The Black Professional Middle Class Eric S. Brown, 2013-11-07 Through an in depth case study of the black professional middle class in Oakland this book provides an analysis of the experiences of black professionals in the workplace community and local politics Brown shows how overlapping dynamics of class formation and racial formation have produced historically powerful processes of what he terms racialized class formation resulting in a distinct and internally differentiated entity not merely a subset of a larger professional middle class

Black Professional Women in Recent American Fiction Carmen Rose Marshall, 2015-01-24 The last three decades of the 20th century have marked the triumph of many black professional women against great odds in the workplace Despite their success few novels celebrate their accomplishments Black middle class professional women want to see themselves realistically portrayed by protagonists who work to achieve significant productivity and visibility in their careers desire stability in their personal lives aspire to accrue wealth and live elegantly though not consumptively The author contends that most recent American realistic fiction fails to represent black professional women protagonists performing their work effectively in the workplace

Identifying the extent to which contemporary novels satisfy the readerly desires of black middle class women readers this book investigates why the readership wants the texts as well as what they prefer in the books they buy It also examines the technical and cultural factors that contribute to the lack of books with self empowered black professional female protagonists and considers The Salt Eaters by Toni Cade Bambara and Waiting to Exhale by Terry McMillan two novels that function as significant markers in the development of contemporary black women writers texts

The Myth of Black Corporate Mobility Ulwyn L. Pierre, 2021-11-18 First Published in 1999 This book addresses one such needed change in the corporate arena the continuing inequality of opportunities for success that blacks experience relative to their similarly qualified white peers in the U S Through interviews and research the author tries to find the answers that still need explanation due to the stereotypes of blacks and other minorities that were kept alive through various media

When "minorities are Strongly Encouraged to Apply" Darrell Cleveland, 2009 This series asks about the purposes of Higher Education When undergraduates declare their majors they agree to enter into a world defined by the parameters of a particular academic discourse a discipline But who decides those parameters How do they come about What are the discussions and proposed outcomes of disciplined inquiry The series welcomes proposals from interdisciplinary multidisciplinary or transdisciplinary perspectives Dudley Randall, Broadside Press, and the Black Arts Movement in Detroit, 1960-1995 Julius E.

Thompson,2005-02-15 In 1965 Dudley F Randall founded the Broadside Press a company devoted to publishing distributing and promoting the works of black poets and writers In so doing he became a major player in the civil rights movement Hundreds of black writers were given an outlet for their work and for their calls for equality and black identity Though Broadside was established on a minimal budget Randall s unique skills made the press successful He was trained as a librarian and had spent decades studying and writing poetry most importantly Randall was totally committed to the advancement of black literature The famous and relatively unknown sought out Broadside including such writers as Gwendolyn Brooks Margaret Walker Mae Jackson Lance Jeffers Etheridge Knight Sonia Sanchez Nikki Giovanni Audre Lorde and Sterling D Plumpp His story is one of battling to promote black identity and equality through literature and thus lifting the cultural lives of all Americans Acting Black Sarah Susannah Willie,Sarah Willie-LeBreton,2003 Explores what it is like to be black on campus though the experiences of black students at both predominantly white and predominantly black universities within a timeline of black education in America and a review of university policy
