Audience Genre Expectations in the Age of Digital Media Leo W. Jeffres,David J. Atkin,Kimberly A. Neuendorf,2022-12-05 This volume bridges the divide between film and media studies scholarship by exploring audience expectations of film and TV genre in the age of digital streaming using qualitative thematic and quantitative data driven analyses Through four ground breaking surveys of audience members and content creators the authors have empirically determined what audiences expect of various genres the extent to which these definitions match those of scholars and critics and the overall variation and complexity of audience expectations in the age of media abundance They also examine audience habits and preferences drawing from both theory and original empirical analyses with a view toward the implications for the moving image in a rapidly changing media environment The book draws from the data to develop a number of new concepts including genre repertoire genre hybridity audience interest maximization and variety seeking and a new stage of genre development genre bending It is an ideal resource for students and scholars interested in the symbiotic relationship between audiences and the moving image products they consume as well as the way the current digital media environment has impacted our understanding of film and TV genres

I Have Seen It For Myself Dr. Victor Morrell,2021-04-14 I Have Seen It for Myself is a powerful story of one man's remarkable journey of faith through a time of unprecedented challenges in his life. It tells of the turmoil and uncertainty that one can face when dealing with life's most common problems, especially when those problems seek to converge upon you all at once and without warning. It seeks to give the reader a reason to hope even when all around you is coming apart at the seams. It shows the reader when all looks impossible that God is still working behind the scenes to bring all things together for our good and to show His presence and power in our lives. To open our eyes beyond the impossible so that we might be able to say in that moment, I Have Seen It for Myself.
