Biogeography and Ecology of New Guinea J.L. Gressitt, 2012-12-06 J L Gressitt New Guinea is a fantastic island unique and fascinating It is an area of incredible variety of geomorphology biota peoples languages history traditions and cultures Diversity is its prime characteristic whatever the subject of interest To a biogeographer it is tantalizing as well as confusing or frustrating when trying to determine the history of its biota To an ecologist and to all biologists it is a happy hunting ground of endless surprises and unanswered questions To a conservationist it is like a dream come true a flash back of a few centuries as well as a challenge for the future New Guinea is so special that it is hard to compare it with other islands or tropical areas It is something apart with its very complicated history chapters I 2 4 II 1 4 III I VI I 2 It is partly old but to a great extent very young yet extremely rich and complex It has biota of different sources to such a degree that it is still disputed in this volume as to what Realm it belongs to the Paleotropical or Notogaeian Australian or what Region Oriental Oceanic Papuan or Australian The terms Papuanian Indo Australian and Australasian also have been applied to the area

Remembrance of Pacific Pasts Robert Borofsky, 2020-02-29 How does one describe the Pacific s pasts The easy confidence historians once had in writing about the region has disappeared in the turmoil surrounding today s politics of representation Earlier narratives that focused on what happened when are now accused of encouraging myths of progress Remembrance of Pacific Pasts takes a different course It acknowledges history s multiplicity and selectivity its inability to represent the past in its entirety as it really was and instead offers points of reference for thinking with and about the region s pasts It encourages readers to participate in the historical process by constructing alternative histories that draw on the volume s chapters The book s thirty four contributions written by a range of authors spanning a variety of styles and disciplines are organized into four sections The first presents frames of reference for analyzing the problems poetics and politics involved in addressing the region s pasts today The second considers early Islander Western contact focusing on how each side sought to physically and symbolically control the other The third deals with the colonial dynamics of the region the tensions of empire that permeated imperial rule in the Pacific The fourth explores the region s postcolonial politics through a discussion of the varied ways independence and dependence overlap today Remembrance of Pacific Pasts includes many of the region s most distinguished authors such as Albert Wendt Greg Denning Epeli Hau ofa Marshall Sahlins Patricia Grace and Nicholas Thomas In addition it features chapters by well known writers from outside Pacific Studies Edward Said James Clifford Richard White and Gyan Prakash which help place the region s dynamics in comparative perspective By moving Pacific history beyond traditional empirical narratives to new ways for conversing about history by drawing on current debates surrounding the politics of representation to offer different ways for thinking about the region s pasts this work has relevance for students and scholars of history anthropology and cultural studies both within and beyond the region The

Mathematics Education in a Neocolonial Country: The Case of Papua New Guinea Patricia Paraide, Kay Owens, Charly Muke, Philip Clarkson, Christopher Owens, 2023-01-10 Most education research is undertaken in western developed countries While some research from developing countries does make it into research journals from time to time but these articles only emphasize the rarity of research in developing countries The proposed book is unique in that it will cover education in Papua New Guinea over the millennia Papua New Guinea's multicultural society with relatively recent contact with Europe and the Middle East provides a cameo of the development of education in a country with both a colonial history and a coup less transition to independence Discussion will focus on specific areas of mathematics education that have been impacted by policies research circumstances and other influences with particular emphasis on pressures on education in the last one and half centuries This volume will be one of the few records of this kind in the education research literature as an in depth record and critique of how school mathematics has been grown in Papua New Guinea from the late 1800s and should be a useful addition to graduate programs mathematics education courses history of mathematics as well as the interdisciplinary fields of cross cultural studies scholarship focusing on globalization and post decolonialism linguistics educational administration and policy technology education teacher education and gender studies

A Witch's Hand William E. Mitchell, 2024-05-29 William E Mitchell revisits his early fieldwork with a three part study of the history of colonial rule in Papua New Guinea From 1971 to 1972 William E Mitchell undertook fieldwork on suffering and healing among the Lujere of Papua New Guinea's Upper Sepik River Basin At a time when it was not yet common to make colonial agencies a subject of anthropological study Mitchell carefully located his research on Lujere practices in the framework of a history of colonization that surrounded the Lujere with a shifting array of Western institutions dramatically changing their society forever Mitchell's work has been well known among anthropologists of Oceania but the material in this book has remained unpublished until now In this major new work Mitchell revisits his early fieldwork with a three part study of the history of colonial rule in the region the social organization of Lujere life at the time and the forms of affliction witchcraft and curing that preoccupied them Furthermore Mitchell offers the first sweeping cross cultural survey of sanguma magical murder in Oceania The book presents a vivid portrait of a society that has since changed dramatically as well as an approach to anthropology that was typical of the era This is a significant contribution to the ethnography of Papua New Guinea and is sure to be an invaluable source for researchers of Melanesia medical anthropologists and scholars of kinship myth and ritual A Trial Separation Donald Denoon,2012-05-01 When it came in September 1975 Papua New Guinea s independence was marked by both anxiety and elation In the euphoric aftermath decolonisation was declared a triumph and immediate events seemed to justify that confidence By the 1990s however events had taken a turn for the worse and there were doubts about the capacity of the State to function Before independence Papua New Guinea was an Australian Territory Responsibility lay with a minister in Canberra and services were provided by Commonwealth agencies In 1973 Prime Minister Gough Whitlam declared that independence should be achieved within two years While Australians were united in their desire to decolonise many Papua New Guineans were nervous of independence This superlative history presents the full story of the trial separation of Australia and Papua New Guinea concluding that given the intertwined history geography and economies of the two neighbours the decolonisation project of independence is still a work in progress Man in New Guinea ,1968 The Statesman's Year-book Frederick Martin,Sir John Scott Keltie,Isaac Parker Anderson Renwick,Mortimer Epstein,Sigfrid Henry Steinberg,John Paxton,Brian Hunter (Librarian),Barry Turner,1983 Australian Books National Library of Australia,1973
