Pam Hobbs Britain:

Digital Creativity Bruce Wands, 2002 This work equips readers with a solid conceptual and critical foundation for digital creativity presenting both technical explanations and creative techniques The Biopolitics of Care in Second World War Britain Kimberly Mair, 2022-01-13 During the crisis of the Second World War in Britain official Air Raid Precautions made the management of daily life a moral obligation of civil defence by introducing new prescriptions for the care of homes animals and persons displaced through evacuation This book examines how the Mass Observation movement recorded and shaped the logics of care that became central to those daily routines in homes and neighbourhoods Kimberly Mair looks at how government publicity campaigns communicated new instructions for care formally while the circulation of wartime rumours negotiated these instructions informally These rumours she argues explicitly repudiated the improper socialization of evacuees and also produced a salient but contested image of the host as a good wartime citizen who was impervious to the cultural invasion of the ostensibly animalistic dirty and destructive house guest Mair also considers the explicit contestations over the value of the lives of pets conceived as animals who do not work with animal caregivers whose use of limited provisions or personal sacrifice could then be judged in the context of wartime hardship Together formal and informal instructions for caregiving reshaped everyday habits in the war years to an idealized template of the good citizen committed to the war and nation with Mass Observation enacting a watchful form of care by surveilling civilian feeling and habit in the process Forgotten Voices of the British Empire Carol Ann Boshier, 2022-02-16 This study investigates the contribution made by outsiders in accumulating knowledge from the days of the East India Company until the early twentieth century when photography became an important tool for recording information It focuses on heterogeneous voices on the periphery who interacted with the indigenous population to produce knowledge in original or unexpected ways that extended beyond the limits prescribed by the term colonial Largely unrecognized today their endeavors to satisfy their own intellectual curiosity or improve their material circumstances produced a perspective on colonial life that stripped away conventions where their ordinary everyday experiences sometimes became extraordinary as they forged new networks throughout the subcontinent and beyond its frontiers Their journeys and experiences offer a discursive historical construct as significant as official reports censuses and surveys and contribute towards our understanding of the diverse creative processes through which intellectual histories of the colonial state were constructed Britain's Wartime Evacuees Gillian Mawson, 2016-11-30 With the declaration of war in September 1939 the Government Evacuation Scheme was implemented in which almost one and a half million civilians mostly children were evacuated from the British cities thought most likely to be the targets of aerial bombing The fear of invasion the following year resulted in another mass evacuation from the coastal towns Hundreds of thousands of school children and mothers with babies and infants were removed from their homes and families and sent to live with strangers in distant rural areas and to entirely unfamiliar environments Some children were also sent to countries of the Commonwealth such as Canada and Australia The evacuations had an enormous impact upon millions of individuals both those that were evacuated and those that had to accommodate and care for the displaced multitude Over the course of eight years research Gillian Mawson has interviewed hundreds of evacuees from England Northern Ireland Scotland and Wales Families have also allowed her access to the testimony of those who have passed away Coupled with the extensive newspaper coverage of the day and official documents Britains Wartime Evacuees provides not just a comprehensive study of the evacuations but also relates some of the most moving and emotive stories of the Second World War Canadian Book Review Annual ,1995 When the Children Came Home Julie Summers,2011-03-03 A moving and revealing insight into the real experiences of children evacuated during WWII and the families they left behind On 1 September 1939 Operation Pied Piper began to place the children of Britain s industrial cities beyond the reach of the Luftwaffe 1 5 million children pregnant women and schoolteachers were evacuated in 3 days A further 2 million children were evacuated privately the largest mass evacuation of children in British history Some children went abroad others were sent to institutions but the majority were billeted with foster families Some were away for weeks or months others for years Homecoming was not always easy and a few described it as more difficult than going away in the first place In When the Children Came Home Julie Summers tells us what happened when these children returned to their families She looks at the different waves of British evacuation during WWII and explores how they coped both in the immediate aftermath of the war and in later life For some it was a wonderful experience that enriched their whole lives for others it cast a long shadow for a few it changed things for ever Using interviews written accounts and memoirs When the Children Came Home weaves together a collection of personal stories to create a warm and compelling portrait of wartime Britain from the children s perspective The Secret Book of Flora Lea Patti Callahan Henry,2024-04-02 When a woman stumbles across a mysterious children s book long held secrets about her missing sister and their childhood spent in the English countryside during World War II are revealed Literary Trips Victoria Brooks,2000 24 more tales representing the very best in travel writing plus thoroughly researched guidebook information The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,2004 These Wonderful Rumours! May Smith,2012-11-01 May Smith is twenty four at the outbreak of World War Two at night the sirens wail and the young men of the village leave to fight But still ordinary life goes on May goes shopping plays tennis takes holidays and even falls in love while recording it faithfully in her diary May is simply a joy a bright spark in dark times The Times Canadian Books in Print ,1998 Edinburgh History of the British and Irish Press, Volume 2 David Finkelstein,2020-01-10 This is a unique collection of essays examining nineteenth century British and Irish newspaper and periodical history during a key period of change and development The British Film Catalogue Denis Gifford,2018-10-24 First published in 2001 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Women and Evacuation in the Second World War Maggie Andrews,2019-08-08 Groups of young evacuees standing on railway stations with gas masks and cardboard suitcases have become an iconic image of wartime Britain but their histories have eclipsed those of women whose domestic lives were affected This book explores the effects of this unparalleled interference in the domestic lives of women looking at the impact on everyday experience and on ideas of femininity domesticity and motherhood Maggie Andrews argues that wartime evacuation is important for understanding the experience and the contested meanings of domesticity and motherhood in the 20th century As this book shows evacuation represents a significant and unrecognised area of women s war work and precipitated the rise of competing public discourses about domestic labour and motherhood British Film Catalogue

Denis Gifford,2016-04-01 First published in 2001 The standard work on its subject this resource includes every traceable British entertainment film from the inception of the silent cinema to the present day Now this new edition includes a wholly original second volume devoted to non fiction and documentary film an area in which the British film industry has particularly excelled All entries throughout this third edition have been revised and coverage has been extended through 1994 Together these two volumes provide a unique authoritative source of information for historians archivists librarians and film scholars The East Tennessee Veterans Memorial John Romeiser,Jack H. McCall,2024-01-12 At the northern edge of the World s Fair Park in Knoxville Tennessee a striking set of thirty two granite pylons stands as a monument to the tradition of military service in East Tennessee The East Tennessee Veterans Memorial explores the creation and significance of this commemorative monument providing a window into the lives and courageous actions of the more than 6 200 men and women whose names are inscribed on the sobering markers In this book author John Romeiser with the assistance of Jack McCall showcases the stories of over 300 service members and their families documented with public records obituaries and family recollections In these pages readers will find the accounts of each of East Tennessee s 14 Medal of Honor recipients along with tales of a variety of other veterans from World War I to the present people whose lives and deaths together form a microcosm of the armed forces Richly illustrated with historical photographs this ambitious undertaking delivers not only a compelling history of individual lives but also a broader sense of military history in the region and a contribution to the scholarship on the value of monuments as a means to honor the past The Annual Review of Travel ,1992 British
