Living With Dementia Lars-Christer Hydén, Eleonor Antelius, 2017-09-23 Traditionally dementia has been defined primarily in terms of loss loss of cognitive and communicative competencies loss of identity loss of personal relationships People living with dementia have been portrayed as increasingly dependent on others with their loved ones seen more as care givers than as spouses children and relatives However in the last two decades this view of the person living with dementia as an empty vessel has been increasingly challenged and the focus has shifted from one of care to one of helping people to live with dementia With contributions from an international range of expert authors Living with Dementia strongly advocates this new perspective through in depth discussion of what people with dementia and their loved ones can do and how they can actively make use of remaining resources Topics covered include How to involve people with dementia in collaborative activities in the home and the benefits this has on their cognitive and communicative abilities Ways in which identity can be presented and preserved through storytelling and the impact on identity of moving from home into residential care The benefits of a citizenship approach to dementia of recognising that a person living with dementia is an active agent with the right to self determination and the ability to exert power over their own lives This important new contribution to the dementia debate is truly enlightening reading for students across the full range of health and social care disciplines and offers a fresh perspective to existing practitioners and those who care for people with dementia

Sustaining Persons, Grieving Losses Dianne Crowther, 2017-01-19 Dementia presents a significant social issue in a hyper cognitive culture where stigma relational neglect and isolation still accompany forgetfulness This raises serious theological ecclesiological and pastoral questions calling for a Christian response To fight against a malignant social positioning of anyone as an empty shell is crucial nonetheless there is another pressing reality the reality of ongoing loss Often the focus is on one or the other side affirming personhood or acknowledging loss and grief Spiritual caregiving and Christian pastoral caregiving are uniquely placed to offer both sustaining relationship and grief support to both caregivers and persons with dementia This pastoral approach emerges from cultural scholarship rigorous on the ground research and theological reflection on God s purposes in responding to persons in and beyond the Christian community Christian communities are called to be places of agape love compassion and hospitality We individually and corporately are called to care to love honor value comfort and sustain one another and one another includes those who travel the road of forgetting and those who travel with them This fresh pastoral approach offers theologically and culturally informed practical ways of sustaining persons in the midst of their losses throughout the dementia journey

Grandparents as Carers of Children with Disabilities Phillip McCallion, Matthew Janicki, 2014-03-18 Older adults caring for developmentally disabled children have special needs Are you and your agency doing all you can to help Grandparents as Carers of Children with Disabilities Facing the Challenges provides the first comprehensive picture of grandparents caring for children with developmental disabilities and their related requirements Here you ll find information on the mental and physical health of these caregivers highlighting their unique needs and the roles that agencies and advocates need to play in order to meet them This unique volume will assist practitioners administrators and policymakers in including the needs of this group into planning and service delivery efforts Grandparents as Carers of Children with Disabilities Facing the Challenges takes an incisive look at characteristics of these carers and the children they care for children in kinship care and their special needs the effect of kinship foster care on caregiving grandmothers the approach of Latino grandparents to bringing up children with special needs the service needs and provision issues of grandparent carers In this book here is some of what you ll find data from a school based comprehensive multigenerational program in East Harlem New York City which explores environmental stressors associated with children coming into kinship care discussing the impact on grandparent caregivers with a focus on health status and access to care correlates of self reported depressive symptoms among urban Latino grandparent caregivers a survey of grandparents mostly African American mostly female caring for children with developmental disabilities in New York City that focuses on health status emotional state use of formal and informal services and general life situation helpful charts and tables that put the facts at your fingertips a demonstration project that used an intervention model to determine how a three pronged approach using outreach support groups and case management could be used to aid grandparents caring for children with developmental delay or disabilities and much more As editors McCallion and Janicki point out Primary childcare is rapidly becoming a normative experience of grandparenting Grandparent primary care is found among all ethnic groups and across all socioeconomic levels of society Concern over preserving the family often causes grandparents to assume responsibility in spite of their limited financial means or own health conditions Grandparents as Carers of Children with Disabilities will enable you to provide these courageous loving people with the help they need to do this extraordinarily difficult and often thankless job Harnessing the Power of Technology to Improve Lives P. Cudd, L. de Witte, 2017-09-05 The lives of people with disabilities are complex and various and there are many situations where technology particularly assistive technology already makes a real difference It is clear that smart phone and tablet computer based solutions continue to enhance the independence of many users but it is also important that more traditional assistive technologies and services are not forgotten or neglected This book presents the proceedings of the 14th conference of the Association for the Advancement of Assistive Technology in Europe AAATE 2017 entitled Harnessing the power of technology to improve lives held in Sheffield UK in September 2017 This 4 day event about assistive technologies AT highlights the association s interest in innovating not only technology but also services and addresses the global challenge of meeting the needs of the increasing number of people who could benefit from assistive technology The 200 papers in the book are grouped under 30 subject headings and include contributions on a wide range of topical subjects including aging well and dementia care robotics eHealth and apps innovations universal design sport and disordered speech The breadth of the AAATE conference reflects people s life needs and so the book is sure to contain something of interest to all those whose work involves the design development and use of assistive technology whatever the situation The photo on the front cover illustrates the breadth of assistive technologies that can improve lives Photographer Simon Butler
