Audience Development and Cultural Policy Steven Hadley, 2021-03-17 Encouraging more and different people to attend the arts remains a vital issue for the cultural sector The question of who consumes culture and why is key to our understanding of the arts This book examines the relationship of audience development to cultural policy and offers a ground breaking perspective on how the practice of audience development is connected to ideas of democratic access to culture Providing a detailed overview of arts marketing audience development and cultural democracy the book argues that the work of audience development has been profoundly misunderstood by the field of arts management Drawing from a rich range of interviews with key individuals in the audience development field the book argues for a re conceptualisation of audience development as an ideological function of cultural policy Of importance for students academics and researchers working in arts management and cultural policy the book is also vital reading for anyone working in the arts cultural and heritage sectors with an interest in understanding how our relationship with the audience has been constructed

Post Critical Museology Andrew Dewdney, David Dibosa, Victoria Walsh, 2013-01-25 Post Critical Museology considers what the role of the public and the experience of audiences means to the everyday work of the art museum It does this from the perspectives of the art museum itself as well as from the visitors it seeks Through the analysis of material gathered from a major collaborative research project carried out at Tate Britain in London the book develops a conceptual reconfiguration of the relationship between art culture and society in which questions about the art museum's relationship to global migration and the new media ecologies are examined It suggests that whilst European museums have previously been studied as institutions of collection heritage and tradition however modern their focus it is now better to consider them as distributive networks in which value travels along transmedial and transcultural lines Post Critical Museology is intended as a contribution to progressive museological thinking and practice and calls for a new alignment of academics and professionals in what it announces as post critical museology An alignment that is committed to rethinking what an art museum in the twenty first century could be as well as what knowledge and understanding its future practitioners might draw upon in a rapidly changing social and cultural context The book aims to be essential reading in the growing field of museum studies It will also be of professional interest to all those working in the cultural sphere including museum professionals policy makers and art managers Royal Historical Society Annual Bibliography of British and Irish History: Publications of 1998 Austin Gee,1999-10-28 The Royal Historical Society s Annual Bibliography of British and Irish History provides a comprehensive and authoritative survey of books and articles on historical topics published in a single calendar year The volume covers all periods of British and Irish history from Roman Britain to the late twentieth century and also includes a section on imperial and commonwealth history It is the most complete and up to date bibliography of its type and an indispensable tool for historians Soundings ,1999

Publishing,1999-03 Alternative Press Index ,2001 The Thatcherite Offensive Alexander Gallas,2015-10-14 In The Thatcherite Offensive Alexander Gallas provides a class centred political analysis of Thatcherism Drawing upon Greek state theorist Nicos Poulantzas he challenges both mainstream and critical accounts of British politics in the 1980s and 90s He shows that Thatcherism s sucess and novelty indeed its unity as a political project lay in the fact that the Thatcher governments profoundly shifted class relations in Britain in favour of capital and restructured the institutions underpinning class domination According to Gallas it was an integral part of the Thatcherite project to directly intervene in labour relations to deprive workers of their ability to forge coalitions and to smash militant trade unionism The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,2003 Penal Cultures and Female Desistance Linnéa Österman,2017-12-12 This book makes a unique contribution to the internationalisation of criminological knowledge about gender and desistance through a qualitative cross national exploration of the female route out of crime in Sweden and England By situating the female desistance journey in diverse penal cultures the study addresses two major gaps in the literature the neglect of critical explorations of gender in desistance related processes and the lack of internationally comparative perspectives on the lived experience of desistance Grounded in a feminist methodology underpinned by a critical humanist perspective this book draws on 24 life story narrative interviews with female desisters across Sweden and England The discussion covers departure points qualitative experiences of criminal justice as well as barriers and ladders in the female route out While some cross national symmetry is detected particularly in the areas of victimisation and issues around short custodial sentences overall the findings indicate that diverse macro processes and models especially in terms of inclusive versus exclusive penal cultures effectually trickle down to the women in this study and produce different micro experiences of desistance Providing new qualitative evidence of the Nordic Exceptionalism thesis this book finds that comparatively the

Swedish model offers a macro context supported and reflected in allied meso practices which is more conducive to the formation of female desistance narratives This unique comparative study marks a step change in desistance literature and will be essential reading for those engaged in the disciplines of penology rehabilitation gender and crime and offender management
