Radiation Risks Risk Perception And Social Constructions:

Radiation Risk, Risk Perception and Social Constructions J. B. Reitan, G. N. Kelly, 1996 What is Safe? David R. Williams, 1998 Is it safe? What are the risks involved? are questions frequently asked by members of the public. This unique book explains the fundamental problems faced in modern day life. Terms such as risk and safe are clearly defined and the risks encountered between birth and death are discussed including transport, the home, healthcare, diet and the workplace. The perception of risk and the risks from radiation, natural radwaste and nuclear reactors are covered along with management of risk and the psychology of risk perception. What is Safe? The Risks of Living in a Nuclear Age is illustrated with examples from the most deeply researched areas. Written for the lay person, the volume also includes a complete reprint of the late Lord Walter Marshall's famous lecture The Radioactive Garden. It will be of interest to students, teachers, researchers, industrialists or indeed anyone wishing for an up to date view of risk and safety.

The Social and Cultural Construction of Risk B.B. Johnson, V.T. Covello, 2012-12-06 The Social and Cultural Construction of Risk: Issues, Methods and Case Studies Vincent T. Covello and Branden B. Johnson. Risks to health, safety and the environment abound in the world and people cope as best they can. But before action can be taken to control, reduce or eliminate these risks, decisions must be made about which risks are important and which risks can safely be ignored. The challenge for decision makers is that consensus on these matters is often lacking. Risks believed by some individuals and groups to be tolerable or acceptable such as the risks of nuclear power or industrial pollutants are intolerable and unacceptable to others. This book addresses this issue by exploring how particular technological risks come to be selected for societal attention and action. Each section of the volume examines from a different perspective how individuals, groups, communities and societies decide what is risky, how risky it is and what should be done. The writing of this book was inspired by another book Risk and Culture: An Essay on the Selection of Technological and Environmental Dangers published in 1982 and written by two distinguished scholars, Mary Douglas, a British social anthropologist and Aaron Wildavsky, an American political scientist. The book received wide critical attention and offered several provocative ideas on the nature of risk selection, perception and acceptance.

Constructing Risk and Safety in Technological Practice Boel Berner, Jane Summerton, 2003-08-29 Modern technological systems entail risks and uncertainties of hitherto unknown dimensions. This book discusses the construction of risk and safety within a variety of empirical contexts where technologies and their risk are debated and handled by individuals, groups or organizations. With contributions from leading scholars from Europe and the USA, it presents original theoretical discussions linked to detailed empirical case studies.
