Germany and the Second World War
 Ralf Blank, Jörg Echternkamp, Karola Fings, Jürgen Förster, Winfried Heinemann, Tobias Jersak, Armin Nolzen, Christoph Rass, 2008-07-03

The Second World War affected the lives and shaped the experience of millions of individuals in Germany: soldiers at the front, women, children and the elderly sheltering in cellars, slave labourers toiling in factories and concentration camps, prisoners and POWs clearing rubble in the Reich's devastated cities. Taking a history from below approach, the volume examines how the minds and behaviour of individuals were moulded by the Party as the Reich took the road to Total War. The ever-increasing numbers of German workers conscripted into the Wehrmacht were replaced with forced foreign workers and slave labourers and concentration camp prisoners. The interaction in everyday life between German civilian society and these coerced groups is explored, as is that society's relationship to the Holocaust. From early 1943 the war on the home front was increasingly dominated by attack from the air. The role of the Party administration, police and courts in providing for the vast numbers of those rendered homeless, in bolstering civilian morale with miracle weapons propaganda and in maintaining order in a society in disintegration is reviewed in detail. For society in uniform the war in the east was one of ideology and annihilation with intensified indoctrination of the troops after Stalingrad. The social profile of this army is analysed through study of a typical infantry division. The volume concludes with an account of the various forms of resistance to Hitler's regime in society and the military, culminating in the failed attempt on his life in July 1944.

Germany and the Second World War, 1990. This is the second in the comprehensive ten-volume Germany and the Second World War. The five volumes so far published in German take the story to the end of 1941 and have achieved international acclaim as a major contribution to historical study. Under the auspices of the Militärgeschichtliches Forschungsamt (Research Institute for Military History), a team of renowned historians has combined a full synthesis of existing material with the latest research to produce what will be the definitive history of the Second World War. This volume surveys the first year of the war deliberately begun by Nazi Germany. The authors examine the train of interconnected political and military events and set military operations against the background of Hitler's war policy and general aims, both immediate and long term. The authors show that the conflict took a course quite different from that which Hitler had intended but nevertheless resulted in a series of conquests for the Third Reich.

Flying into the Flames of Hell Martin W. Bowman, 2006-09-15 The book contains twenty three stirring accounts of what life flying as air crew in World War Two was really like The writers are a mixed bunch of pilots navigators and gunners who flew medium and heavy bombers or Mosquitoes It conveys the terror of being coned by German searchlights over the target attacks by Luftwaffe night fighters catastrophic damage to aircraft and the ensuing struggle to keep the machine airborne on the return trip to base It tells of the comradeship between the crew and often the humor between them which was often bred from fear The gentle and unassuming narratives convey the sense of purpose that these men felt in doing one of the most dangerous jobs in the war It is a fitting tribute to those that survived and the many thousands who died in the struggle against Hitler's dreadful ambitions in Europe Military Review, 1975 Culture in Camouflage Patrick Deer, 2009-03-26 Examines how literary writers including Ford Madox Ford Siegfried Sassoon Wilfred Owen James Hanley Evelyn Waugh Graham Greene and others countered the war culture promoted by mass media war planners and military historians The Veterans' Tale Frances Houghton, 2019-01-10 This is a unique account of the ways in which British veterans of the Second World War remembered understood and recounted their experiences of battle throughout the post war period Focusing on themes of landscape weaponry the enemy and comradeship Frances Houghton examines the imagery and language used by war memoirists to reconstruct and review both their experiences of battle and their sense of wartime self Houghton also identifies how veterans memoirs became significant sites of contest as former servicemen sought to challenge what they saw as unsatisfactory official scholarly and cultural representations of the Second World War in Britain Her findings show that these memoirs are equally important both for the new light they shed on the memory and meanings of wartime military experience among British veterans and for what they tell us about the cultural identity of military life writing in post war British society The Berlin Blitz By Those Who Were There Martin W.

Bowman, 2023-04-30 The Allied bombing of Berlin was the longest and most sustained bombing offensive against one target in the Second World War The Berlin Blitz By Those Who Were There is a compelling gripping and thought provoking story of the Allied bombing forces and the ordinary people on the ground told in their own tongue and with meticulous attention to detail The result is a coherent single story which unfolds in a straightforward and incisive narrative This work draws attention in some detail to the major raids on the Reich capital by RAF Bomber Command from the late summer of 1940 to September 1943 It begins with the reliable but largely ineffective twin engined Blenheims Hampdens Wellingtons and Whitleys through to the introduction into front line service of the four engined heavies the Stirling Manchester and Halifax which bore the brunt of the bomber offensive until the advent of the incomparable Avro Lancaster in 1942 and the superlative Mosquito On 30 January 1943 on the tenth anniversary of Hitler's usurpation of power two formations each of three Mosquitoes appeared over Berlin in daylight and interrupted large rallies being addressed by Goering and Goebbels Sir Arthur Harris Commander in Chief RAF Bomber Command hoped to wreck Berlin from end to end and produce a state of devastation in which German surrender is inevitable But the Big City as it was known to his faithful old lags was never completely destroyed

A Democracy at War William L. O'Neill, 1995 Surveys the bureaucratic mistakes including poor weapons and strategic blunders that marked America's entry into World War II showing how these errors were overcome by the citizens waging the war

Terror From the Sky Igor Primoratz, 2010-06-01 In this first interdisciplinary study of this contentious subject leading experts in politics history and philosophy examine the complex aspects of the terror bombing of German cities during World War II The contributors address the decision to embark on the bombing campaign the moral issues raised by the bombing and the main stages of the campaign and its effects on German civilians as well as on Germany's war effort The book places the bombing campaign within the context of the history of air warfare presenting the bombing as the first stage of the particular type of state terrorism that led to Hiroshima and Nagasaki and brought about the Cold War era balance of terror In doing so it makes an important contribution to current debates about terrorism It also analyzes the public debate in Germany about the historical moral and political significance of the deliberate killing of up to 600 000 German civilians by the British and American air forces This pioneering collaboration provides a platform for a wide range of views some of which are controversial on a highly topical painful and morally challenging subject
