Modernism on File C. Culleton, 2008-02-04 Modernism on File Writers Artists and the FBI 1920 1950 brings together important new scholarship focused on J Edgar Hoover's FBI and its institutional presence in shaping and directing American print film and art culture From Harlem to Hollywood Hoover and his bureau workers were bent on decontaminating America s creativity and this collection looks at the writers and artists who were tagged tracked and in some cases trapped by the FBI Contributors detail the threatening aspects of political power and critique the very historiography of modernism acknowledging that modernism was on trial during those years Vital Contact Patrick Chura, 2013-11-05 The book analyzes American literature about middle or upper class characters who voluntarily descend the class ranks to experience vital contact by living or associating temporarily with the poor The motivations of these characters and historical figures such as John Reed and Walter Wyckoff range from straightforward bohemian slumming among the exotics to more complex and psychologically wrought investigations of cross class empathy The study begins by charting downclasing processes in works of canonical nineteenth century authors including Melville Hawthorne James Howells and Jewett It then undertakes an original analysis of John Reed's involvement with the 1913 Paterson silk workers strike as a context for understanding Ernest Poole s now forgotten but then best selling fictionalization of the strike in his novel The Harbor In other richly historicized chapters it analyzes distillations of class radicalism in several works by Upton Sinclair in the early drama of Eugene O Neill and in feminist novels of the 1910s by Elia Peattie and Clara Laughlin The concluding chapter looks at sophisticated treatments of vital contact in fiction of the 1930s by Dos Passos Steinbeck and Richard Wright The book provides Americanists with important new ways of thinking about various forms of class identification as they developed in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Literature in America Peter Conn, 1989-08-25 Professor Conn summarises the distinctive achievements of the American literary heritage from early 1600 s to late 1980 s American Literature in Transition, 1920-1930 Ichiro Takayoshi, 2017-12-28 American Literature in Transition 1920 1930 examines the dynamic interactions between social and literary fields during the so called Jazz Age It situates the era's place in the incremental evolution of American literature throughout the twentieth century Essays from preeminent critics and historians analyze many overlapping aspects of American letters in the 1920s and re evaluate an astonishingly diverse group of authors Expansive in scope and daring in its mixture of eclectic methods this book extends the most exciting advances made in the last several decades in the fields of modernist studies ethnic literatures African American literature gender studies transnational studies and the history of the book It examines how the world of literature intersected with other arts such as cinema jazz and theater and explores the print culture in transition with a focus on new publishing houses trends in advertising readership and obscenity laws Censorship, Translation and English Language Fiction in People's Poland Robert Looby, 2015-03-31 This book studies the influence of censorship on the selection and translation of English language fiction in the People's Republic of Poland 1944 1989 It analyses the differences between originals and their translations taking into account the available archival evidence from the files of Poland's Censorship Office as well as the wider social and historical context The book examines institutional censorship self censorship and such issues as national quotas of foreign literature the varying severity of the regime and criticism as a means to control literature However the emphasis remains firmly on how censorship affected the practice of translation Translators shaped Polish perceptions of foreign literature from Charlie Chan books to Ulysses and from The Wizard of Oz to Moby Dick But whether translators conformed or rebelled they were joined in this enterprise by censors and pulled into post war Poland's cultural power structures Reader Werner Sollors, 2025-01-31 Born in Silesia raised in the Frankfurt area and educated in Berlin Werner Sollors has spent most of his career at Harvard University in the United States and is regarded in Cornel West's words as one of the finest scholars that we have on race and cultural hybridity in both this country and the world This Reader offers the first comprehensive overview of the work of a central figure in the field of ethnic studies. The pieces collected here range from Puritan New England to contemporary Germany from Exodus to Mary Antin's Promised Land from the Curse of Ham to Teju Cole They attest to Sollors deep historical sensibilities his attention to textual detail and his awareness of the costs and opportunities of both cosmopolitan ideals and particularist commitments whilst addressing a central question why does modernisation take the form of ethnicisation in many places around the globe The collected essays are complemented by a detailed introduction by Daniel G Williams which foregrounds some of the key emphases and tensions in Sollors writings

Growing Up Ethnic Martin Japtok, 2005-04 Growing Up Ethnic examines the presence of literary similarities between African American and Jewish American coming of age stories in the first half of the twentieth century often these similarities exceed what could be explained by sociohistorical correspondences alone Martin Japtok argues that these similarities result from the way both African American and Jewish American authors have conceptualized their ethnic situation. The issue of race and its social repercussions certainly defy any easy comparisons. However the fact that the ethnic situations are far from identical in the case of these two groups only highlights the striking thematic correspondences in how a number of African American and Jewish American coming of age stories construct ethnicity Japtok studies three pairs of novels James Weldon Johnson's Autobiography of an Ex Coloured Man and Samuel Ornitz's Haunch Paunch and Jowl Jessie Fauset's Plum Bun and Edna Ferber's Fanny Herself and Paule Marshall's Brown Girl Brownstones and Anzia Yezierska's Bread Giver and argues that the similarities can be explained with reference to mainly two factors ultimately intertwined cultural nationalism and the

Bildungsroman genre Growing Up Ethnic shows that the parallel configurations in the novels which often see ethnicity in terms of spirituality as inherent artistic ability and as communal responsibility are rooted in nationalist ideology However due to the authors generic choice the Bildungsroman the tendency to view ethnicity through the rhetorical lens of communalism and spiritual essence runs head on into the individualist assumptions of the protagonist centered Bildungsroman The negotiations between these ideological counterpoints characterize the novels and reflect and refract the intellectual ferment of their time This fresh look at ethnic American literatures in the context of cultural nationalism and the Bildungsroman will be of great interest to students and scholars of literary and race studies They Must Be Represented Paula Rabinowitz, 1994-12-17 They Must Be Represented examines documentary in print photography television and film from the 1930s through the 1980s using the lens of recent feminist film theory as well as scholarship on race class and gender emerging from the new interdisciplinary approach of American cultural studies Paula Rabinowitz discusses the ways in which these four media shaped truth claims and political agency over the decades in the 1930s about poverty labor and popular culture during the depression in the 1960s about the Vietnam War racism work and counterculture and in the 1980s about feminist and gay critiques of gender history narrative and cinema A great deal of documentary expression has been influenced by developments in cultural anthropology as committed artists brought their cameras and typewriters into the field not only to report but also to change the world Yet recently the projects of both anthropology and documentary have come under scrutiny Rabinowitz argues that the gendering of vision that occurs when narratives confirm to conventional genres profoundly affects the relation of documentarian to subject She goes on to define this gendering of vision in documentary as an ethnographic process Ultimately this polemical study challenges the construction of the spectator in psychoanalytic film theory and articulates a new model for theorizing power relations in culture and history and utopianism Laurence Davis, Ruth Kinna, 2024-06-04 This collection of original essays examines the relationship between anarchism and utopianism exploring the intersections and overlaps between these two fields of study and providing novel perspectives for the analysis of both The book opens with an historical and philosophical survey of the subject matter and goes on to examine antecedents of the anarchist literary utopia anti capitalism and the anarchist utopian literary imagination free love as an expression of anarchist politics and utopian desire and revolutionary practice Contributors explore the creative interchange of anarchism and utopianism in both theory and modern political practice debunk some widely held myths about the inherent utopianism of anarchy uncover the anarchistic influences active in the history of utopian thought and provide fresh perspectives on contemporary academic and activist debates about ecology alternatives to capitalism revolutionary theory and practice and the politics of art gender and sexuality Scholars in both anarchist and utopian studies have for many years acknowledged a relationship between these two areas but this is the first time that the historical and philosophical dimensions of the relationship have been investigated as a primary focus for research and its political

Artistic vanguards plot new aesthetic movements print controversial magazines hold provocative art shows and stage experimental theatrical and musical performances These revolutionaries have often helped create America's countercultural movements from the early romantics and bohemians to the beatniks and hippies This work looks at how experimental art and the avant garde artists lifestyles have influenced and at times transformed American culture since the mid nineteenth century The work will introduce readers to these artists and rebels making a careful distinction between the worlds of the high modern artist salons and galleries and the bohemian
