Montagne Secrete:

Space Emma Gilby, Katja Haustein, 2005 This book which is the fruit of papers presented at the seventh Cambridge French Graduate Conference offers innovative analyses of how space can provide metaphors for human thoughts utterances and experiences The authors cross fertilise different approaches to the significance of space as a thematic and structuring principle in French and Francophone poetry prose philosophy and film They are interested in three broad areas of enquiry how spaces can be suffused with explorations of identity how the dividing work done by maps marks and makes spaces and how particular questions are thrown up by urban spaces Throughout the book examines the symbiotic relationship between internal and external between delimitation and difference The Literary Vision of Gabrielle Roy Paula Gilbert Lewis, 1984 connections between modernist writers and editorial activities Making Canada New draws links among new and old media collaborative labour emergent scholars and scholarships and digital modernisms In doing so the collection reveals that renovating modernisms does not need to depend on the fabrication of completely new modes of scholarship Rather it is the repurposing of already existing practices and combining them with others whether old or new print or digital that instigates a process of continuous renewal Critical to this process of renewal is the intermingling of print and digital research methods and the coordination of more popular modes of literary scholarship with less frequented ones such as bibliography textual studies and editing Making Canada New tracks the editorial renovation of modernism as a digital phenomenon while speaking to the continued production of print editions Literature and Painting In Quebec William J. Berg, 2013-02-04 This unique study explores how Quebec s landscapes have been represented in both literature and visual art throughout the centuries from the writing of early explorers such as Cartier and Champlain to work by prominent contemporary authors and artists from the province William J Berg traces recurrent images and themes within these creations through the most significant periods in the development of a Quebecois identity that was threatened initially by the wilderness and indigenous populations and later by the dominance of British and American influences Focusing on the interplay between nature and culture in landscape representation Literature and Painting in Quebec contends that both have reflected and fashioned the meaning of French Canadian nationhood As such Literature and Painting in Quebec presents a new perspective to approach the notion of national identity a quest that few groups have engaged in more persistently than the Quebecois
