

Oil flows at risk as leaders warn of Middle East escalation

Fears of a war between Hamas and Israel escalating across the Middle East have stocked concerns that oil prices could rise above $100/b. In the crosshairs of a wider conflict would be three of the world's most important oil chokepoints and OPEC's most powerful producers;

Walter J. Levy

Middle East Oil Issues And Problems:

Middle East Oil Benjamin Shwadran, 1977-01-01 Shaped by the emotional climate of the ongoing Arab Israeli conflict the controversies between the oil producing and oil consuming nations are of major international concern Shwadran outlines the progressive rise in the power of the oil producing countries and the decline in the control exercised by the concessionary foreign countries that has culminated in the almost total nationalization of the foreign oil companies Because of the highly charged atmosphere surrounding the issues and their grave importance on world politics the problems are at once highly difficult to encompass and enormously important to understand Through a myriad of facts and figures the author sees the underlying patterns with precision Often narrowly viewed as having only two sides that of oil producers and consumers the situation is reflected in this book in all its facets Seen in this totality of conflicting needs desires abilities and objectives the Middle East oil crisis takes on the contradictory and explosive nature which has affected us all Middle East Oil born of the author's years of scholarship and exposure in the field describes the problems of the past but more important it gives insight into how the problem will manifest itself in the future and provides a direction for efforts toward a final resolution Contents Introduction From the Six Day War to the End of 1970 From the Teheran 1971 Agreement to the October 1973 War The Producers Develop the Oil Industry The Transporters Nationalization and Participation The Arab Oil Embargo The Efforts of the Consuming Countries Surpluses and Recycling Solutions Bibliography

Eisenhower, Macmillan and the Problem of Nasser N. Ashton,1996-11-08 The years 1955 59 were a vital transitional period for the Anglo American relationship in the Middle East British and American leaders sought to protect cold war and oil interests in the region against the background of a renaissance of Arab nationalism personified by the Egyptian leader Nasser With the aid of extensive declassified official documentation this study traces the British and American responses to the Turco Iraqi Pact of 1955 the Suez crisis the Syrian crisis of 1957 the outbreak of civil strife in Lebanon and the Iraqi Revolution of 1958 It shows how the differing priorities of the two powers in the region promoted a patchwork of confrontation and cooperation over Middle Eastern questions For Britain this study reveals that it was the Iraqi Revolution rather than Suez which led to a redefinition of strategy in the region and a concentration on the defence of her oil interests in the Gulf The Gasoline and Fuel Oil Shortage United States.
