Driskill Horton

Parachutes Kisses:

Parachutes & Kisses Erica Jong, 1985 Fear of Fifty Erica Jong, 2006-09-07 Seducing the Demon has introduced Erica Jong to readers who hadn't been born when Fear of Flying was published in 1973. Now one of her finest works of nonfiction and a New York Times bestseller is back in print with a new afterword. In Fear of Fifty, a New York Times bestseller when first published in 1994, Erica Jong looks to the second half of her life and goes right to the jugular of the women who lived wildly and vicariously through Fear of Flying. Publishers Weekly delivering highly entertaining stories and provocative insights on sex, marriage, aging, feminism, and motherhood. What Jong calls a midlife memoir is a slice of autobiography that ranks in honesty, self-perception, and wisdom with works by Simone de Beauvoir and Mary McCarthy. The Sunday Times U.K. Although Jong's memoir of a Jewish American princess is wittier than either Parachutes and Kisses Erica Jong, 1997. In Parachutes Kisses, Isadora is back and she's trying to cope with a career, baby, and liberated love life. This novel is about a post-feminist woman's search for her ancestors and for love that satisfies the soul and maybe lasts.

Conversations with Erica Jong Erica Jong, 2002. In Conversations with Erica Jong, one of the most popular and controversial of contemporary writers has her say. She was already an established poet when she published Fear of Flying in 1973, but the novel's sensational reception came to overshadow all her work. In interviews from 1973 to 2001, Jong relates the extraordinary experience she gained as a pioneer of sexual writing from a female point of view. With equal attention to the art of fiction and poetry, she yields her views on the literary scene and on the place of poetry in American society. Among the highlights of the book is Jong's account of the publication of Fear of Flying and its remarkable best-seller rise. Cast into the role of spokesperson for feminism in the seventies, she has continued to represent her generation of women. In several conversations, she talks about the tensions within feminism over the decades. Jong's fame has been deeply branded by the notoriety associated with sex. She speaks for all women writers who have addressed sexual topics and who have suffered retaliation. She tells the story of the struggle to keep writing honestly when the public's perception of one's work has made one a target. She describes the difficulty of escaping categories created by the media and the critical community and the frustration of living in the shadow of one notorious best-seller. In Jong's writing, humor is a constant and one of the pleasures of reading these conversations is her abundant wit. Conversations with Erica Jong reveals the writer to be funny, articulate, and passionately committed to her art. Charlotte Templin is the author of Feminism and the Politics of Literary Reputation: The Example of Erica Jong. Her work has appeared in American Studies, The Missouri Review, and Centennial Review.

Feminism and the Politics of Literary Reputation Charlotte Templin, 1995. Soon after its publication in 1973, Fear of Flying brought Erica Jong immense popular success and media fame. Alternately pegged sassy and vulgar, Jong's novel embraced the politics of the women's liberation movement and challenged the definition of female sexuality. Yet today, more than twenty years and several books later, literary reputation continues for the most part to elude Jong. Typecast by her adversaries as a media seeking sensationalist Erica Jong has been unfairly side stepped by academia Charlotte Templin contends In this carefully researched study augmented by personal interviews with Jong Templin assembles and analyzes the medley of responses to Jong s books by reviewers critics writers academics and the media by liberals conservatives and feminists She examines the diverse opinions on the merit and relevance to contemporary life of Fear of Flying the invocation of a high culture low culture dichotomy to discredit How to Save Your Own Life the anatomy of literary success with Fanny Jong s reception in a postfeminist age and the trivialization of Jong s works that is inevitable with mass media exposure Templin also shows how antagonistic reviewers tend to identify Jong with her fictitious characters a practice more common when the author is a woman and judge her to be guilty of the sin of not being a proper woman In turn she shows how reviewers reveal something of their own values and ideological biases in their critiques and how literary reputations are built destroyed and altered over time The first book to make a detailed examination of the reputation of a woman writer Feminism and the Politics of Literary Reputation provides an excellent case study for the literary reception of women writers within a broad cultural context Templin s analysis offers valuable insight into the reception of women writers especially commercially successful women writers and dramatically illustrates the relation of literary reputation to popular appeal and cultural mores

The Poetry of Pablo Neruda Pablo Neruda,2015-09-01 The Poetry of Pablo Neruda offers the most comprehensive English language collection ever by the greatest poet of the twentieth century in any language Gabriel Garc a M rquez In his work a continent awakens to consciousness wrote the Swedish Academy in awarding the Nobel Prize to Pablo Neruda author of more than thirty five books of poetry and one of Latin America s most revered writers and political figures a loyal member of the Communist party a lifelong diplomat and onetime senator a man lionized during his lifetime as the people s poet Born Neftali Basoalto Neruda adopted his pen name in fear of his family s disapproval and yet by the age of twenty five he was already famous for the book Twenty Love Poems and a Song of Despair which remains his most beloved During the next fifty years a seemingly boundless metaphorical language linked his romantic fantasies and the fierce moral and political compass exemplified in books such as Canto General that made him an adamant champion of the dignity of ordinary men and women Edited and with an introduction by Ilan Stavans this is the most comprehensive single volume collection of this prolific poet s work in English Here the finest translations of nearly six hundred poems by Neruda are collected and join specially commissioned new translations that attest to Neruda s still resounding presence in American letters Neruda and Vallejo ,1993-07-01 Chilean Pablo Neruda is Latin America s greatest poet and one of the finest ever to have written in the Spanish language The Peruvian poet Cesar Vallejo part Indian and born in a mining village ranks not far below Neruda Robert Bly is one of America s foremost poets and a translator of uncommon brilliance The combination makes for a priceless volume Long Beach Press Telegram Keeping the Peace Colette Maitland,2013-05-17 If Colette Maitland were a musician you d say she had perfect pitch Isabel Huggan A soldier s wife struggles to reconnect with her daughter after her husband is killed overseas A baby abandoned at the rectory door inflames a town with gossip A dog is shot A heart attack survivor perplexes his family with a newfound sense of religious euphoria while a nursing home volunteer struggles with the bad behaviour of one of her veteran patients Compassionate clear eyed probing grief and insularity Colette Maitland's short fiction debut shows us the price of keeping the peace in a small town Colette Maitland writes like a dream with a touch that's compellingly subtle almost deceptively so since in these stories danger lurks around every corner and trouble is resolved in the most surprising and unsentimental ways By the end I felt I'd experienced a literary sleight of hand I had to double check that I was reading a debut collection and not the latest in a series of Maitland's wise and lovely books Charlotte Gill Here are the stories you didn't know about the people you do know and about strangers too those people you pass on the street without giving them a second thought Colette Maitland has the inside track on the abiding truth that it is our stories that make us human for better or worse Keeping the Peace is a superb debut collection by a writer to watch Diane Schoemperlen These residents of Tim Horton's Nation struggle with illness death and depression and hang on as best they can with true grit Raymond Carver meets Norman Levine on these pages which herald the appearance of a fine new writer of everyday realism Antanas Sileika Colette Maitland is the winner of a Kingston Literary Award the WFNB Literary Competition and the Ten Stories High Short Story Competition

The Kiss Driskill Horton, 2010-06 This book is a tribute to two precious people I called Mom and Dad by conveying their life story The book takes excerpt from Mother and Dad's diaries so they are obliquely able to convey their story Part of what of the story concerns Mother's self portrayal detailing experiences from birth until her young husband was leaving to fight in World War II It depicts Mom's tender loving attributes which those that knew her had the privilege of experiencing I honestly do not think she realized possessing such wonderful attributes which made them all the more enjoyable for those of us who crossed her path on the road of life Another portion is by Dad depicting his World War II story Then I fill in by describing what occurred as seen through my eyes which emerged from a lifetime of inspiration they produced by existing together authentically

Resurrecting the Unicorn Bud Harris, 2008-11 Many 21st century men have been raised by women without a masculine role model and what they've learned about being a man has been defined by their mothers wives and outdated or distorted concepts from the 20th century feminist movement As is the case for both men and women without a strong masculine image our souls become fragmented and we lose our way When we are in such a state of confusion and imbalance we must begin again to search for the Holy Grail The Grail is the symbolic container of the psycho spiritual contents that can nourish balance and renew our lives In Resurrecting the Unicorn Bud Harris guides us deep into the realm of metaphors where we can examine the evolution and development of human consciousness and reclaim discarded yet much needed aspects of our humanity

Seducing the Demon Erica

Jong, 2007-03-15 Erica Jong's memoir a national bestseller was probably the most wildly reviewed book of 2006 Critics called it everything from brutally funny risqu and wonderfully unrepentant and rowdy self deprecating and endearing to a car wreck Throughout her book tour Jong was unflappably funny and responded to her critics with a hilarious essay on NPR's All Things Considered which is included in this paperback edition In addition to prominent review and feature coverage Jong was a guest on Today and Real Time with Bill Maher Even Rush Limbaugh flirted with Jong on his radio program I think she wants me I think she's fantasizing about me Love her hate her Jong still knows how to seduce the country and most important keep the pages turning

Serpent's Kiss Alex Archer, 2008-01-01 Some say they are a cursed people But those who try to find them will be just as unlucky Working on a dig on the southern coast of India the last thing Annja Creed expects is to be hit by a tsunami Or to strike archaeological gold But that's exactly what happens when several objects wash ashore in the storm The relics carry unfamiliar markings that hint at a legendary city Excited by the prospect of discovering a culture believed lost to civilization Annja embarks on a perilous journey deep into the heart of danger She learns of a mysterious artifact that could provide clues to the whereabouts of the lost city which means trekking through an inhospitable jungle and forbidding terrain But nature's denizens and death traps are not the only threats someone else is also pursuing the prize Just as Annja's grail comes into view she must ward off an even greater evil Because deep in the Nilgiris mountains is a race of people that the world forgot And they don't like strangers

In the Blue Pharmacy Marianne Boruch, 2011-04-14 Celebrated poet and essayist Marianne Boruch ponders poets and poetry examining how the imagination works with mystery and surprise in a variety of writers Combining a richly associative style with original insights on poetic texts she brings in material from other worlds among them science and music to demonstrate the myriad ways we transform experience and knowledge The sixteen essays here explore poets and poetry the writing life and a host of fascinating topics that come into the wide range of Boruch's attention She looks at how the imagination works with mystery and surprise in a variety of poets from Elizabeth Bishop to Theodore Roethke from Russell Edson to Larry Levis from Walt Whitman to Eavan Boland She considers how the atomic bomb changed William Carlos Williams's deepest ambition for poetry and how Edison's listening through his famous deafness informs our sense of the poetic line Other essays explore how the car's danger and solitude helps us understand American poetry or how Dvořák and Whitman shared darker things than their curious love for trains Poetry transforms changing over time in the work of individual poets as well as changing us as we read it or write it Boruch's writing has a kind of musical incantatory style creating a mood in which many of her subjects are immersed Her approach isn't meant to fix or crystallize her ideas in any hard and fast light but rather to present the music of her thinking its movement its poetry Boruch brings in personal memory and philosophical speculation infusing much of this writing with slightly skewed skepticism and rueful uncertainty about one's ability to be absolute about anything least of all poetry She recognizes that much of the process of writing poetry is as mysterious as the power at the heart of a poem and it's that mystery that fascinates both the writer and the reader These essays start in passion and quietude and curiosity that willful not knowing a process similar to how poems themselves begin and keep going Any Woman's Blues Erica Jong, 2006-12-28 A tale of addiction and narcissism the twin obsessions of our age World famous folk singer Leila Sand emerged from the sixties and seventies with addictions to drugs and booze Leila's latest addiction is to a younger man who leaves her sexually ecstatic but emotionally bereft The orgasmic frenzies trump the betrayals so she keeps coming back for more Eventually Leila frees herself by learning the rules of love the Twelve Steps and the Key to Serenity in an odyssey that takes her from AA meetings to dens of sin parties with names worth dropping and unforgettable gondola rides Jong has given us a poignant exploration of life art and the complexities of womanhood Lyric Philosophy Jan Zwicky, 2014-02-24 In this ground breaking study on the nature of philosophy Jan Zwicky demonstrates how much of potential philosophical significance is lost if our notion of meaningful language is constrained by narrow concepts of analytic rigour Her aim is not to dismiss the role of analysis in philosophy rather she strives to augment its resources and thereby give to philosophy a voice with greater range and integrity Two parallel texts on facing pages run through the book The primary one is Zwicky's which begins with a critique of existing criteria for defining a work as philosophy and then develops the notion of lyric in its relation to two other key terms technology and domesticity She finishes with an exploration of meaning form and content in lyric contexts The parallel text consists of quotations from other authors It serves as commentary on illustration of and reaction to the main text as a way of acknowledging intellectual debts and as a way of providing an historical context for some of the main text's claims Highly original in its thought and presentation Zwicky's discussion makes an exciting contribution to contemporary philosophy forging new connections and expanding old boundaries Killer's Kiss R.L. Stine, 2012-07-31 Fear Street where your worst nightmares live Delia and Karina are always competing From getting the best grades to being the most popular to dating the cutest guys they always fight for the top spot This year they both want Vincent the hottest guy at Shadyside High Karina's determined to get Vince She'll do whatever it takes And if she can't have him she'll make sure no one else can either Including Delia Daughters of Valor Jay L. Halio, Ben Siegel, 1997 The essays in this book focus on a wide and representative variety of Jewish American women writers including Cynthia Ozick Anne Roiphe Erica Jong Pauline Kael Allegra Goodman Norma Rosen Adrienne Rich Lynn Sharon Schwartz and others In every instance the contributors have tried to deal not only with the Jewish content of their work but also with its literary quality and other major themes
