Neimeyer, 2025-04-02 Listening to the bereaved really listening brings into sharp focus two things their pain and their questions In Living Beyond Loss Questions and Answers about Grief and Bereavement noted psychologist Robert Neimeyer compassionately engages the heartfelt inquiries of real bereaved people who have lost parents and partners siblings and children to illness tragic accident suicide and violence and offers practical counsel on how to move forward toward a life that can again have meaning Drawing on more than fifty years of experience in grief therapy and grounded in contemporary research on loss and resilience this book is an indispensable guide to understanding the nuances of grief and adaptation which is equally relevant to the bereaved themselves and to the therapists and professionals who strive to support them      The Lost Child Julie Myerson, 2012-01-05 The most controversial book in Britain Urgent and vivid A serious writerly self critical account of what it means to feel that despite love and hope and good intentions you have failed as a parent and that the child you bore while still eerily painfully familiar is lost to you Daily Telegraph An aching empty nest memoir a mother mourning for her uncomplicated little children now grown whom she could care for write about without comeback love and control The Times One bleak late winter's day Julie Myerson finds herself in a graveyard looking for traces of a young woman who died nearly two centuries before As a child in Regency England Mary Yelloly painted an exquisite album of watercolours that uniquely reflected the world she lived in But Mary died at the age of twenty one and when Julie comes across this album she is haunted by the potential never realised the barely lived life cut short And most of all she is reminded of her own child Because only days earlier Julie and her husband locked their eldest son out of the family home He was just seventeen How could it have come to this After a happy growing up it had taken only a matter of months for this bright sweet good humoured boy to completely lose his way and propel his family into daily chaos He had discovered cannabis and was now smoking it everyday and nothing they could say or do no help they could offer seemed to reach him And Julie whose emotionally fragile relationship with her own father had left her determined to love her children better had to accept that she was for the moment at least powerless to bring back the boy she had known Honest warm and often profoundly upsetting this is the parallel story of a girl and a boy separated by centuries The circumstances are very different but the questions remain terrifyingly the same What happens when a child disappears from a family What will survive of any of us in memory or in history And how is a mother to cope when love however absolute however unconditional is not enough to save her child Living in the Victory of Jesus Aloysious Okechukwu

Embracing Life Again After the Death of a Spouse Dr Anniekie Ravhudzulo, 2011-01-12 When someone we love dies our whole world is knocked off balance One of the most common and yet difficult feelings you experience is isolation It seems no one understands what you are going through And many of us are so busy you don't take the time to fully grieve and therefore heal from your losses It is very true that people who are grieving often feel extremely tired because the process of grieving usually requires physical and emotional energy The grief you are feeling is not just for the person who died but also for the unfulfilled wishes and plans for the relationship with the person Death often reminds most of the people of past losses or separations Remember there are a number of conditions that can make it harder for you as a person to successfully make it through the grief process For example sudden losses are harder to deal with than ones that have been anticipated With anticipated losses the knowledge that a loss will occur allows people to prepare both by feeling grief before the fact of the loss and also by planning ways to minimize the negative impact of the loss when it does occur The loss of a spouse lover child parent or best friend is usually more deeply felt than the loss of more distant relations and friends This is because such central relationships have long and deeply felt histories and an intensity of attachment that does not occur with more distant relationships Central relationships are more deeply and significantly knitted into the grieving person's sense of self and thus leave a bigger hole in the grieving person's sense of self when they are lost I discovered that when things are going badly whether in the family or work environment most of us strive mightily to improve our situations But what if the way to overcome a series of losses and failures is just to sink into them We all go through trials and tribulations Everyone has difficult situations in their life It is the way we look at them and the way we handle those situations I believe it is the struggle we must endure to gain the strength needed to break through the barriers With every victory comes the strength we need to overcome the obstacles and move forward Most people today give up easily because of what you may call emotional downturn This book in your hand has been written and carefully thought out with you in mind It has been written to bring you out of your sociological pit and emotional defeat I therefore gladly recommend this book to your reading that you may be built in His grace I believe that God will never give you more than you can handle You often wonder how some people cope with their situations in life I often hear people saying IdontthinkIcoulddealwiththat but we dont know what strength lies within us until the time comes to face the challenge The harder the struggle the sweeter the victoryNo test no rewards
