Role of Multinational Companies in the Middle East Mamarinta P. Mababaya,2002 This study investigated whether known economic and international business theories available in the literature are meaningful enough to explain the nature existence and role of multinational companies MNCs in the Middle East particularly Saudi Arabia Two sets of questionnaires were distributed in major cities of Saudi Arabia one set for 100 multinational managers and another for 280 multinational customers 234 questionnaires were collected 45 from multinational managers and 189 from customers This represents a total response rate of 62 percent which is adequate for this study The empirical results supported with comprehensive secondary data confirmed virtually all of the research hypotheses The study found that joint ventures are the dominant form of multinational business in Saudi Arabia both in manufacturing and service industries The core roles of MNCs in the Saudi foreign ventures are evident in the cross border value adding activities of marketing trading manufacturing consulting contracting project management insurance hotel operation and banking Likewise MNCs provide licensing franchising financing services and various auxiliary roles in the Kingdom Therefore the multinationality of a firm or a group of firms operating across national boundaries is not necessarily synonymous with international production the main subject of contemporary multinational theories The respondents generally perceived the competitiveness of MNCs operating in Saudi Arabia as a function of a number of economic management marketing technological and other variables They also perceived the contributions of MNCs to the Kingdom's socio economic developments as significant and positive The study also found that understanding Islamic values and ethics is important for MNCs In this regard the researcher looked at some objective indicators of business success and related them to selected measures of MNCs local cultural awareness and responsiveness The results indicate that the business success of multinationals operating in Saudi Arabia is positively related to their local cultural awareness and responsiveness Along this line this study covers some vital elements of Islamic culture which will help MNCs understand further the cultural needs values and sensitivities of the Saudi people and Muslims in general

I. Nixon, 1986-01-01 The comprehensive range of topics includes the concept and measurement of development economic theory and development economic quality and development human resource development international trade foreign exchange flows and indebtedness agricultural transformation and development industrial development the transnational corporation the transformation of technology inflation stabilization and the IMF A classic book modernized for contemporary study Local versus Global Logic Rick Molz, Catalin Ratiu, Ali

Taleb, 2010-07-21 A key distinctive feature of Multinational Enterprises MNEs as organizations resides in the fact that they span across borders This exposes them to dissimilar and often unfamiliar social and economic conditions as they venture in foreign countries MNEs from industrialized economies that are active in developing countries and emerging markets face particularly challenging hurdles due to both economic and institutional discrepancies between their home and host countries This book focuses on the uneasy interaction between the traditional logics of developing countries and the economic logic of MNEs The traditional logics of most developing countries are built around community based legitimacy and an intuitive but concrete epistemology Conversely the economic logic of MNEs from developed economies is built around technical and economic legitimacy and an abstract intellectual epistemology Unpacking the uneasy interactions between these two logics will help achieve MNEs objectives of competitiveness in developing countries as well as globally The Montreal Local Global Research Group is a well recognized research group in formulating and researching local and global issues in strategic management from the perspective of integrating divergent dominant logics into the strategy conceptualization process and this will be the first book to be dedicated to the study of the interaction between the traditional logic of developing country and the economic logic of Multinational Enterprise MNE The cultural diversity of the contributing authors and the multidisciplinary approach offers a fresh perspective from which to explore beneficial corporate and local strategies that promote long term economic growth consistent with local traditional and cultural norms This collection will be primarily of interest to scholars of international business international development and economics Furthermore this book is immediately relevant to decision makers in Multinational corporations NGOs and political decision makers that mediate the interaction between local actors and corporate agents in developing and transitional economies The Economic and Political Consequences of Multinational Enterprise Raymond Vernon,1972 Multinationals and Foreign Investment in Economic Development E. Graham,2005-04-28 During the past twenty or so years foreign direct investment FDI flows have increased at rates approaching the astounding especially so during the 1990s While much of the increase was due to unprecedented cross border mergers and acquisitions among high income countries the amount of FDI flowing to developing nations also grew substantially This volume examines the economics of this FDI to developing countries Some chapters are theoretical in nature others empirical and still others are largely policy oriented Topics covered include whether FDI makes an autonomous contribution to growth in these nations and whether or not spillovers are generated by this investments Also covered are effects of policy intervention by governments on FDI flows and whether non economic factors e g cultural factors might figure as determinants of location of FDI Local Versus Global Logic Rick Molz,Catalin Ratiu,Ali Taleb,2013-06-25 This book focuses on the uneasy interaction between a developing country traditional logic and Multinational Enterprise MNE economic logic offering multidisciplinary perspectives from South America Africa Asia Europe and North America EBL
