The Waning of the Mediterranean, 1550-1870 Faruk Tabak, 2008-02-06 Conventional scholarship on the Mediterranean portrays the Inner Sea as a timeless entity with unchanging ecological and agrarian features But Faruk Tabak argues some of the traditional and olden characteristics that we attribute to it today are actually products of relatively recent developments Locating the shifting fortunes of Mediterranean city states and empires in patterns of long term economic and ecological change this study shows how the quintessential properties of the basin the trinity of cereals tree crops and small livestock were reestablished as the Mediterranean's importance in global commerce agriculture and politics waned Tabak narrates this history not from the vantage point of colossal empires but from that of the mercantile republics that played a pivotal role as empire building city states His unique juxtaposition of analyses of world economic developments that flowed from the decline of these city states and the ecological change associated with the Little Ice Age depicts large scale long term social change Integrating the story of the western and eastern Mediterranean from Genoa and the Habsburg empire to Venice and the Ottoman and Byzantine empires Tabak unveils the complex process of devolution and regeneration that brought about the eclipse of the Mediterranean

Islamic Urbanism Tsugitaka SATO, 2012-11-12 Islamic cultures in the Middle East have inherited and developed a legacy of urbanism spanning millennia to the ancient civilizations of the region In contrast to well organized states like China in history Muslim peoples formed loose states based on intricate social networks As a consequence most studies of urban history in the Middle East have focused their gaze exclusively on urban social organization often neglecting the extension of political power to rural areas Covering Morocco Egypt Syria Iran and Brunei this volume explores the relationship between political power and social networks in medieval and modern Middle Eastern history The authors examine social religious and administrative networks that governed rural and urban areas and led to state formation providing a more inclusive view of the mechanisms of power and control in the Islamic world

Everything is on the Move Stephan Conermann, 2014 In this volume we try to understand the Mamluk Empire not as a confined space but as a region where several nodes of different networks existed side by side and at the same time In our opinion these networks constitute to a great extent the core of the so called Mamluk society they form the basis of the social order Following in part concepts refined in the New Area Studies recent reflections about the phenomenon of the Empire State trajectories in today's Global History and the spatial turn in modern historiography we intend to identify a number of physical and cognitive networks with one or more nodes in Mamluk controlled territories In addition to this one of the most important analytical questions would be to define the role of these networks in Mamluk society Agents of the Hidden Imam Edmund Hayes,2022-02-17 In 874 CE the eleventh Imam died and the Imami community splintered The institutions of the Imamate were maintained by the dead Imam s agents who asserted they were in contact with a hidden twelfth Imam This was the beginning of Twelver Shi ism Edmund Hayes provides an innovative approach to exploring early Shi ism moving beyond doctrinal history to provide an analysis of the socio political processes leading to the canonisation of the Occultation of the twelfth Imam Hayes shows how these agents cemented their authority by reproducing the physical signs of the Imamate including protocols of succession letters and the alm taxes Four of these agents were ultimately canonised as envoys but traces of earlier conceptions of authority remain embedded in the earliest reports Hayes dissects the complex and contradictory Occultation narratives to show how amidst the claims of numerous actors the institutional positioning of the envoys allowed them to assert a quasi Imamic authority in the absence of an Imam Hierarchy and Egalitarianism in Islamic Thought Louise Marlow,2002-05-16 By examining a wide range of Arabic and Persian literature from the eighth to the thirteenth century Louise Marlow shows the tension that existed between the traditional egalitarian ideal of early Islam and the hierarchical impulses of the classical period The literature demonstrates that while Islam s initial orientation was markedly egalitarian the social aspect of this egalitarianism was soon undermined in the aftermath of Islam s political success and as hierarchical social ideas from older cultures in the Middle East were incorporated into the new polity Although the memory of its early promise never entirely receded social egalitarianism quickly came to be associated with political subversion This 1997 book will be of use to a wide readership of Islamic historians and of scholars assessing the impact of the modern Islamic revival Material Evidence and Narrative Sources Daniella J. Islamic civilization In this 2000 study exploring the origins and development of classical Arabic biography Michael Cooperson demonstrates how Muslim scholars used the notions of heirship and transmission to document the activities of political scholarly and religious communities The author also explains how medieval Arab scholars used biography to tell the life stories of important historical figures by examining the careers of the Abbasid Caliph al Ma mun the Shiite Imam Ali al Rida the Sunni scholar Ahmad Ibn Hanbal and the ascetic Bishr al Hafi each of whom represented a tradition of political and spiritual heirship to the Prophet Drawing on anthropology and comparative religion as well as history and literary criticism the book considers how each figure responded to the presence of the others and how these responses were preserved by posterity
