aptitude Peter Cathcart The Art of Logical Thinking William Walker Atkinson,1909 William Walker Atkinson an attorney by trade explains different kinds of logic and reasoning deductive inductive and hypothetical The author begins by describing how the mind forms ideas and concepts and then subjects these to the mental processes of higher reasoning The memory stores a repository of terms which are different from concepts in that they apply exclusively to the name of things Through reasoning the mind can arrive at a judgment of a given thing or idea and through simple distinction can reject what is false for instance the notion that a horse is a cow Moving on from these simple examples Atkinson describes how complex judgments and analyses are formed by the mind Piecing together an accurate chain of events forms a kind of inductive reasoning for example if several people enters a store empty handed and later emerge with bags of fruit and vegetables is it sensible to infer that it is a grocery store Deriving conclusions from facts and events is forming a hypothesis with the use of information assertions can be made to arrive at a sensible conclusion without personally entering said store based on known facts it is credible to hypothesize that it sells groceries Strategic Thinking in Criminal Intelligence Jerry

Please note This is a companion version not the original book Sample Book Insights 1 Reasoning is the process of making sense It is the science of correct reasoning and some would call it a discipline of the mind With study observation and practice we can acquire that mental discipline to use logic to persuade and convince others effectively 2 The law of non contradiction states that contradictory propositions cannot be true at the same time and in the same sense When two propositions can co exist they are not contradictory and do not violate the law of non contradiction 3 The fourth law is that for every unexplained fact a rational mind will seek the reason behind it A rational mind will not accept any reason that is not sufficient In the example the explanation must answer questions like Why did the stranger want to sell it so quickly Why at such a low price 4 An appreciation of logic requires an understanding of the following concepts claims inference and arguments While proponents use arguments to persuade others not all arguments are validly structured Critical thinking is required to recognize and construct valid and sound arguments A System of Logic, Ratiocinative and Inductive John Stuart Mill,1874 A System of Logic, Ratiocinative and Inductive John Stuart Mill,1904
