 Subject: Politics, Environmental Studies, Asian Studies, Agriculture.

Bangsa and Umma Hiroyuki Yamamoto, 2011 Having experienced a large-scale reorganization of social order over the past decade, people of the Malay world have struggled to position themselves. They have been classified and have classified themselves with categories as bangsa (nation), ethnic group, and umma (Islamic network). In connection with these key concepts, this study explores a variety of dimensions of these and other people-grouping classifications, which also include Malayu Jawi and Paranakan. The book examines how these categories played a significant part in the colonial and post-colonial periods in areas ranging from Malaysia, Indonesia, and the Philippines. It demonstrates

On the Frontiers of Climate and Environmental Change Ole Bruun,Thorkil Casse,2013-03-29 This book is intended to fill a gap in climate change literature by providing a comprehensive regional study and identifying the overall adaptation challenges in a real life context The way in which possible climate impacts interact with a range of other challenges in agriculture forestry disaster planning health care general economic development and common livelihoods are presented and it is argued that greater realism and broader vision are needed in order to address the climate challenge For instance unsuitable land use changes in both coastal and highland regions may increase the vulnerability of rural people many of whom are already living on the fringes The author's also state's that depending on context it may be pertinent to address short term and unsustainable resource use irregularities in local land management ineffective governance and social inequality which are all likely to aggravate the impact of external climate and weather Not least it is imperative to integrate general environmental management with any climate change adaptation effort Gods, Heroes, and Ancestors Anh Q. Tran,2018 Though a minority religion in Vietnam Christianity has been a significant presence in the country since its arrival in the sixteenth century Anh Q Tran offers the first English translation of the recently discovered 1752 manuscript Tam Gi o Chu Vong The Errors of the Three Religions Structured as a dialogue between a Christian priest and a Confucian scholar this anonymously authored manuscript paints a rich picture of the three traditional Vietnamese religions Confucianism Buddhism and Daoism The work explains and evaluates several religious beliefs customs and rituals of eighteenth century Vietnam many of which are still in practice today In addition it contains a trove of information on the challenges and struggles that Vietnamese Christian converts had to face in following the new faith Besides its great historical value for studies in Vietnamese religion language and culture Gods Heroes and Ancestors raises complex issues concerning the encounter between Christianity and other religions Christian missions religious pluralism and interreligious dialogue When Things Become Property Thomas Sikor,Stefan Dorondel,Johannes Stahl,Phuc Xuan To,2017-04-01 Governments have conferred ownership titles to many citizens throughout the world in an effort to turn things into property Almost all elements of nature have become the target of property laws from the classic preoccupation with land to more ephemeral material such as air and genetic resources When Things Become Property interrogates the mixed outcomes of conferring ownership by examining postsocialist land and forest reforms in Albania Romania and Vietnam and finds that property reforms are no longer if they ever were miracle tools available to governments for refashioning economies politics or environments Multicultural Challenges and Redefining Identity in East Asia Nam-Kook Kim, 2016-04-15 Globalization and increased migration have brought both new opportunities and new tensions to traditional East Asian societies Multicultural Challenges and Redefining Identity in East Asia draws together a wide range of distinguished local scholars to discuss multiculturalism and the changing nature of social identity in East Asia Regional specialists review specific events and situations in China Korea Japan Thailand Vietnam Singapore Taiwan Malaysia Indonesia and the Philippines to provide a focus on life as it is lived at the local level whilst also tracing macro discourses on the national issues affected by multiculturalism and identity The contributors look at the uneven multicultural development across these different countries and how to bridge the gap between locality and universality They examine how ethnic majorities and minorities can achieve individual rights exert civic responsibility and explain how to construct a deliberative framework to make sustainable democracy possible This book considers the emergence of a new cross national network designed to address multicultural challenges and imagines an East Asian community with shared values of individual dignity and multicultural diversity With strong empirical support it puts forward a regulative ideal by which a new paradigm for multicultural coexistence and regional cooperation can be realized

Cultural Diversity, Heritage and Human Rights Michele Langfield, William Logan, Mairead Nic Craith, 2009-12-04 This theoretically innovative anthology investigates the problematic linkages between conserving cultural heritage maintaining cultural diversity defining and establishing cultural citizenship and enforcing human rights It is the first publication to address the notions of cultural diversity cultural heritage and human rights in one volume Heritage provides the basis of humanity's rich cultural diversity While there is a considerable literature dealing separately with cultural diversity cultural heritage and human rights this book is distinctive and has contemporary relevance in focusing on the intersection between the three concepts Cultural Diversity Heritage and Human Rights establishes a fresh approach that will interest students and practitioners alike and on which future work in the heritage field might proceed Myths and Realities Yoshifumi Tamada, 2009 This study now in paperback traces the root of Thailand's current political instability back to the 1990s It challenges the prevailing view that the nation's democratization process during the decade was led by the active middle class The book argues that the key role played by the middle class was moderation rather than promotion of democracy The middle class achieved discursive power after the May 1992 incident and prevented the numerical majority of the population rural residents and urban lower class people from gaining the hegemony With competing forces in Thai politics under the microscope and with a particular focus on passive political actors Myths and Realities shows that the appeasement of the opponents of democratization is no less crucial than the emergence or empowerment of its proponents

The Japanese original of Myths and Realities won an Ohira Masayoshi Memorial Prize in 2003. Beautiful Floods Judith Ehlert, 2012. Floods are generally perceived as natural hazards. This book in contrast portrays the beautiful floods of the Mekong Delta which annually constitute a substantial resource for people's rural livelihoods. With a focus on floods the book employs a lifeworlds analysis to investigate dynamics of environmental and livelihood knowledge among farming and fishing communities and it demonstrates that rapid agrarian change has both positive and negative impacts.
